ALL LONDON WENT WILD WITH JOY

Great Crowds Jubilant Over Ending of Boer War.

STOCKS OPENED WITH A RUSH

Fourteen Thousand Exchange Members Sang National Anthem.

TERMS OF PEACE ARE MADE PUBLIC

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by New York Herald Co.)

London, June 2.—London went wild with joy today. Its streets witnessed the most enthusiastic manifestations. Early in the morning anyone abroad saw that many revelers of the night before had no intention of going to bed, but were preparing for another day of jubilation.

As the sun rose all the streets began to put on a flag-bedecked appearance. The British workman sallied forth, not to labor, but to celebrate, and in many instances took his wife and children with him. Each carried a small Union Jack. By 10 o'clock the principal streets were jammed with a laughing, shouting, singing crowd, the members of which jostled each other good-naturedly.

The first official celebration took place at the City of London school, where the lord mayor announced the news in a speech, and gave the boys a half holiday. A great crowd was early around the Mansion house, but despite much cheering, the lord mayor did not make a speech.

Stock Exchange Enthusiastic.

On the stock exchange there was a scene of tremendous enthusiasm, the members indulging in all manner of horseplay. At 11 o'clock the whole house was silent. "Charlie" Clarke, mounting a bench, conducted the singing of the national anthem. Never before had this great hymn been more impressively rendered at the stock exchange than today, when some 14,000 voices blended in one grand volume. The dealings opened with a rush. At first prices went up, but a reaction, due to profit taking, ensued. Prices in many cases closed fractionally lower.

Most interesting were the scenes witnessed along the Strand and Holborn. These two great thoroughfares were practically impassable to traffic except at a walking pace from early morning till late tonight. Everybody was happy; everybody made a noise. One very amusing feature was, that while comparatively few sang "God Save the King," everybody shouted in chorus, "Dolly Gray," at the top of their voices.

Crowds Danced in Streets.

Some enterprising dealer in paper lanterns had a brilliant idea. These lanterns, when closed, looked like a thin slice of pumpkin, but when opened formed half a sphere of guady paper in colors, with the design of the Union Jack. By the cutting of one side of the pasteboard brim, the lanterns, when opened, resembled a jockey's cap, and as such were sold and worn by tens of thousands. Even horses were made to don them.

With the approach of evening the crowds were augmented by those who had been compelled to attend to attend their day duties. Many of the large business house and public institutions turned on illuminations which had been prepared for coronation time. Another feature of tonight's rejoicings which reminded one of July 14 in Paris was the street dancing.

SIX STUDENTS TO SUE UNIVERSITY FOR THEIR DIPLOMAS

Members of Class of 1902 in West Penn Medical College Will Bring Action.

HAD AVERAGE REQUIRED

The six members of the graduating class of the medical department of the Western University of Pennsylvania, who will not be allowed to graduate this year will enter suit in the courts against the faculty and board of trustees of the institution to compel these bodies to award them diplomas. They are F. Kurtz Addy, R. Lee McCormick, Bernard Henney, Daniel Lyons, Guy Patterson and Bowman McKennan.

The grounds on which the suit will be filed are that the plaintiffs, who have not been recommended for diplomas, passed the necessary examination and made averages that, according to the rules of the university, allow them to graduate.

The Western university rules require that an average of 75 per cent be made in order that a student may graduate from the institution.

According to the statement of a member of the board of trustees last night every student who failed to be recommended for a diploma made an average of 75 per cent, but each student flunked in a certain branch of the prescribed course.

The percentages of the students in other branches made up for their deficiency in the one certain branch they failed in, and thus, they say, their averages came within the requirement of the laws governing the institution.

At the annual meeting of the board of trustees, held in the private office of City Recorder J. O. Brown yesterday afternoon, the members of the board were notified by Dr. J. C. Dunn, a member of the medical faculty, that the six young men intended to bring suit to compel their graduation.

The present trouble between the students and faculty began early last week when each member of the graduating class of the medical department of the Western university was notified he had passed his examinations successfully. Later the six members of the class were notified they had been "plucked." As yet the faculty has made no reply to the ultimatum and will not do so.

At the board meeting yesterday afternoon the committee on honorary degrees, of which Dr. William J. Hollond is chairman, recommended the following for degrees: the Rev. Thomas E. Cramblet, president of Bethany college, West Virginia, for the degree of LL. D.; the Rev. W. A. Robertson of Dayton, O., of the class of 1846, W. U. P.; Rabbi J. Leonard Levy, and the Rev. John M. McGonnigle of St. Augustine, Fla., of the class of 1871, for the degree of D. D.

Dr. John Milton Duff was elected to serve as a member of the board of trustess of the institution. Dr. W. J. Holland presented a new set of bylaws.

The report of the finance committee, which was received and filed, shows the deficity this year will reach considerably over $10,000. The report of the committee on betterment was to have been presented by W. L. Scaife, secretary, but the meeting adjourned before that was reached.

BRADSHAW BELIEVED TO BE SILAS CARTER

Negro Arrested in Baltimore Answers Description of Murderer of Policeman James Sheehy.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, MD., June 2.—A colored man, who gave the name of William Bradshaw, but who is believed to be Silas Carter, aged 32, wanted in Pittsburgh for the murder of Policeman James Sheehy, is in custody here.

After being placed in a cell this morning Bradshaw said he had been released from the penitentiary at Moundsville, W. Va., last Thursday night. He said he had gone direct to Washington, and remained in that city until yesterday morning when he took a train for this city. Bradshaw said that he had served four years in the penitentiary for assaulting and shooting a man at Welsh, W. Va., in 1898. Bradshaw at first denied having ever visited Pittsburgh, but finally admitted that he had been in that city.

A picture of Bradshaw, together with his measurements, were sent to the Pittsburgh authorities by Marshal Farnan. Until a reply is received Bradshaw will be kept in custody. The description of Carter answers to that of the prisoner in every detail.

Superintendent of Detectives Philip Demmel said last night that he had received no word from the Baltimore police with reference to the capture of a colored man resembling Carter, the slayer of Policeman Sheehy. He said he would not be surprised to know the man was Carter, as he has been of the opinion that Carter went in that direction.

BLOOD FLOWS WHEN POLICE CHARGE MOBS

Fierce Fighting Results from Attempt to Stop Beef Deliveries.

WOMEN IN FORCE AIDING STRIKERS

Clubs, Stones and Mud Used as Weapons by the Angry Crowds.

NUMBER ARE INJURED BUT NONE FATALLY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 2.—Riot and bloodshed marked the progress of the teamsters' strike today. There were numerous fights between the police and strike sympathizers. Street car traffic was stopped while the fighting went on, the police and employes of the packing companies were stoned, and at one place, when surrounded by a dense crowd of men and women, the police, 50 strong, under the command of Lieut. Collins, maddened by the numerous stones with which they had been pelted, drew their revolvers and charged full into the crowd which showed no disposition to retreat. Fists, stones and clubs were brought into play by the strikers, and the police used their batons and the butt ends of revolvers freely. When this fight was over there were a number of strikers needing surgical attention. None was dangerously injured, as far as known, however, and the wounded strikers were carried off by their friends. The fighting began on the West Side shortly after noon, and in different parts of the city continued practically all afternoon.

The most serious trouble of the day occurred in Crosby street, in the district which is known in police circles as "Little Hell." A detachment of policemen under the command of Lieut. Collins was escorting a number of wagons loaded with meat to the distributing stations down town.

Teamsters as Obstructionists.

A large crowd followed the wagons, shouting and jeering and now and then sending a stone over the heads of the officers in the direction of the men on the meat wagons. The line of wagons, escorted by the police, was frequently stopped by other teamsters who would manage to pull across the street just on the proper place to prevent the meat wagons from making any progress. The police would order the men away and in a few minutes the performance would be repeated, much to the delight of the immense crowd following.

Finally, one teamster refused to pull his team out of the way of the meat wagons and the police placed him under arrest. Then the fight commenced. In an instant a shower of stones, mud and sticks fell around and upon the officers, bruising some of them badly. Lieut. Collins ordered the march of meat wagons to be stopped and at once charged the crowd. The sight of a policeman on the aggressive is nothing new to the inhabitants of "Little Hell" and the crowd refused to budge. A large number of women came up to the aid of the strikers and were the fiercest fighters of the lot. One officer was knocked down with a brick and his companions then drew their clubs and made war with such energy that in a few minutes the street was filled with men with bleeding heads.

Leader Bathed in Blood.

The mob was led by a large man who came from the gas house near Crosby street, and who continually called to his followers to "kill the coppers first and hang the scabs afterward." Finally a big policeman got to the man from the gas house, and when it was over the leader was carried off by his friends with his head and face covered with blood. The police made no attempt to arrest him, for they had their hands full with the men and women who crowded around them and fought viciously with anything they could lay their hands on.

The crowd increased so rapidly that Lieut. Collins soon saw that his men would be overpowered unless he took vigorous action at once. He ordered his men to fall back slowly to the wagons and the crowd seeing in this action a token of victory, pressed on with shouts

THE PENNSYLVANIA'S PLANS FOR EAST LIBERTY IMPROVEMENTS

Detailed Maps Are Now in Office of Chief Engineer W. H. Brown and Call for Expenditure of $5,000,000.

The highest engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad are passing on the plans for the East Liberty improvements of the road. The plans are in the hands of Chief Engineer William H. Brown, in Philadelphia.

The improvements, according to the present plans, will entail the expenditure of over $5,000,000. They include the erection of a monster steel viaduct over Silver lake, the bridging of the Allegheny river, either at Brilliant station or Forty-third street, and miles of trackage and construction work through populous sections of the East End.

The purchase was closed yesterday for 800 feet of the frontage along Linden avenue. The property had been owned by James Jiles, the oil operator, and its purchase was in the interest of the Pennsylvania railroad. Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, said last night: "The fact is that the railroad purposes to make such an improvement to relieve the Pittsburgh terminal congestion."

Details of Plans.

As has been exclusively stated in The Gazette heretofore, practically all of the property required for the Pennsylvania railroad improvement along Linden and Frankstown avenues and Fifth avenue extension has either been purchased or optioned. The Finley property of about 7½ acres in Frankstown avenue has not been secured.

A survey provides for a line from the Fifth Avenue station, at Hamilton and Fifth avenues, to the East Liberty stock yards and across the Allegheny Valley railroad and to cross the river at about Brilliant station, or to make a detour and cross at about Forty-third street. Either way the new line will be about two miles long and both routes are outlined in the plans.

All grade crossings of streets will be avoided. Over the Silver Lake hollow a steel viaduct, fully 900 feet long and 100 feet above the lake is planned.

In the completion of these plans an important link will be provided for a new belt in the Pennsylvania railroad system of terminals in Pittsburgh. It is planned to avoid all of the existing congestion along the valuable downtown terminals of the Allegheny Valley system.

Robert Pitcairn.

Connections with the West Penn, on the north side of the Allegheny river, will also afford a connection with the Ft. Wayne and the Ohio Connecting road, then the Panhandle, and back again over the Pennsylvania. This will complete the new belt line system.

The elimination, through the East End construction, of the existing congestion along the Allegheny Valley terminals is itself regarded by the expert transportation men as well worth the expenditure of millions of dollars, the more so in point of the value of the change in years to come.

The sale of the 800 feet of Linden avenue frontage, made yesterday, was at a consideration of $44,000, or $55 a foot front. The property is all situated north of Frankstown avenue, 600 feet of it lying on the east side and 200 feet on the west side of Linden avenue. The deal was negotiated by J. H. O'Brien. The frontage on the west side of the avenue was purchased by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and it is said that the same company bought that on the east side. Mr. Jiles originally owned the land on both sides of the avenue, but has sold it off in lots, which have been improved with 20 or more brick and frame houses costing from $3,000 to $6,000 each.

It is said that the railroad company, in order to get a fair value out of the dwellings, which are mostly new, will move them to the property just bought on the east side of the avenue, and then place them on the market.

FOLLOWED HIS WIFE HALF ROUND THE EARTH

Manila Woman Eloped With a Soldier and Was Arrested in Parkersburg, W. Va.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 2.—Henry Busch, a volunteer, who was a soldier through the early years of the Philippine war and also during the Chinese rebellion, was arrested here this morning on a warrant sworn out by M. Evenberg of Manila, charging him with eloping with the wife of Evenberg. The woman was also arrested, but at the request of her husband she was not placed in jail.

Evenberg, who is a wealthy hotel proprietor of Manila, and his little son of 7 years, have followed the couple for nearly 12,000 miles, and finally found them here last night. Evenberg says that Busch spent some time at his hotel in Manila, sat at his table, ate of his food and drank of his wine. He never suspected the slightest intimacy between his wife and Busch, and about the time Busch left he gave his wife money, at her own request, to go to Germany, her old home, and furnished her with a ticket. He supposed she had gone home till he had a letter from a friend in Hongkong telling him what had occurred, and he started in pursuit.

At Hongkong he found that the woman had sold her ticket to Germany, had met Busch and had taken passage with him for the United States. With his little son he started after them.

'Squire Thomas got out of bed to issue the warrant and Busch and the woman were aroused from their slumbers to have the warrant served.

Mrs. Evenberg and Busch were given a hearing this afternoon and both pleaded guilty. The justice fined them $20 and costs each, which Evenberg paid. He entered into an agreement with his wife to pay her $200 cash and $100 a month, in consideration of which she was to accompany him to Manila and live with him. The couple left with their little son tonight for Manila.

MAJORITY OF 100 AGAINST JOHN ELKIN

Those Are Final Figures of the Leaders Before State Convention.

LAST MEETING IN WASHINGTON

Quay, Penrose and Durham Will Gather Again in Harrisburg Next Sunday.

STOUT CLAIMS MADE BY STONE MACHINE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2, 1902.

Senator Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham arrived tonight from Philadelphia and are with Senator Quay for their last conference prior to next Sunday, when they will meet at Harrisburg and line up their forces for the nomination of Judge Pennypacker and the overthrow of the Stone machine.

Tonight they compared notes, with the result that they found that the coming convention will be anti-Elkin by a majority of at least 100. Philadelphia will send a solid delegation of 85 votes to support the nomination of Pennypacker. It is also intimated that the 36 votes from Allegheny county will follow the lead of the Philadelphians, as the organization in Allegheny county intends to be on the winning side.

While the nomination of Judge Pennypacker is regarded as certain, no decision has been reached regarding the rest of the ticket. State Senator Brown of Lawrence county is regarded as pretty certain to be nominated for lieutenant governor, but who is to get the nomination for secretary of internal affairs will not be decided until the convention meets and the wishes of the delegates are ascertained.

For state chairman the sentiment is growing in favor of Wesley R. Andrews, who for more than 12 years has been the working secretary of the committee. He would have been chosen state chairman last year but for the opposition of Gov. Stone and Attorney General Elkin, who realized that they could not use him for their advancement.

Durham is to go to Harrisburg tomorrow night or Wednesday morning to open headquarters, and will be joined Wednesday night by Senator Penrose and Col. W. R. Andrews. Senator Quay does not expect to go to Harrisburg before Sunday. Representatives Connell, Jack and Cassel, the three Elkinites, will go to Harrisburg on Monday.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

Elkin's Southern Tour.

HARRISBURG, June 2.—(Special.)—Attorney General Elkin will visit Cambria and Somerset counties, in which primaries will be held on Saturday for the election of state delegates. He has arranged to speak Thursday night at Johnstown and will go Friday to Somerset and probably to Windber.

Elkin went to York this evening in company with Public Building Superintendent Eyre to meet the delegates to tomorrow's county convention. Elkin runners were sent out this morning into every district in the county to bring in the delegates to meet Elkin and Eyre. Fish Commissioner Dale and County Chairman Bair, who are directing the anti-Elkin canvass, sent word here tonight that Elkin's presence cannot change the result and that the six delegates will be against him. They probably will be for ex-Lieut. Gov. Watres as long as he is a candidate. If he should withdraw, they are expected to vote for Judge Pennypacker.

Retainers on the Stone administration claim that Elkin will have a large plurality on the first ballot in the convention and that after that the opposition will disintegrate and he will be nominated on the second or third ballot. Of the delegates to be elected Saturday they claim the eight from Westmoreland, two in Clarion, two in Bedford and one in Montour. They concede Pennypacker Washington's five delegates and the Philadelphia, and decline to give any estimate of the Allegheny county vote. They claim Butler's three delegates will come to the convention uninstructed and that Elkin has an even chance of getting them.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—(Special.)—"Attorney General Elkin could carry several other counties beside Tioga and still Judge Pennypacker would have delegates enough in the state convention to make him the nominee for governor. Judge Pennypacker will be the gubernatorial nominee beyond the possibility of a doubt."

This was the reply today of City Treasurer Moore to a question of the effect of the primaries in Tioga county upon the candidacy of Judge Pennypacker.

Insurance Commissioner Durham says: "Pennypacker will be nominated. There never was the remotest possibility of anything else since it became known that he would accept the nomination."

York Frost for Elkin.

YORK, PA., June 2.—(Special.)—York followers of John P. Elkin today appealed to the attorney general to come here and help save them from defeat in tomorrow's convention, and in response he arrived tonight. A band was employed and the attorney general was escorted to a hotel. His reception was the coolest ever accorded a public man in York. The anti-Elkin delegates were assembled half a block away and refused to go to the reception. Elkin and his delegates were given a banquet. Claims of 4 to 1 are still made by the anti-Elkin forces.

BELLEFONTE, PA., June 2.—The Centre county Republican convention was held here today. George W. Hoover of Philipsburg and John P. Harris of Bellefonte were chosen delegates to the state convention. According to compact, the former is to vote for Elkin and the latter for Pennypacker.

KNOXVILLE, PA., June 2.—The Tioga county Republican convention today completed the returns of Saturday's primaries. Elkin carried the county by 282. The three delegates receiving the highest vote are for Elkin, and the fourth, J. H. Ferris, is a Pennypacker man; but all four will obey instructions and vote for Elkin. The delegates elected are James Auld, Henry C. Cox, Joseph H. Ferris and Harry R. Purple.

THE SMALLPOX IS NOW EPIDEMIC IN PITTSBURGH

Health Authorities Consider the Situation Very Serious.

ONE DEATH FROM DISEASE

Six New Cases Are Discovered and 2,000 Persons Are Vaccinated—One Man Found Dead at His Home. Two Victims at Large.

Smallpox has become epidemic in this city. Yesterday six more cases were discovered by the health officers and one man died at his home. Most of these cases were in the Thirteenth ward. During the day over 2,000 persons were vaccinated by the resident physicians of the department of charities. Over 3,000 virus points were distributed by the bureau of health officers and the supply was exhausted. Last night an order was issued for a delivery of 5,000 points a day until the epidemic has subsided. The health authorities say the situation is serious and more victims will be found every day.

For the first time in years a smallpox patient died outside of the municipal hospital. Ben Piatt, colored, of the rear of Center avenue, near Chauncey street, was taken ill five days ago and had no medical attention. Several members of the family with whom he boarded wanted to send for a physician, but Piatt refused to allow them to do so. He died yesterday morning. Dr. B. A. Booth had the remains sent to the municipal hospital burying grounds.

Dr. Booth was summoned to make an inspection of a suspect at No. 2329 Reed street. The patient was Adolphus Shell, colored. Dr. Booth discovered the man had smallpox and started to get an ambulance and have him removed to the municipal hospital.

Dr. Booth left the house and went to No. 2 police station. While he was gone the patient escaped from the house. Late last night he was found by Health Officer John Cashmore standing at the corner of Reed street. He was sent to the Municipal hospital.

A smallpox patient escaped from the Allegheny authorities and caused uneasiness in Bellevue. At the meeting of the board of health of that place last night it was learned that the victim attended a ball game on Memorial Day between the Bellevue High school and the Belvidere club of Allegheny. A large crowd of children and men congregated to see the game and the colored man was among them during the afternoon.

The residents of that place are worried about their children. The board of health then proceeded to the school house last night, where the school board was in session, and notified them that all school children would have to be vaccinated or remain away. If the children have been vaccinated they will have to present a certificate from their family physician to that effect.

Four more smallpox patients were taken to the Municipal hospital during the day. They are John Berry, No. 55 Fifteenth street, 26 years of age; Jerry Moore, colored, No. 46 Warden street, 19 years old; Charles McGraw, colored, No. 46 Warden street, 8 years old; Mrs. William Gill, colored, No. 10 Francis street.

The motormen and conductors of the Pittsburgh Railways Company yesterday began to have themselves vaccinated. Several hundred called at the bureau of health and were inoculated.

Engineer Killed in a Wreck.

IRWIN, PA., June 2.—(Special.)—A horse on the track of the Youghiogheny branch of the Pennsylvania railroad this morning was the cause of a wreck in which Engineer William Kerr of West Newton was killed. The locomotive left the rails and pinned Engineer Kerr underneath. Brakeman Thomas Burchart's leg was broken, while Fireman Allen escaped with a few bruises.

HOW TO SELECT A PIANO.

Experience Not Necessary.

Pittsburgh, June 3.—Few people realize the importance in the selection of a piano for their home. It means a companion for a lifetime. If it becomes harsh or "tin panny" in tone you will always be dissatisfied. If you select a world-renowned make like the Genuine Chickering, or the old reliable Hardman piano, you are sure to have a standard make with a sweet, singing, poetic and mellow tone that will last a lifetime! These pianos are sold only by FREDERICK'S Reliable Music Store, 633 Smithfield street. Also ten other reliable makes, at reasonable prices. Art catalogue free. Largest selection of pianos in Pittsburgh. Entire building. Bargains in used Chickering, Hardman and Steinway pianos.

crowd on White Hall vociferiously cheered the notable politicians, particularly the colonial secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, who walked unconcernedly from the colonial office with a broad smile on his face. Long before the customary prayer, the galleries of the house were packed. Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador; Henry White, the secretary of the embassy, with Rothschild and many members of the cabinet, patiently waited through the answering of questions in the house, for the momentous announcement.

Irish Members Silent.

The period of waiting finally came to an end. Amid breathless silence, broken a few seconds later by applause such as the house of commons seldom hears, Mr. Balfour stood up and announced the terms on which the war in South Africa had been ended. The reference to the Boers' acknowledge King Edward as their sovereign, made the hit of the day.

Through all this the Irish members sat impassable though earlier in the forenoon they had startled the house by a demonstration which at first was thought to be in honor of peace, but which, it was soon discovered, was caused by the reappearance in the house of William Redmond who just returned from the United States.

Various objections to the peace terms were expressed, but they did not appear to be very serious. The Irish viewpoint was that the government had given up practically everything and that the regulations affecting the Cape rebels will be done away with in consequence of the king's amnesty proclamation.

Mr. Choate did a lot of handshaking, and took part in the general congratulations.

Terms of Peace.

Mr. Balfour announced the terms of peace as follows:

His excellency, Lord Milner, in behalf of the British government; his excellency, Mr. Steyn; Gen. Bremner, Gen. C. R. DeWet and Judge Hertzog, acting in behalf of the Orange Free State, and Gen. Schalkburger, Gen. Reitz, Gen. Louis Botha and Gen. Delarey, acting in behalf of their respective burghers, desiring to terminate the present hostilities, agree to the following terms:

The burgher forces in the field will forthwith lay down their arms and hand over all guns, rifles and ammunition of war in their possession, or under their control, and desist from further resistance and acknowledge King Edward VII. as their lawful sovereign.

The manner and details of this surrender will be arranged between Lord Kitchener and Commandant Botha, assisted by Gen. Delarey and Chief Commandant DeWet.

Second—All burghers outside the limits of the Transvaal and Orange river colony and all prisoners of war at present outside South Africa, who are burghers, will, on duly declaring their acceptance of the position of subjects of his majesty, be brought back to their homes as soon as means of transportation can be provided and means of subsistence assured.

Burghers Granted Amnesty.

Third—The burghers so returning will not be deprived of their personal liberty or property.

Fourth—No proceeding, civil or criminal, will be taken against any burgher surrendering, or so returning, for any acts in connection with the prosecution of the war. The benefits of this clause do not extend to certain acts contrary to the usages of war, which had been notified by the commander-in-chief to the Boer generals, and which shall be tried by court-martial after the close of hostilities.

Fifth—The Dutch language will be taught in the schools of the Transvaal and Orange River Colony where the parents desire it, and will be allowed in the courts of law for the better and more effectual administration of justice.

Sixth—Possession of rifles will be allowed in the Transvaal and Orange River Colony to persons requiring them for their protection, on taking out a license, according to laws.

Seventh—The military administration of the Transvaal and Orange River Colony will, at the earliest possible date, be succeeded by a civil government, and, so soon as circumstances permit representative institutions leading up to self-government will be introduced.

Eighth—The question of granting the franchise to natives will not be decided until after the introduction of self-government.

To Restore Wasted Farms.

Ninth—No special tax will be imposed on landed property in the Transvaal or Orange River Colony to defray the expenses of the war.

Tenth—As soon as the conditions permit it a commission, on which the local inhabitants will be represented, will be appointed in each district of the Transvaal and Orange River Colony, under the presidency of a magistrate or other official, for the purpose of assisting in the restoration of the people to their homes, and supplying those who, owing to war losses, are unable to provide for themselves, with food and shelter, and the necessary amount of seed, stock and implements, etc., indispensable to the resumption of their normal occupations.

His majesty's government will place at the disposal of these commissions the sum of £3,000,000 sterling and will allow all the notes issued under the law of 1900 of the South African republic, and all receipts given up to officers in the field of the late republics, or under their orders, to be presented to a judicial commission, which will be appointed by the government, and if such notes and receipts are found by this commission to have been duly issued in return for valuable considerations, they will be received by the first-named commissions as evidence of war losses suffered by the persons to which they were originally given.

Government to Make Loans.

In addition to the above-named free grant of £3,000,000 sterling, his majesty's government will be prepared to make advances, on loan, for the same purposes, free of interest for two years, and afterward payable, over a period of years, with three per cent interest. No foreigner or rebel will be entitled to benefit under this clause.

After he had concluded reading the peace agreement, Mr. Balfour proceeded.

"There are certain important points not dealt with in the document I have just read, and which was signed on Saturday night. Therefore it may be convenient if I read a dispatch from Lord Kitchener to the secretary of state for war, dated May 30, as follows:

" 'After handing the Boer delegates a copy of the draft of the agreement, I read them a statement, and gave them a copy of it, as follows:

" 'His majesty's government must place on record that the treatment of the Cape and Natal colonists who have been in rebellion, and who now surrender, will, if they return to their colonies, be determined by the colonial courts and in accordance with the laws of the colonies, and any British subjects who have joined the enemy will be liable to trial under the law of that part of the British empire to which they belong.

Government Punishment for Traitors.

" 'His majesty's government is informed by the Cape government that their views regarding the terms to be granted to British subjects in Cape Colony, since April 12, 1901, are as follows: With regard to the rank and file they should all, after surrender and giving up their arms, sign a document before the resident magistrate of the district in which they surrender, acknowledging themselves guilty of high treason, and the punishment to be accorded them, provided they are not guilty of murder or acts contrary to the usages of civilized warfare, shall be that they are not entitled, for life, to be registered as voters, or vote in any parliamentary or provincial council or municipal election.

" 'With reference to justices of the peace, field cornets and all others who hold official positions under the government of Cape Colony, or who have been occupying a position of authority, or who have held commands in the rebel or burgher forces, they shall be tried for high treason before the ordinary court of the country, or such special courts as may hereafter be constituted, their punishment to be left to the discretion of such court, with the proviso that in no case shall the penalty of death be inflicted.

" 'The Natal government is of the opinion that rebels should be dealt with according to the law of that colony.' "

Proud of the Boers.

"These arrangements," concluded Mr. Balfour, "the government have approved."

Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, the Liberal leader, in behalf of the opposition said unbounded satisfaction would be felt throughout the empire at the conclusion of peace. They were unanimous in admiration of their late enemies, now their friends and fellow citizens, whose military qualities, tenacity of purpose and self-sacrificing devotion to liberty and country had won them the respect of the whole world, and, foremost of all, the respect of their opponents. Every member would offer congratulations to the king and to the country on thrice blessed restoration of peace.

Mr. Balfour having announced that the government would take an early opportunity of moving a vote of thanks to Lord Kitchener and the forces in South Africa, the members of the house of commons returned to their ordinary avocations.

The prince of Wales and the duke of Cambridge went to the house of lords to hear the peace statement of the premier, Lord Salisbury. There was a large attendance of peers and peeresses, Lord Salisbury remarking that he hoped the terms of surrender would bring the lamentable state of things in South Africa to an end, proceeded to read the terms of the agreement.

KRUGER IS SILENT.

Former President of the South African Republic Refuses to Receive Visitors.

AMSTERDAM, June 2.—Since the news was received here that peace had been concluded in South Africa, Mr. Kruger has declined to receive visitors or express an opinion on the subject. The other Boer degelates here are disappointed at the outcome, and are not inclined to discuss the matter.

The Dutch newspapers declare that Great Britain will gain nothing "from this unjust war," and that her difficulties in South Africa are now beginning. The papers generally express admiration for the courage of the Boers, and regret that their sacrifices have proved to be in vain.

THE HAGUE, June 2.—The news of the conclusion of peace in South Africa was received here with very mixed feelings. While there is general satisfaction that the war is ended, unvarying regret is expressed at the loss of Boer independence.

The Boer delegates here are in a particularly trying position. They were entirely shut out of the negotiations and were ignorant even of the terms of surrender, except as they learned of them through the newspapers.

A Dutch official referring to the news from South Africa said:

"The delegates made a great mistake in not complying with the ardent wish of the Dutch government at the time of the overtures made by Dr. Kuyper, the premier, which was that they apply for safe conducts to South Africa."

PARIS, June 2.—The municipal council today adopted an address of sympathy with Mr. Kruger, "whose people have so valiantly fought for right against might."

Gen. Louis Botha telegraphed to his wife, who is at Brussels, yesterday that he had signed the peace agreement and would start for Europe next month.

BOER PRISONERS HAPPY.

News of Peace Causes Rejoicing Among Exiles in the Bermuda Islands.

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, June 2.—The news of peace in South Africa was communicated to the Boer prisoners in the enclosure on Hawkins island last night. They received the news with great enthusiasm, shouting and singing. Some of them rushed wildly about, embraced every English soldier they met and said: "Yesterday we were foes, but today we are friends."

Drinks were served to the Boers and the rejoicing continued until a late hour.

The Boers on Tuckers island also received the news with great joy. They united in singing the Folkslied and other hymns until 1 o'clock in the morning. At reveille, the band of the Warwick regiment moved up to the Tucker island enclosure and played "Auld Land Syne," "Old Hundred" and "God Save the King," and in all of these airs the prisoners joined heartily.

KING IS CONGRATULATED.

Edward VII. Receives Messages from Many Sovereigns, Including Pope Leo.

LONDON, June 2.—King Edward has been the recipient of a very great number of congratulatory telegrams from European sovereigns and princes. A message from Emperor William is understood to have been of a particularly gratifying character.

The king has received a message from the pope, which conveys the pontiff's sincere congratulations on the re-establishment of peace in South Africa.

From Canada and Jamaica in the west and from India and Australia in the east, came messages of congratulations and reports of local rejoicings. Gibraltar, Malta, Cairo, Bombay and Melbourne each in turn recorded the enthusiasm with which the news of peace was received.

From the continent also there came announcements of satisfaction, springing not so much from joy at Great Britain's triumph as from feelings of relief that the long tension was over and the belief that the era of peace portended a trade revival and a return to normal conditions.

OLD CHURCH IS TO ENTER NEW HANDS

Fifth Avenue Methodist Episcopal Structure May Be Bought by Jewish Merchants.

The Fifth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, which has stood in Fifth avenue opposite Magee street for over 30 years, has given way to the onslaughts of modern progress. It is to be sold, as far as can be learned, to a syndicate of Jewish merchants for a sum not less than $100,000. This much was decided last night at a congregational meeting held in the assembly room of the church. Although there was a bit of opposition on the part of the younger element against the sale, the more thoughtful members looked upon it as inevitable.

The vote to sell was finally made unanimous, and E. M. Bates and others ordered to take charge of sale in conjunction with the Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle, presiding elder of the church in this district.

The Rev. Dr. E. M. Wood, pastor of the church, stated last night that the entire conference was a unit for the sale of the property for the reasons that the membership is annually decreasing and that on account of the new class of people who have entered the neighborhood it is no longer possible to hold divine services with the proper reverence it demands.

One K. Kraveenski, a Jewish real estate agent, is said to be the probable purchaser, although E. M. Bates stated last night that no one as yet had an option on the property. The site fronts 96 feet in Fifth avenue and has a depth of almost 100 feet. There is an annual rental from stores fronting in Fifth avenue amounting to nearly $3,000 per annum. The debt on this church is a little less than $13,000.

It is proposed to build a chapel and place the balance at interest pending the erection of a more commodious edifice. There is a sentiment favoring the purchasing of a site in the Squirrel Hill district. There is no Methodist church in the Twenty-second ward and it is claimed this would be an excellent location for the new church.

Dr. Wood favors this idea. He has been pastor of the Fifth avenue church nearly two years and is much liked by his flock. The church was organized, originally, in Townsend street over 40 years ago and a few years later built the present edifice in Fifth avenue. At one time the congregation numbered nearly 500 members, but has dwindled down to less than 50 families.

The Pope Pleased.

ROME, June 2.—On the receipt of the news of the conclusion of peace in South Africa the pope expressed his joy, adding: "I hope to close my eyes on world-wide peace."

BLOOD FLOWS WHEN POLICE CHARGE MOB

and the volleys of stones came more thickly.

The police fell back until they had formed a compact mass close to the wagons, then at Collins' order, they drew their revolvers and charged the crowd once more.

This time the fight was more desperate than before, and it was over in much less time. The police struck down numbers of men and used their clubs and revolver butts with energy and in three minutes the crowd was broken and in full flight.

By the time the barns were reached the anger of the crowd had grown to fever heat. An attempt was made to cross Halsted street, but in less than a minute a blockade had been formed which it took two hours to release. The trouble at this point began when a Halsted street electric car stopped directly on the crossing. The car was filled with passengers. It was a peculiar coincident that just as the packing-house wagons approached the crossing the current was cut off. It was said that the trolley wires had been cut. A police sergeant approached the car and ordered the motorman to proceed.

"Don't you do it!" shouted the passengers. "We'll stay here all night. Don't move a step."

The motorman informed the police sergeant that the current was turned off and showed this to be a fact by turning the controller. Hundreds of factory hands were being dismissed from the neighboring shops. Scores of heavily-loaded wagons drove up and in five minutes Halsted street was packed with teams and wagons for a distance of four blocks. The drivers drove on purpose in such a way as to form a complete blockade. The crowd shouted and jeered at the police when they attempted to induce the teamsters to move on. The police attempted a display of force, only to arouse the crowd again. Stones were thrown at the police and the rioters were clubbed and dragged into the patrol wagons. Finally, after pushing and fighting for a long time, the police managed to get the wagons to the barns and the doors were closed.

Tonight another serious fight took place at Twelfth and State streets. Meat was being removed in eight wagons from the packing-house plants by two retail firms. The drivers were hooted, but kept their seats and waited for a signal to leave the packing plant. Shortly after 6 o'clock the wagons started.

The crowd held back from open violence until the wagons reached the Twelfth street viaduct. As the crowd enlarged and the threats were increased it was deemed advisable to return the wagons to the packing-houses.

The wagons were turned and reached the viaduct again. The crowd had rapidly increased and the wagons could not be driven through the dense masses. The crowd removed the nuts on the axles and cut the traces. The strikers clambered into the wagons and threw the meat into the street. The three policemen and the eight drivers, aided by the owners of the shops, fought the mob, but they were being rapidly overpowered.

Police Sergeant Mooney pushed his way through the crowd and took a place near one of the wagons where the fighting was the thickest. As he did so he was seen by Edward Allen, colored, who six months ago was sent to Bridewell by Mooney. The colored man, wielding a razor, threw himself at the sergeant. They fought in the mud until the colored man cut the sergeant twice on the head. Mooney was taken to the Samaritan hospital. His injuries are not fatal.

Officer Weber sent in a riot call. Five patrol wagons were soon on the scene. The policemen fought back the crowds. Slowly the attacking party gave way and the police arrested six men, among them Allen.

On the way to the station house another fight was started, but no one was badly injured.

Paine's Celery Compound

RESCUES A LADY FROM NERVOUS BREAKDOWN.

The surest and speediest banisher of disease and sickness known to medical men is Paine's Celery Compound.

The peculiar virtues of Paine's Celery Compound enables it to reach all the centers where disease is working; it quickly banishes all pain and trouble.

At this time Paine's Celery Compound is a veritable boon to every nervous, weak and debilitated man and woman. The ailments and diseases that have held people in bondage and suffering up to the present can be permanently banished by the use of a few bottles of nature's life giver and health builder. Mrs. Mamie Goukler, No. 668 39th street, West Philadelphia, Pa., who suffered for months from severe nervous afflictions, writes as follows:

"I beg leave to add my testimony to the wonderful good Paine's Celery Compound has done me. Some months ago I was troubled with a general breaking down of the system. I consulted a physician without avail, and upon the suggestion of Mrs. John A. Coin, who I believe is a living example of your wonderful curing medicine, I purchased two bottles of your Compound, and I must say that I improved wonderfully since the first dose. My nervousness has left me entirely and I am now feeling better than I ever did. You can rest assured that I will not hesitate to recommend your wonderful medicine to my friends who may suffer from nervousness in any form."

Rochester Cut-Glass

American cut-glass is today the standard by which the world's cut-glass products are judged. America has outdistanced all rivals. To uphold foreign effects and creations as something of great worthiness in crystal art is simply to confess biased judgment.

In no part of this country has the cutting of pure crystal been so perfected as right in our midst—the town of Rochester claiming, with pardonable pride, the fame of

Rochester Cut-Glass.

A special display will be made all this week of the products of the Rochester company on the sixth floor.

Primarily the purpose is to show the elegance of design, brilliancy of finish and the richness of the cuttings, while the specific purpose is to demonstrate, in a practical way, how inexpensive American cut-glass is compared with that imported.

TEN SERGEANTS TO BE CALLED AS WITNESSES

Entire Day Force Must Appear Before "Yellow Kid" Investigators.

WORK BEGINS THURSDAY

Will Start Taking Testimony on That Day—Chairman Harry A. Lamb Says Committee Is Determined to Sift Matter.

Systematic work for the investigation of the charges that have been made concerning the "yellow kid" has begun. The sub-committee appointed by the committee on public safety organized yesterday afternoon, and on Thursday afternoon the taking of testimony concerning the assessments will begin. Chairman Harry A. Lamb of the investigating committee says it is the intention to sift the charges to the bottom, and see what foundation there is for them. He promises that the search will be rigid and far reaching, and the responsibility for it will be placed where it belongs. Ten police sergeants will be summoned as witnesses to appear on Thursday.

All the members of the committee were present yesterday and they had an earnest consultation before the committee was called together. The members of the committee are Harry A. Lamb, J. K. Wymard, W. J. Zahniser, John Lauler and W. H. Barker. Mr. Lamb was appointed chairman, so that an organization of the committee was not necessary. In addressing the committee, Mr. Lamb said: "This investigation is an important matter and we want to get to work on it as soon as possible. The charges that have been made concerning this investigation are grave, and we ought to sift them to the bottom. We have the power to call witnesses, to administer the oath to them. We must get to the bottom and finish the work as soon as possible."

Work for Thursday.

Mr. Lamb said it had been suggested to have the various police sergeants before the committee as soon as possible. Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety was present, and said that there are 20 police sergeants and that 10 of them are on duty during the day and 10 at night. He advised that the day sergeants be called during the afternoon, as calling them at night would practically keep them on duty for 14 or 15 hours. It was then decided that the 10 day sergeants should be called for Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This was done upon the motion of J. K. Wymard of the Twenty-first ward.

Mr. Lamb said it was the intention of the committee to go through the entire police bureau and get as much information as possible. Several of the discharged employes of the police and fire bureaus, who lost their jobs during the past few days because they would not sign the book, are anxious to go before the committee and tell what they know. Several of them were standing in the corridor of city hall during the brief time that the committee was in session and were disappointed to learn that no evidence would be taken yesterday. The committee adjourned to meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Eight Were Discharged.

It has been learned that the actual number of men discharged last Saturday because of their refusal to pay the assessment amounts to eight. John W. Moreland, who was discharged from the bureau of electricity, receiving his notice while receiving flowers for Memorial Day, says he did not lose his job because of the yellow book. "I signed the book," said Moreland yesterday, "and I did so at the personal request of Morris Mead. I always paid assessments before, but this time I had made up my mind that I would not pay. Morris Mead, however, made a request to me, personally, telling me that he thought my delinquency would be charged up to him. But I only paid half the assessment, and I am certainly glad now that I did.

"I gave Director Leslie some very plain talk. I told him that he was not the real head of the department. I told him that the matters of his department did not go to him at all." Moreland was discharged because he voted the Citizens ticket and because the long-threatened weeding has finally begun.

When the Monster New Westinghouse Foundries at TRAFFORD CITY

1,600 MEN NOW AT WORK ON THE STREETS OF TRAFFORD CITY:

You will be surprised at the pace progress has set in this model city when you see one army of men after another and team after team at work carrying out the wonderful plan of paving and street improvements, including the most improved sewerage system in the world.

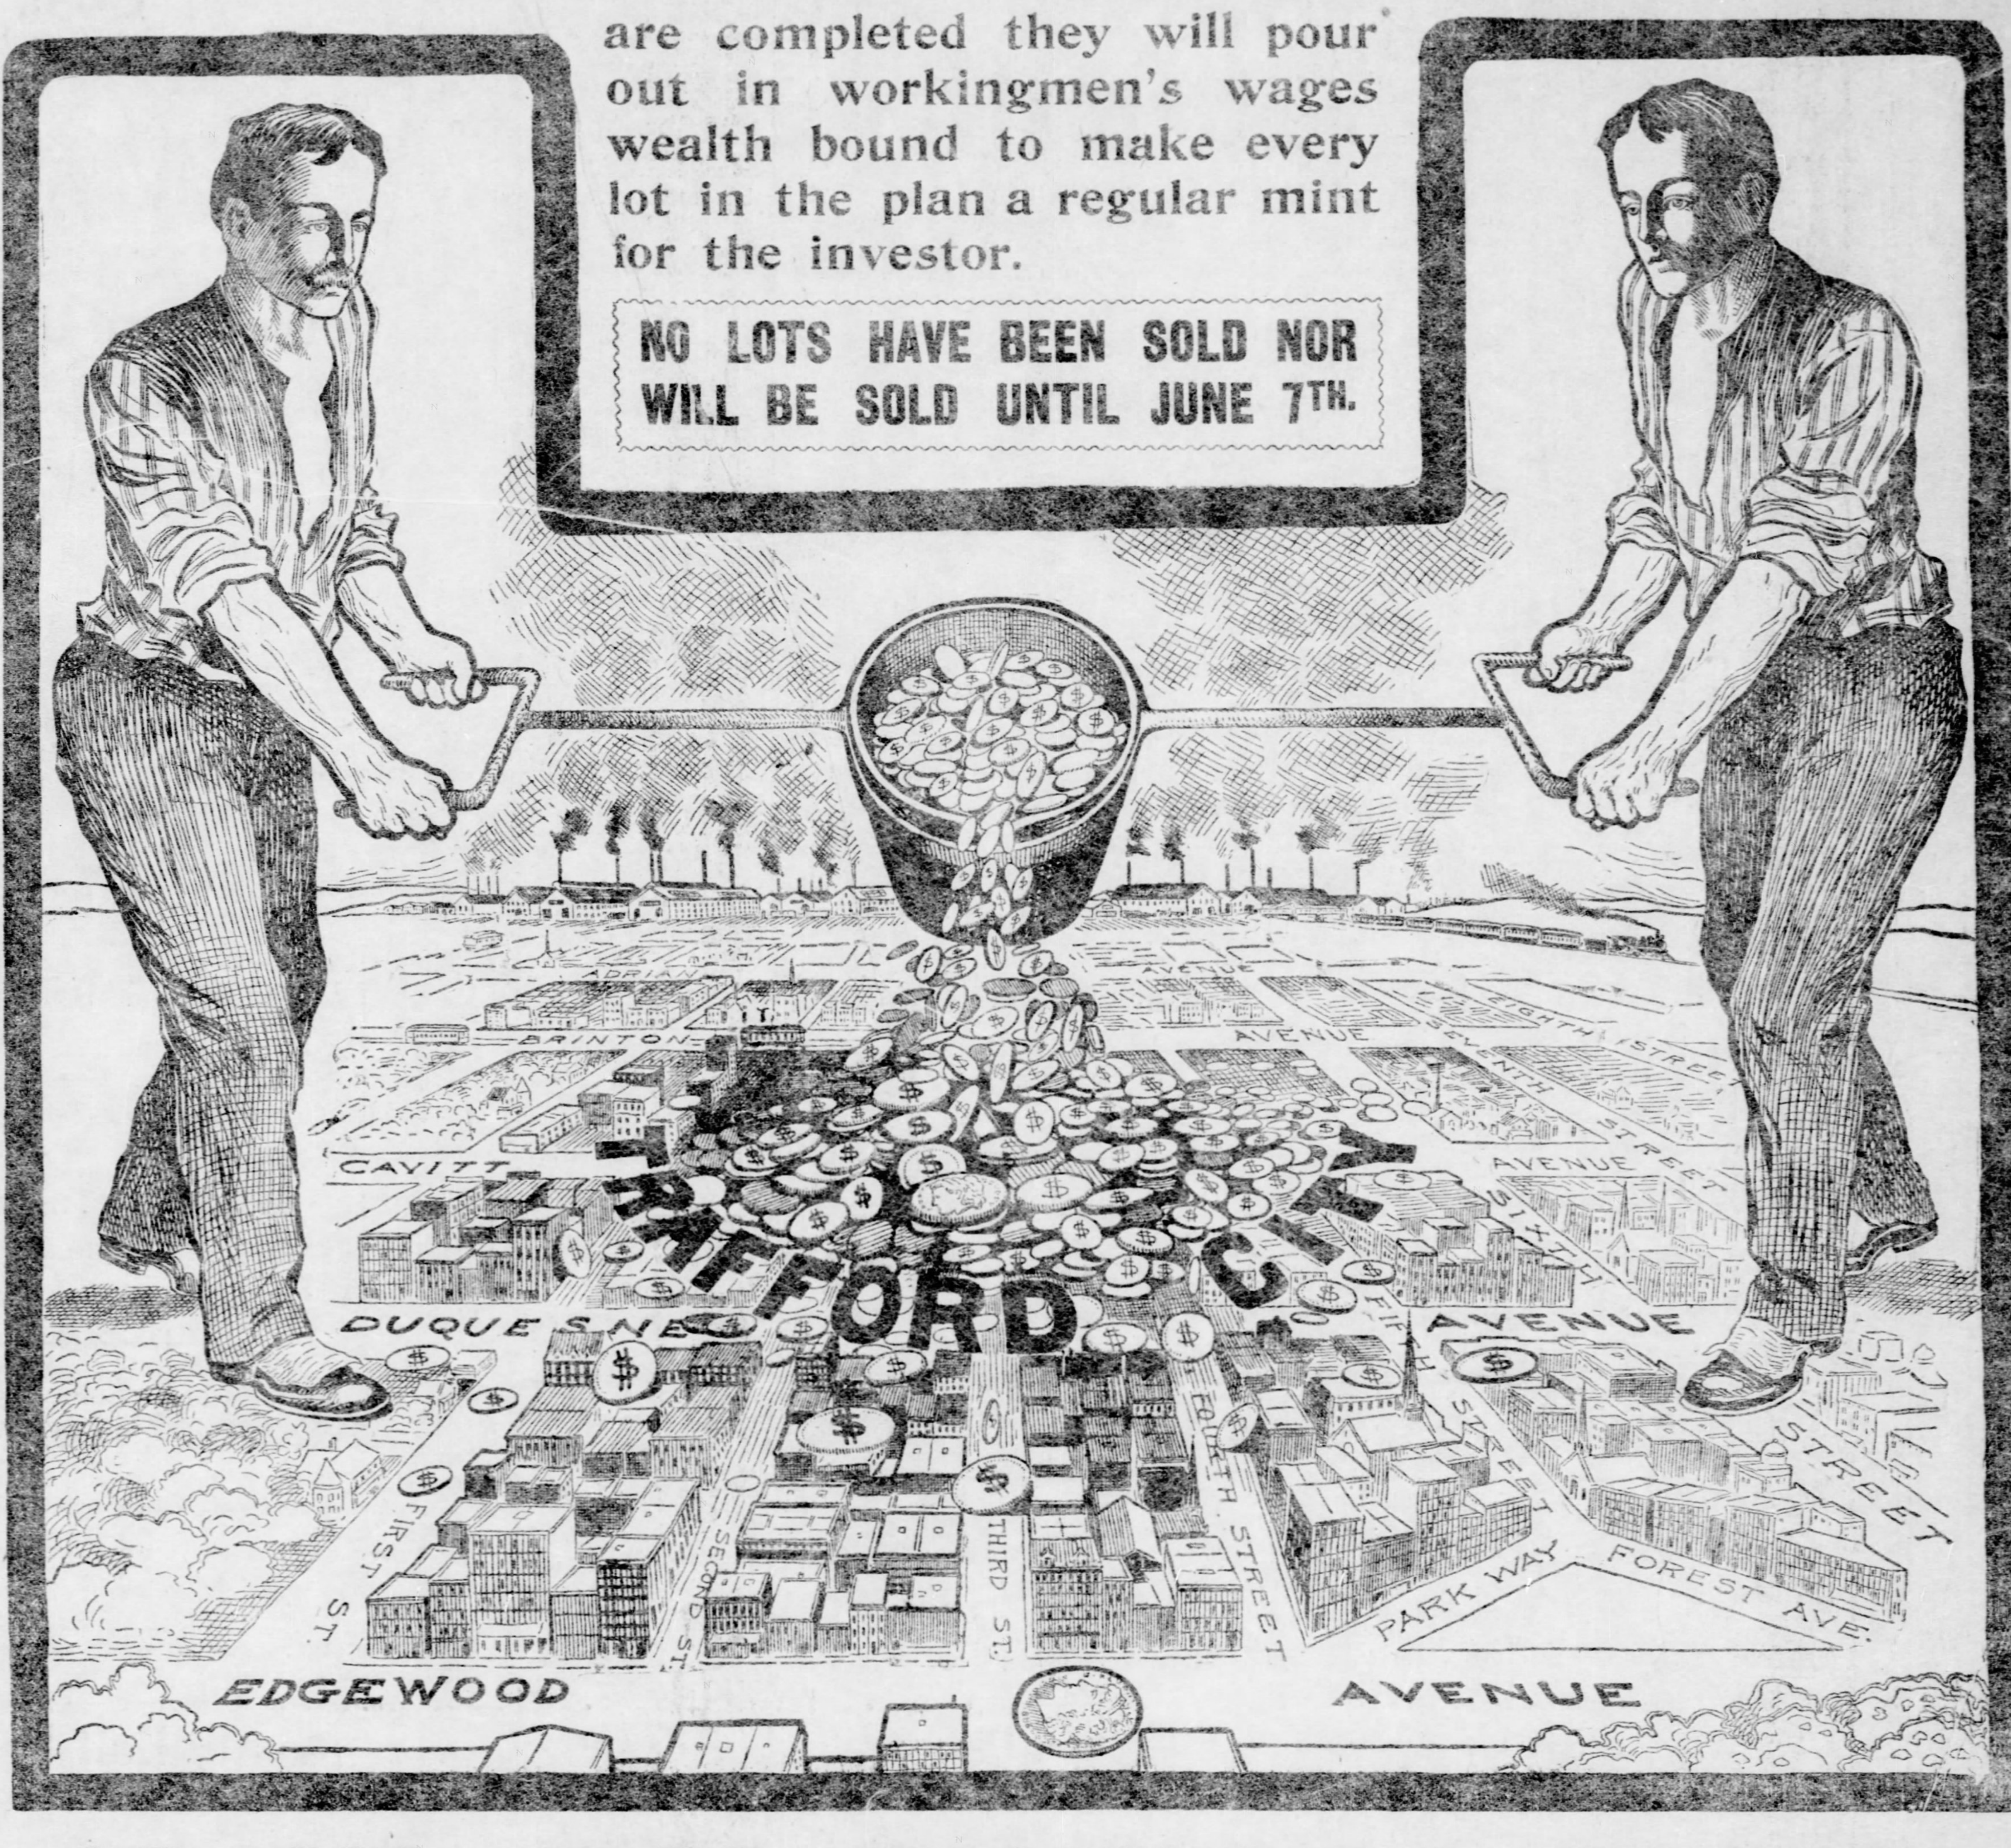
The property occupies a beautiful eminence, just high enough above the monster Westinghouse founderies to be free from smoke, soot and dirt and every lot is as level as the hand of nature could possibly make it.

A handsome steel viaduct 1,100 feet long spans the manufacturing section, Pennsylvania R. R. and Turtle Creek Valley to the plan. Extensive improvements are visible on all sides.

You have opportunity to see before buying your lot that your investment will be in a city blessed with advantages instead of in a barren suburb. You get a value which you know will turn out handsomely.

are completed they will pour out in workingmen's wages wealth bound to make every lot in the plan a regular mint for the investor.

NO LOTS HAVE BEEN SOLD NOR WILL BE SOLD UNTIL JUNE 7TH.



READ ABOUT THE TRACTION CAR AND TRAIN SERVICE:

The schedule time of P. R. R. to this grand new Westinghouse City from Pittsburgh is 25 to 35 minutes. In addition to the 46 local passenger trains going each way there will be 31 through trains.

The traction line penetrating Trafford City is the Wilmerding and Pitcairn branch of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, with direct connection by transfer to Pittsburgh. Wilmerding is only 2½ miles distant, and East Pittsburgh 3½ miles. The line runs over the property, traversing the immense new steel viaduct, up Brinton Avenue, to Second street, then up Second Street to Cavitt Avenue, along Cavitt to Fifth Avenue, along Fifth Avenue and back to viaduct.

Follow this information when looking at the map showing lots and you will get an intelligent idea as to where the business section of the new city will be.

GRAND FREE EXCURSION TRAINS

WILL LEAVE PITTSBURGH, ALTOONA AND ALL INTERMEDIATE POINTS, SATURDAY, JUNE 7TH

Tickets for this excursion are now being distributed at our Pittsburgh office. You are advised to call or write for these at the very earliest possible moment, as from present reports we shall have to arrange for additional sections to the chartered trains leaving Altoona and Pittsburgh, stopping at Johnstown and all intermediate points. Folks living off the line of the excursion will profit by sending for free tickets and catching excursion trains at nearest point at which connections can be made. Investors residing at Ebensburg, Indiana, Blairsville, Uniontown, McKeesport, Scottdale, Connellsville, Homestead or any Monongahela, Ohio or Allegheny river point, will be able to reach the excursion trains either at Pittsburgh or some other station along the route.

Trains will leave Altoona and Pittsburgh at 9:00, City Time. Branch offices have been established at Altoona, Johnstown, Derry, Latrobe, Greensburg, Jeannette and Braddock.

Remarkably choice lots for residences will go in this first great sale at:

$100, $150, $200 $250, $300, $350 $400 and up.

Lots for business houses and public edifices on the most finely graded, sewered and paved streets, having gas, water and every modern convenience, including traction cars in front of the doors, will be offered at $850. In fact, every lot in this plan has city water and new sanitary system of sewerage.

The easiest monthly payment plan ever adopted on good property will govern transactions where purchasers do not wish to pay all cash.

In other words, terms are as follows:

10 PER CENT DOWN. BALANCE 3 PER CENT MONTHLY, WITH NO TAXES OR INTEREST UNTIL DELIVERY OF DEED.

On this proposition any investor can step in with $25 or $50 and snap up opportunities which he can dispose of to later arrivals at twice and three times these amounts. Or, he can hold on by paying $7.50, $9, $12 or $15 each month and the lot will pay for itself in a short time by the natural tremendous increase in value bound to result.

15 PER CENT DISCOUNT WILL BE GIVEN CASH PURCHASERS, provided purchaser pays all cash within thirty days or pays one-third cash within thirty days and gives bond and purchase-money mortgage for balance, payable in two equal annual instalments with interest.

The above stipulations will not be deviated from in any instances except where investors desire to get in early and build houses; to these special terms will be made, so that the families of the first army of workmen whom the great foundry will call to employment may have comfortable homes to shelter them.

All lots on residence streets will be sold with restrictions requiring that houses be built back 20 feet from the sidewalks, the company's aim being to have a community possessing beautiful lawns and such surroundings as enterprise and refinement are sure to give.

A policy guaranteeing title will be given free with each lot. Said policy will be issued by the Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh. Capital and Surplus, $3,500,000.

TRAFFORD CITY'S MONSTER NEW WESTINGHOUSE FOUNDRY INTERESTS WILL GIVE EMPLOYMENT TO 4,000 SKILLED WORKMEN; ESTABLISH A POPULATION OF 20,000.

These are facts based upon what Westinghouse Industrial expansion has done before. Other great cities have been built and held fast in prosperity by added links that in no sense reached such a number as are being welded to the Westinghouse trade-binding chain of productive genius.

Look, how the Westinghouse Airbrake, Westinghouse Electric Light and Power Systems and Westinghouse Engines and Machinery are being called into greater and greater demand in every center of civilization throughout the world, and you will not stop at this last matchless opportunity to buy a piece of real estate whose future is dependent upon Westinghouse destiny.

Middle-aged men who get to retrospecting and look back 33 years to when the first Airbrake Works was started (employing only 10 men), will find an interesting object lesson as to how manufacturing industries requiring skilled labor will send prices up on adjoining and neighboring real estate. When the Airbrake Works were moved to Lacock and Robinson street, in Allegheny, real estate prices in the First ward of that city went up 20 to 33 per cent. After the plant was in operation one year the increase ran to 97½ per cent. The second year the increase reached 152 per cent. People who were only moderately well off and owned Federal street frontage rose to ratings they did not begin to hope for. In other words, Allegheny's greatest increase in downtown business property had a Westinghouse industry as its nucleus.

Yet the marvelous influence the Airbrake Works had upon Allegheny property was no more wonderful than the enhancement of real estate elsewhere caused by the growth of other Westinghouse interests, namely: The Westinghouse Machine Works (established in 1881 with 50 men), the Union Switch & Signal Works (established in 1882) and the Westinghouse Electric Works (established in 1886).

The thrilling advance in East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding real estate is the best possible evidence as to the advisability of investors getting in and securing a piece of Trafford City property when it goes on the market.

Do a little arithmetic on this proposition, after you get our price list and terms, and you will realize how a man with $25 to $50 can secure and hold an investment which will eventually earn him $5,000. Let a shrewd investor go in with $100 and he can make $20,000 in a few years. He won't have to wait (like he invariably would in the average new town) to see where the finest improvements are going to be, because this is a Westinghouse town, founded upon a clear, unmistakable Westinghouse policy.

Today nearly 69 per cent of the 15,000 workmen employed in the great Westinghouse industries at East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding are worth more money than the average business man, and at least 87 per cent of this 69 per cent will have the value of their real estate holdings increased at least 50 per cent by the monster $1,500,000 extension to be built this summer to the plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

When you consider that all the castings for all the Westinghouse Works will be made at Trafford City you will see that the Trafford City industry will have the largest volume of growth, because not one of the Westinghouse industries can grow without compelling the growth of the industry upon which it is dependent for its castings.

The great Westinghouse Foundry interests at Trafford City, in fact, is the only industry in the Westinghouse circuit that shares directly in the success of each and every one of the other Westinghouse industries. This is a point investors should not overlook. It makes Trafford City property the property with unquestionably the greatest future.

Another point bearing on the wisdom of possessing Trafford City or real estate adjacent to the Westinghouse industries is the fact that 8,798 out of a total number of nearly 11,000 renters who got in and took advantage of the first opportunity to buy property opened by Westinghouse industrial expansion are now owners of homes; in many instances are the wealthiest men in the towns or communities in which they live.

CHAMBER WANTS BLOCKHOUSE TO BE UNMOLESTED

Unanimously in Favor of Purchasing Lots to Widen Entrance.

REPORT ON SANITATION

Special Committee Makes Some Forcible Recommendations in Regard to Prevention of Disease in This City and Suggestions to Citizens.

In the presence of a committee of prominent members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon put themselves on record as being opposed to a large park at the Point, but unanimously in favor of the retention of the block house in its present position.

The report unanimously adopted was signed by Oliver McClintock, Lee S. Smith and John L. Lewis. It recommends that: "The block house be retained upon its original site; that the entrance way from Penn avenue be widened to a uniform width of 100 feet by the purchase of the two lots on either side of it, and that such acquisition be accomplished, if not practicable by the municipality, by the private subscriptions of citizens."

The committee further recommended that "a committee of three directors, consisting of John Eaton, H. K. Porter and William M. Kennedy, be appointed to act as a committee of mediation between the Daughters of the American Revolution and the warehouse syndicate, with the purpose of securing such a satisfactory solution of the questions as will least interfere with the necessities of commercial progress, and at the same time, will preserve in the best and wisest manner the future interests of the priceless block house and the sacred historical associations attached to it."

Prominent Women Present.

When the meeting was called yesterday the Daughters of the American Revolution were represented by Mrs. Edith Darlington Ammon, Miss Kate McKnight, Mrs. J. B. Oliver, Mrs. Cyrus Clarke, Jr., Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., Miss Buelah Kennard and Miss Julia M. Harding. Mrs. Ammon was the first speaker. She gave a historical sketch of the blockhouse and also of the aims of the society which she represented.

Miss McKnight, who followed Mrs. Ammon, objected to the removal of the block house from its present site, and said that there were many better locations for the proposed warehouses than the Point district, where, she claimed, they would be a hindrance to the consummation of the "Greater Pittsburgh." She said that the question of buying the ground necessary for a point park has not been a great obstacle, as the ground needed might be purchased for about $300,000. She spoke strongly in favor of improvements along the river front, which, she said, should be laid out into parks. She also favored the construction of a recreation pier in the river for the children in the downtown district. Miss Buelah Kennard and Miss Julia M. Harding followed, heartily indorsing the establishment of a playground at the Point, and instancing reasons for a park there.

In reply the committee stated that there had been a division on the subject and they retired to complete their report. On the return of the committee the directors adopted the report of the minority.

The directors also received the report of Joseph W. Marsh, chairman of the committee on sanitation. The report is a voluminous one, containing many statistics and going thoroughly into the history of contagious diseases in Pittsburgh. On the question of the prevention of disease the committee says this involves the water supply, the food supply, the disposal of waste and sewage, the condition of tenement districts, the management of infectious and contagious diseases, isolation, disinfection and house-to-house sanitary inspection.

The water supply is dismissed as a bad muddle, but one beyond the power of the bureau of health. The inspection of food and disposal of kitchen waste and sewage are declared to be carefully and scientifically done. On the other points the bureau of health is credited with doing as well as it can.

Only $80,000 Available.

Instead of the bond issue providing $120,000 for a new hospital, the committee found $80,000 to be the correct amount, but this is not available until councils pass an ordinance appropriating it. This councils have never done, the local feeling being sufficient to defeat any ordinance specifying a site.

The committee says that a large portion of the public needs to be educated as to the value of an isolation hospital and its mission. An appeal is made to drop the term "pest house," as it horrifies many people. "Municipal hospital" is also said to be objectionable and the use of the words "Isolation Hospital" is suggested.

A number of suggestions are as follows:

That all persons make it their business to report to the bureau of health cases suspected to be infectious where no care is displayed, and also any infraction of the sanitary law while premises are placarded.

That visitors be prohibited, under heavy penalty on both the visitors and the persons admitting them.

That in diphtheria and scarlet fever cases strict isolation of patients and attendant be imposed until danger of infection is passed; that where separate rooms cannot be provided the patient be moved to a hospital, permission being given to send one person (preferably the mother) to attend or nurse the child.

Disinfection Always Necessary.

That the necessity of disinfection be kept always prominent.

That a rigid daily inspection of pupils in public and private schools be made.

That an adequate supply of pure water, either by mechanical or sand filtration, be provided at once.

That steps be taken to procure the four acres of vacant ground adjoining the municipal hospital.

The report concludes with a series of resolutions providing that the bureau of health be requested to secure an immediate resumption of disinfection; that the department of public safety be requested to push the erection of the new hospital building under the supervision of a competent staff, so as to ensure both modern structure and appliances and adaptability for future expansion; that the existing and new hospitals be called "Isolation Hospital;" that the governor and state board of health be requested to take measures to control infectious diseases in the country districts near Pittsburgh.

The report was approved by the board of directors.

THE SLASHER IS STILL AT LIBERTY

FURTHER REPORTS OF HIS WORK ARE COMING IN.

It Is Estimated That This Unknown Criminal Has Already Wantonly Destroyed Nearly $5,000 Worth of Property in This City.

Detectives were out last night hunting "Jack the Slasher" in various points about the city. They are determined to capture this vandal if he continues at work.

Detective John Roach says that he is certain the man has had some criminal experience. In several of the places he has entered he has used what is known among thieves as an "outsider." This is a small device for opening doors where the key is in the lock on the other side. It resembles a small pair of pincers. The burglar slips this in the door and grips the end of the key, turning the lock.

"The Slasher" on Sunday night entered the house of Mrs. Thomas Hester at No. 12 Cliff street and slashed every piece of furniture in the parlor. He stole some clothing, jewelry and $5 in cash. Everything of value that could be seized was destroyed. The thief entered through the front window.

The "slasher" went up stairs to a bed room, carried the men's clothing down stairs and cut it to pieces. The parlor floor was covered with feathers. This criminal has destroyed almost $5,000 worth of property in this city.

When Mrs. Cora Elliott of Dickson street, Homestead, returned to her home yesterday afternoon, she was amazed to find her upholstered furniture, carpets and lace curtains cut into shreds. The house looked as though a cyclone had torn through it, everything being in disorder and confusion. Mrs. Elliott thought she knew who laid her finery in ruins, went before Justice George W. Giles and made information against Wilbert Scott, who boarded at her house. The damage is estimated at $100. The hearing in the case will be held today.

At a meeting of the O'Hara Sub-District school board, held Monday, June 2, 1902, the following minutes on the death of Mr. William Pollock were unanimously adopted:

Daintiness in Undermuslins---The Cost Trivial.

In the White Sale which begins today the word trivial is used in its broadest sense, for to undertake to make undergarments of this class, or have them made to order, would entail a cost greatly in excess of what we ask.

The first lot—the one in which prices are a third less—is made up of high-class garments, and the uncommon prices point to our signal success in dealing with the best makers of undergarments in the country.

Without going into minute details let us say that, collectively, there is

A great lot of Undermuslins purchased from best American makers, in such a way that we can sell each garment for

One-Third Under Usual Prices.

The underclothes are made of the softest and daintiest materials woven. They are all high-class. Nothing made could be better made to sell for the under prices we name.

As there are thousands of models, to be specific would be tedious. To appreciate the collection it must be seen in its entirety, and today will be the best time.

Another purchase, ready today, consists in part of the following:

MISS TRUAX SEEN FOR FIRST TIME AS LADY GODIVA

The New Clarke Play Given a Fine Scenic Production at the Grand.

AUDIENCE WELL PLEASED

Play Is a Majestic and Imposing Piece of Stage Literature and Was Well Acted—"Martha" at Duquesne Garden.

Sarah Truax, as "Lady Godiva."

A new play by a reputable author, introducing a new star who is already immensely popular in local theatrical circles, was the late-season magnet that drew a large audience to the Grand opera house last night, where the first performance of J. I. C. Clarke's new play, "Lady Godiva," was given with Miss Sarah Truax in the title role. Like all first-night performances there is so much to deal with apart from the actual merit of the play that criticism is difficult, and in this instance, with its personal equations to be considered, well-nigh impossible. Mr. Clarke's play is a singularly majestic and imposing piece of stage literature. The theme and its treatment by the author blend admirably. That theme is a bare legend, with such addenda regarding a Saxon woman that the author has been able to gather or to conceive out of an imagination already well trained in its use of old Anglo-Saxon literature. There is a remote reminder of Mr. Clarke's "Bonnie Prince Charlie" in this new play, though the style is much more ornate and the scenes shifted still further back in history. The period of the play is 1016 A. D., when England, after the wasting wars of the last Danish invasion, stood divided as to kingship between Canute, the Dane, who ruled the north, and Edmund Ironsides, the Saxon, who ruled the south of the kingdom. The cruel exactions of Edric, the Saxon traitor lord, Canute's vice regent in Mercia, have led to a new revolt against the Danes. This revolt is headed by the young Earl Leofric.

The first act takes place at the manor of Bertulf, Thegn of Leicester, Lady Godiva's father, whither Leofric has come asking aid for the Saxon uprising. Thither also comes Edric, asking the maiden's hand, but his character for treachery, cruelty and greed leads to his suit being refused. The Saxon conspiracy is, however, betrayed to him and he orders the pursuit and capture of Leofric, his rival as well as his political enemy. Godiva, in the passion of her youth and her patriotism, sets forth to frustrate this, while her father is taken prisoner and his manor is sacked by the Danes of Edric's guard.

The second act is on the summit of Bardon hill, on the Warwick border, where Leofric has gone to light the signal fire. He is warned in time by Godiva, who, after a tender and passionate love scene, induces him to depart on his mission, while she returns to light the beacon, and so falls into the hands of Edric's followers.

In the third act, in the chapter room of the convent of St. Michael's at Coventry, Edric renews his attempt to win his prisoner and to force her to betray her lover and his cause, and in this scene occurs the most dramatic episode of the play, Godiva's devotion and firmness lashing Edric to madness, until, having condemned her to die with her father, he orders her to be stripped and pinioned on a horse and taken through Coventry to the scaffold. In the second scene of this act occurs the ride of the lady across the market square when the people are celebrating the feast of St. Michael.

In the last act by the interference of Canute Godiva's love for Leofric is crowned with happiness.

It will be seen at once that Mr. Clarke has undertaken a task of herculean proportions in this day of modern life and realism on the stage to so vitalize an old and remote life as to give it appealing force. He has not wholly succeeded nor can it be said that he has failed. "Lady Godiva" is a play of great beauty of style. Mr. Clarke has given his thought the most excellent language. At times this is too apparent and the ornate style outshines the thought which it endeavors to express. Blank verse is used in the principal dialogue and while it flows smoothly enough, the author has little tricks of poetic ornamentation that seem strained in effect. He speaks of "trumpet sounds across a crimson sea of blood" and again and again he makes his heroes and heroines speak of "sun kissed hills." These passages are samples of Mr. Clarke's method of poetic ornamentation and they grow somewhat cloying and turgid before the evening is over.

But the style of writing is in the main most delightful and enjoyable. It is one of the prime beauties of the composition and to the ear trained to literary excellences lightens somewhat the heaviness of the theme. In dramatic treatment Mr. Clarke has had to deal with a serious task, and he accomplished better possibly than one would expect in contemplating the theme of his play. The first act moves slowly, as indeed may be urged against the play as a whole. The second act reaches a climax unexpectedly, but it is an effective one in which the Lady Godiva fires the torch that sends her lover to battle. The third act, first scene, climax is spoiled by stretching it out too long until it becomes an anticlimax twice over. In the long and distressing interview in the convent between Edric and Godiva and sentence of death against her father, followed by the appearance of Leofric, there is too much demanded of the audience in the way of strained attention and too little given them by way of reward. In the second scene of the third act comes the incident related in Tennyson's poem of the Lady Godiva, with the actual representation left out. The scene is an impressive one, but to those familiar with the legend it is hardly dramatic in its force. There is coherency in the story and the interest is kept up in spite of the lack of vitality that must inhere in a theme so remote.

Of the performance there is room for very much praise. Miss Truax gave life and reality to the character. Her work was sure and strong in its emotional qualities and signified a thoroughly intelligent study of the role. There were evidences of nervousness, but on the whole we believe Miss Truax gave as clear and comprehensive a representation of the sufferings, joys and graces of Mr. Clarke's Saxon maiden as could be wished for. She is clever, studious and possessed of ceaseless industry, the best possible substitute for actual genius. Whether she will succeed in her present venture does not lie so much with her as with the character of the play and its power to interest and attract the modern theatergoer. Mr. Franklyn Ritchie did excellent work as Leofric. He has a fine stage presence and read his lines finely. The comedy of the play fell to the lot of Miss Marion Ballou as Jillen, the goose girl, and Mr. Charles Abbe as Gurth, the swineherd, and they did their work capitally. Mr. Ingersoll as Canute, Mr. Waldron as Edric, Mr. Yerance as Bertulf, Miss Gardner as Wynfreda, Miss Gale as Edeiglitha the Abbess and Mr. Meighan as Cutawolf, all gave the star excellent support.

The last word is possibly the best. Manager Davis and Mr. Huffman have given the production a scenic equipment that would rival the best Broadway premier. It is a marvel of artistic scenery and fine grouping. The supernumeries, though only subject to one thorough rehearsal, were handled with great skill. Scenic Artist Steel has combined some gorgeous effects with his brush, the moonlight and river scene being especially beautiful. In ensemble and stage effects "Lady Godiva" ranks with the best modern productions. The audience was sympathetic and appreciative and at the end of the third act, after the fair Godiva had ridden through the market place of Coventry clad in diaphonous white, clamorously insisted upon a speech, which Miss Truax gave, followed by a few appreciative words by the author, Mr. Clarke, and a bow from the startled Mr. Huffman, who was dragged to the footlights, sans coat and vest.

MARTHA,
Composed by F. Von Flotow.
CAST.

Lady Harriett Durham	Miss Edith Mason
Nancy	Miss Brinsmade
Lord Tristam Mickleford	Mr. W. S. Shelly
Plunkett	Mr. Robert S. Pigott
Lionel	Mr. Thomas H. Persse
Sheriff	Mr. George H. Sinclair

Peasants, ladies in waiting, huntresses, etc.

The second week of the season for the stock company at the Duquesne garden opened last night with Flotow's masterpiece, "Martha." Quaint and pretty, with a light vein of historical interest and a liberal strain of humor running through it all, "Martha" promises to be even more popular than when it was sung last year at the Grand. The rather unusual tale of a lady of rank tiring of the court life, seeking amusement in a village fair and hiring herself and her lady companion as servants to two farmers, with whom they ultimately fall in love, is one calculated to keep up a keen interest throughout the performance and to give excellent opportunity for chorus effects. The latter, especially in the fair scene and the forest meeting, were warmly applauded. The company is well costumed and in the intricate dances showed a very careful training. Miss Edith Mason, as Lady Harriett Durham, was a great favorite as she was last week. Her companion and waiting maid, Miss Brinsmade, came on the stage last night without a rehearsal, taking the part of Miss Lelia Gardner, who was kept away by illness, but the fact was not suspected by the audience. In the role of Lionel, the adopted brother of Plunkett, Thomas H. Persse drew more than the usual share of applause. At the close of the program most of the audience remained to listen to the wonderful performance of Musical Dale on the bells and concertina. Mr. Dale has not been in Pittsburgh for six years and goes to London in a few weeks for a long season at the Alhambra.

THREE DAYS.

Then Postum Saved Him.

It makes rather solid friends of people when they discover a liquid food that will save life in extreme cases of need.

Speaking of Postum Food Coffee, a lady in Toledo, O., says, "For over five years now I have used Postum Coffee entirely in place of the ordinary coffee or tea.

"I used to have stomach trouble and every time I drank a cup of ordinary coffee suffered the greatest distress. My troubles left when I left off coffee and began using Postum.

"The most severe test I know of was when my husband was down with gastric typhoid fever. His stomach would retain nothing; we tried milk and various other drinks. Everything we put into his stomach would come up in less than three minutes. After the third day of this kind of work I concluded to give him some Postum Coffee. He drank it and relished it and retained it, and for four weeks he lived on Postum and nothing else to speak of. You can depend upon it that Postum gained some good friends, for husband would have died if it had not been for the nourishment afforded by Postum Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

PIANOS

AT HAMILTON'S GREAT MUSIC HOUSE.

Hamilton's are devoting their energies entirely to the splendid line of musical instruments for which they are the sole representatives in this territory.

The stock of new pianos at this progressive establishment is the most notable one ever seen hereabouts, and offers advantages to purchasers which no other assortment can even approximate.

LEADERSHIP OF THE A. B. CHASE.

There are so many reasons why the A. B. Chase occupies first place among pianos that to enumerate them would be to ask the reader to consider an array of facts which would require much more space in this newspaper than is available for the purpose. It is enough to say that the A. B. Chase is preferred to all other pianos by many of the most famous musicians of the day, and that this splendid instrument is steadily gaining ground among those who admire artistic playing. One sums up the situation briefly in saying that the A. B. Chase is an art piano for artists. It is the refinement of tonal beauty. It's the ideal piano.

THE FISCHER PIANO

There can be no doubt of the esteem in which the Fischer piano is held throughout the country. Over 118,000 Fischers are now in use, and an idea of the satisfaction they give may be had from the knowledge that it has been repeatedly demonstrated that one Fischer piano in a neighborhood invariably means that numerous other Fischers will go there in a short time. Ask any person familiar with the characteristics of the Fischer pianos and you will learn that they occupy a unique place in the music world on account of their brilliant vibrant quality.

THE SCHUMANN PIANO

Persons who wish a piano that is at once artistic and of a medium price find the Schumann to suit them to a nicety. After a careful survey of the entire field we are convinced that the Schumann is the best medium grade piano on the market. The Schumann is so very good, in fact, that it is admitted to be superior to many pianos costing from $150 to $250 more. Convince yourself of this fact by making careful comparisons.

THE ANGELUS PIANO PLAYER

This is the device which awakens the slumbering harmonies and brings joy into thousands of homes. It is the most desirable of all piano players because it is the one which does all that any other does—and more. The Angelus is the only piano player on the market that has an orchestral attachment. This attachment renders the Angelus absolutely unique.

The Fourth of July Fund.

The responses to the appeal for funds for the Fourth of July celebration are neither as numerous nor as large as the occasion warrants. Never in the history of the world has a community been prospered as this one has been for some years past. It is therefore fitting that the anniversary of our nation's birth, graced as it will be by the presence of our chief magistrate, should be celebrated in a manner that in ordinary times might seem extravagant. The finance committee, composed of our best citizens, can be trusted to keep the expenditures within fairly reasonable limits, but the contributions so far received are far below what is necessary to do honor to the man and the day. It is above all important that the general committee should know at an early date how much money will be at their disposal, so that they may regulate their expenditures accordingly. Contributions should be sent to William A. Carr, Frick building, who is chairman of the finance committee.

Options and Educational Projects.

The return of City Solicitor Carnahan from England with options from Mrs. Schenley on the Schenley farm of 52 acres and on a 31-acre tract of the same property has an important relation to the site for the Carnegie technological school and a bearing, perhaps, on the future of the Western University. The options were secured from Mrs. Schenley for the city with the understanding that the property if purchased would be used for educational or park purposes. As the city is without authority to purchase property for educational purposes, the purchase can be made only for park uses, but afterward may be devoted to the educational object. The tract of 31 acres will suffice for the technological school, as planned, so that in case the whole farm of 52 acres is taken there will be sufficient ground for the university, the trustees of which are desirous of relocating it in proximity to the Carnegie technological school and the Carnegie institute. The university trustees intended to consider this matter at their meeting yesterday, together with their endowment plan, but did not reach either, and will consider them later. For the people of Pittsburgh these options raise questions of municipal finance and taxation. Mr. Carnahan does not reveal the price at which the properties are optioned, but says there is not sufficient money in the park fund remaining from the bond issue to pay for them. There are two ways to secure the needed money—by taxation or by a new bond issue. The alternative to the whole proposition, so far as the people are concerned as taxpayers is the original Schenley park site for the technological school. But that seems to have been pushed so far to the rear as to have been almost lost sight of. Ultimately, however, it may be found advisable to return to it.

The B. P. O. E.

Today Pittsburgh greets the Elks, the occasion of their gathering here being the dedication of the temple erected by the local members of the order. Delegations from towns within a wide radius will be present to participate in the ceremonies and the incidental festivities, and there is every promise of an enjoyable reunion.

From a small beginning the Beneficial and Protective Order of Elks has grown to a strong and influential organization, with lodges and clubhouses in all the important towns of the country. In 1867 the order had its origin in a little society formed in a boarding house of New York city, and its membership grew so rapidly that in the following year a reorganization was effected and the present title of the order was assumed. Unlike many organizations that have enjoyed popularity at their inception, only to wane a few months or a few years later, the Order of Elks continues to stand high in favor, and its membership is constantly increasing. The same success has marked the career of the Pittsburgh branch of the order, which, organized by a few congenial spirits in 1878, has steadily grown and is now the owner of a capacious and handsome clubhouse or temple.

In addition to its very successful work as an inculcator of fraternity the B. P. O. E. has done great good along the line of benevolence, assisting the sick and needy, burying the dead and championing the cause of the oppressed and defenseless. With such objects in view and such motives animating them, the Elks deserve the popularity and the success that have rewarded their efforts.

The Stone-Elkin Collapse.

An important admission is made in the latest "claim" put forth at Harrisburg in behalf of Stone's candidate for governor, Attorney General Elkin. It is equivalent to an admission that Mr. Elkin is beaten and Stone condemned to the seclusion he has been courting. It has been stated at Washington by Senator Quay that it is impossible for Elkin to secure a sufficient number of delegates to accomplish his nomination. On behalf of the attorney general it has been heretofore said that he would go into the convention with a majority of the delegates at his back and that he would be nominated on the first ballot. As the convention date approaches a change comes o'er the spirit and the letter of the Stone-Elkin claim. As it is now phrased, Mr. Elkin will go into the convention with merely a plurality of the delegates for him, and the opposition is to melt away with succeeding ballots until at last he will have a majority. There is an important difference between former claims and the latest. It is the difference, as a matter of fact, between victory and defeat. The Stone-Elkin balloon is being prepared for a collapse. The hot air isn't holding out, and will be all gone before the convention meets. If the attorney general's name is voted on in the state convention, his highest vote will be on the first ballot. If he cannot win the nomination with a rush he cannot win it at all. If the balloon cannot rise when the rope is cut it will stay on the ground and flatten out. The Elkin hurrah behind which Stone has been hiding, but not concealed, has been directed to secure a first ballot hurrah nomination. The effort having confessedly failed, the cause of the people is triumphant in advance of the gathering at Harrisburg. The statement made as in behalf of Elkin that he will not win on the first ballot is the beginning of the end, and the finish of Gov. Stone in Pennsylvania politics is presented to public view by those whose political fortunes are bound up with his. Vale Stone!

Two Wrongs Do Not Make Right.

Nearly all of the engineers, firemen and pumpmen in the anthracite region obeyed the strike order and abandoned their posts yesterday. The machinery is kept moving, however, with the aid of office men who have no other duties to occupy them while the mines are idle. It is now simply a question of endurance and the maintenance of good order.

In this connection an argument has been advanced that the mining companies have set a demoralizing example of disregard for the law. The basis for the assertion is that a clause of the state constitution prohibits common carriers conducting any other business. The anthracite region railroads, though operating under omnibus charters antedating the constitution of 1874, are said to come under the cited provision because they have benefited by subsequent legislation, notably the act authorizing the appointment of coal and iron police, which they are now invoking for their protection.

Both the argument and the connection in which it is used are objectionable. It need not be denied the companies have defied the constitutional limitations upon their business, but that does not give to the striking workmen any sanction for disregard of the law. If the companies are guilty they should be prosecuted in the orderly manner provided by the statutes. If the men commit any breach of the peace they must also take the consequences. Whatever the companies have done, it is not a new story. They might as well have been proceeded against years ago as now. There is no bar against asking for the forfeiture of their charters even at present, but it is inexcusably mischievous to simply hold up their alleged violation of the constitution as a sort of justification for possible turbulent action on the part of the strikers. Whatever betide operators or workers, good order must be preserved at any cost.

England's Liberal Peace Terms.

In the light of what Chamberlain, if not England, proposed to accomplish in South Africa before and after Buller's reverses and in the first flush of Roberts' triumphal march to Pretoria, the terms by which the war in South Africa is ended are singularly liberal. It is to be noted, however, that it is not a treaty of peace that has been arranged. The agreement reached is designated "terms of surrender." This to the Boers is a distinction with a difference. It loses them race independence, though race extinction is not included therein. The terms of surrender virtually assure to the Boers participation in South African autonomy. They are also assured of immunity from taxation to meet the expenses of the war. They also obtain a guarantee of generous assistance in the work of rebuilding their wasted homes that will insure an early return of prosperity. While submission to the English crown is exacted of the revolutionists, they are to have full equality before the law with other British subjects, and are given the privilege of teaching the Boer tongue in their schools, and its conditional use in the courts is also guaranteed. Boer prisoners are to be returned to their homes as speedily as possible to share in the terms of peace and none will be punished except for violation of the recognized rules of war, and they by court-martial of their own people. In short, while the Boers lose race independence, they gain complete liberty and a new start in life. Though the map of South Africa will be colored red, according to the dream of Cecil Rhodes, there are large possibilities for the Boers in the terms obtained by them. It is needless to say that the manner in which they have kept up their struggle against the British empire has won for them the admiration of the civilized world. In spite of their bigotry and exclusiveness, their gallant fight against overpowering odds, their fortitude, their courage and their indomitable faith in the righteousness of their cause brings to them at the end of the conflict only words of praise, even from their foes, who can hardly be called their conquerors.

Mt. Blackburn's Eruption.

The eruption on May 11 of Mt. Blackburn in Southeastern Alaska had, perhaps, a connection with the destructive eruptions in the islands of Martinique and St. Vincent. It differs from the latter, according to report, in the important particular that while Pelee and La Soufriere sent out superheated blasts and hot mud, ashes, rocks and gravel, the discharge from Mt. Blackburn was not even warm when the one known witness reached the mountain three days subsequent to the eruption, and there was no sign of destruction by heat, so that intense heat could not have been an accompaniment of the eruption. If not connected with the discharges in the West Indies, the Mt. Blackburn eruption may have been connected with the discharges in the Aleutian islands, or there may have been connection between all three. It is something for the students of seismology to puzzle over. The circumstance that Mt. Blackburn has not been classed as a volcano adds to the puzzle, but it is well known that the American volcanic chain extends from the Aleutian islands down the backbone of the continent, including parts of the West Indies.

TWO MORE ROBBERIES.

Private House Ransacked in Daylight and Jewelry Store Looted.

The robbery of the home of Thomas H. Lewis, cashier of the Anchor Savings bank at No. 65 South Oakland square on Saturday has just been made public. Silverware, clothing and furs, worth $1,000, were taken. The police say it was the work of novices. The family was away and the house was closed.

Mark's jewelry store at No. 222 Fifth avenue was entred and robbed to the extent of $500 on Friday night. Six pairs of gold opera glasses and several bronze vases were taken.

INFORMED HIS WIFE HE WANTED TO DIE

She Chided Him for Talking So, and Found Him Dead Soon Afterward.

William Ridley, 25 years of age, told his wife last night, about 7:30 o'clock, that he was going to commit suicide. She had heard it so many times before that she gave it no thought. Even when he spattered some carbolic acid on her hand she did not think he would carry out his threat. She went across the street to a neighbor's and when she returned home, half an hour later, she found her husband dead in a rocking chair.

Ridley lived in Eighth avenue, West Homestead. He has not done much work lately, but has been doing considerable drinking. His wife insists that they had no words, nor did she upbraid him for his conduct. She says that when he came home to supper she handed him a store bill, which he took without comment, put in his pocket, and then went and sat on the porch.

She went there and Ridley began to talk suicide, as he had many times before. He took from his pocket a vial containing an ounce of carbolic acid which he has been carrying for some weeks, and with the cork still in put it to his lips, and said he was going to take the contents. She told him he was foolish to talk so, and it was then that he removed the cork and dropped some of the acid on her hand. It was burned slightly, as was her dress in a few small places.

EAST END BOARD OPENS NEW HOME

House Warming at the Commodious Quarters of the Business Men's Organization.

The handsome new home of the East End Board of Trade, in Shady avenue, was opened last night with a house warming. The building, which is owned by the Board of Trade, was formerly the P. A. C. club house. It has been handsomely furnished and decorated throughout. F. Harmon was master of ceremonies, and introduced the speakers with witty remarks.

James B. Youngson, president of the board, delivered the address of welcome, in which he told of the progress of the association in three years, until over 300 active members are enrolled.

Attorney James Francis Burke made an address on "The Functions of a Board of Trade." Attorney Homer D. Castle spoke on "Business Men's Debits and Credits."

The musical program was participated in by Edward Wagner, Paul Dunlevy, Julius Cohen and Hubner's orchestra. Refreshments were served.

Body of Drowned Man Found.

Pure, Cool Milk for the Children of the Poor

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 2.

Among the many indications of summer that come into view at the beginning of June, is the opening of Nathan Strauss' 14 milk depots in different parts of New York city. By the generosity of this well-known business man, the children of the poor are supplied with Pasteurized and modified milk at nominal prices. The little pale-green sheds in which the milk and ice water are dispensed, are familiar objects to the New Yorker. The depots are placed in vicinity to the tenement districts, because naturally that is where good milk is most in request. The quarter in which live sweatshop workers and others who have to exist in small apartments, extends a long way, however, and you may come across the milk depots many miles apart. They are in the parks, where possible. There is one in City Hall park, another in Battery park, still another in Central park, near the arsenal, one in the roof garden of the Hebrew institute, and others in side streets where the population is thickest, and panting children are most numerous. There is always a long file of women with children waiting at each of the milk depots, and the attendants are always busy serving out the milk. It is one of the admirable features of this charity that if the mother of an infant has not the small sum asked for a pint of milk, she gets it free of charge. This kind of thing is not encouraged. Mr. Strauss desires that the feeling of self-respect, born of the knowledge that one is paying for what he receives, shall be maintained; but he knows that milk is a necessity of babyhood in hot weather and he will not allow any little one to be sent away hungry, if it can be helped. Although Mr. Strauss started this pure milk enterprise, and holds himself responsible, there are a great many voluntary contributions now, and it has been possible to spread the work greatly since it was begun, ten years ago. This was the day of the opening of the milk depots this year, and it was warm enough to make them the centers of attraction for hundreds of sad-eyed mothers in every instance.

Purchase of Big Hotels.

The George A. Fuller Companay of Chicago has bought three large hotel properties in the borough of Manhattan within the last few weeks. The latest purchase of this nature is the Plaza at Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue. The price was $3,000,000, and it was remarkable in that it was paid in hard cash. It is said that this is the largest cash real estate transaction in the history of New York. It is the intention to tear down the present structure some time or other and put up a 20 or 22-story modern hotel.

New York Dines in the Open Air.

It was not until today that New York made up its mind that al fresco luncheons and dinners were the pleasantest, even if the proper, thing; but when this 2d of June set in warm and bright there was no longer hesitation. The swell restaurants in Fifth avenue set their tables out in balconies, the Holland opened wide its dining room windows, the Waldorf turned its guests out of the regular dining room facing Fifth avenue to the next apartment on the same side of the house and flung its windows to the top, and all the smaller fry of uptown hotels and restaurants have made their accommodations as nearly like those of the Paris boulevards as they can. Every spring there is a desperate attempt on the part of restaurant and hotel managers to keep the butterfly class of Manhattanese in New York as long into the hot weather as possible, and the first thing they do in this way is to fling up the windows of their dining rooms, and, where possible, to set tables out in the spacious awning-covered balconies, which are so much affected by the upper part of New York in these times.

Rage for Cheap Hunting Pictures.

"For your den, summer home or dining room," is the way the large colored pictures of hunting scenes, Indian warriors' heads and flaunting ballet girls are advertised. Fifth avenue and Broadway have broken out in a rash of the pictures, and a dealer told me today that they are selling like hot cakes. Why shouldn't they? They are attractive and do not call for deep study for an understanding of them, and they are cheap. They go at 50 cents apiece.

Toy Imitation of the Bagpipe.

Those indefatigable business men, the sidewalk fakirs, have some new things. One of them, near the Waldorf this afternoon, was doing a good business with a toy reproduction of the Scottish bagpipe. It consisted only of a rubber balloon, which was inflated with the breath and then allowed to force the air into a wooden whistle with four or five vents. Run your fingers up and down these holes and you get a fair suggestion of the pipes, with the characteristic drone and squalling accompaniment, as natural as if your foot were on the heather and the clans were gathering at your back.

Reverence for Age in Curios.

The antique craze was never more rampant in New York than it is just now. Everything you have in your library or studio must bear the mildew and dints of age or it is not restful to the senses. That is what the "precious" element will tell you, let the Philistines laugh as hoarsely as they will. The sidewalk peddler takes advantage of the passing fancy. You may buy antiques along the streets, from an ancient basket that looks as antiquated as any of the wares inside. Copper vessels of queer shapes, brass candlesticks, old pewter drinking mugs, battered plates of mysterious metal, toasting forks, enameled charms, and so on through a long list of curios, all warranted to be more than 100 years old, with labels hidden in obscure parts of them to prove their antiquity. You could not have a better assurance of genuineness in a Fourth avenue antique emporium, and probably one is as reliable as the other in many instances. At all events you may fill your house with charming mementoes of bygone times at a very small expense if you buy of the street merchant, and I notice that he is doing a thriving trade.

Table d'Hote Meals Are Cheaper.

The table d'hote is as noticeable a feature of upper New York as ever it was, but it is generally observed that the price of this species of entertainment is much less than a decade ago. Time was when it was impossible to get a good table d'hote dinner in New York for less than a dollar. Today you can have the same kind of meal for 50 cents, with a reputed pint of fearsome vin ordinaire thrown in, just as in the good old times. Riccadonna, Moretti and the rest of the old keepers of the restaurants of this description have moved further uptown and all have cut their prices. You may have table d'hote luncheon for a quarter, and I am told it is not bad—at that price. Of course, if you want to go to the chop houses above Herald square, where the price is anything you will stand, with as large a tip for the waiter as that gentleman can glare you into serving him, your luncheon and dinner will be as expensive as ever; but, supposing that you have the table d'hote habit—as many Pittsburghers have when they visit New York—you will find that your favorite style of dinner is cheaper than ever it was in your memory.

Toss of a Penny Costs a Life.

Andrew Featherstone, who was killed by the big automobile which ran amuck at the Staten island speed trials on Saturday, lost his life by a game of pitch-and-toss. He was a clerk in the office of the tax assessor, and, as only one member of the office force could be spared on Saturday afternoon, he tossed a penny with a fellow clerk to see which should go. Featherstone won. Had the coin come tails up instead of heads Featherstone would have been alive today.

Town Full of Musical Comedies.

Another musical show is coming to town this week, besides "A Chinese Honeymoon," which made its appearance at the Casino tonight. It is the "Chaperones," at the New York, the date for the opening being next Thursday. The town is full of musical comedies. There is "The Wild Rose," "King Dodo," "Dolly Varden," "The Black Hussar" and "The Show Girl." There may be a few more, but these mentioned are the more prominent. By the way, Amelia Bingham has not closed her season, although she has left the Bijou. She is doing "The Climbers," with her original cap, at the Metropolis theater in Third avenue, at the extreme upper end, about which Broadway hears very little as a rule, but then, it is characteristic of Broadway to think that there is no New York of any consequence west or east of the "magic path of light," as they choose to call it.

Municipality Feels the Coal Strike.

Coal is unobtainable by the municipality of New York, it seems. The dock department advertised for 2,000 tons and the bridge department for 2,800 tons, but not a bid was received by either department. Unless coal is obtained within two or three days, city business will have to be suspended, to all intents and purposes. This is where the New York city government begins to feel the Pennsylvania strike.

Russell Sage a Defendant.

Russell Sage has been sued for $350,000. The plaintiff is John Henry Hammond, receiver for the German-American Real Estate Title Guarantee Company, and the defendants are, besides Mr. Sage, ex-Comptroller Edward V. Loew and Charles J. Obermayer, formerly directors of the concern. They are charged with making excessive loans on poor securities and thus causing loss. This may be true, but it does not sound like "Uncle Russell's" business methods. Mr. Sage did not go to his office today. His physician advised him to wait until tomorrow, but it is expected that he will be in Wall street bright and early in the morning. The sensational stories of his dangerous physical condition seem to be unfounded, although one never knows, until a decided change one way or the other puts the matter beyod question. Russell Sage himself says he will live into the nineties, and if he feels so most likely he will.

Brawny Men to Protect the Mines.

Reminders of the strike in the anthracite regions are not wanting in this city, aside from the scarcity of coal. Down in Ann street there is a bureau for the hiring of old soldiers, ex-policemen and soldiers of fortune who cannot be scared by the smell of gunpowder, to go to the mines and defend the property of the operators against attacks by strike sympathizers. It is said that 200 men already have been engaged in New York, and that similar recruiting stations have been established in many other big cities. The work is being done unostentatiously, of course, but it was not long before the bustle around the downtown bureau attracted attention, and there is now a crowd about the place all day long.

Corrigan Memorial Meeting.

Preparations have begun for a great memorial meeting for the late Archbishop Corrigan at Carnegie hall next Sunday. There will be a choir of 300 voices. Eugene A. Philbin, formerly district attorney of New York, will preside, and Bourke Cockran will deliver the principal oration. That the great auditorium will be packed to the doors is a foregone conclusion.

What Meat Costs in New York.

Here are the prices of meat in New York today, with the possibility of their going higher unless the stringency is soon relieved: Porterhouse steak, 25-28 cents; prime rib roasts, 20-22; sirloin, 22; round, 20; blade roast, 16; chuck, 15; leg of lamb, 18; hind quarter, 20, and lamb chops, 22.

Molineux Trial in September.

Roland B. Molineux had a short constitutional today. He walked from his cell in the Tombs over the "bridge of sighs" (twin brother of the bridge in Ross street, Pittsburgh,) to the court room in the court house. The occasion was the settling of the time for his new trial. It was to have begun today, but prosecution and defense agreed that it should be put off till September 22 to avoid the warm weather. Having settled this point, Molineaux was walked back to his cell, where he will remain for the summer, except for the regulation daily constitutional in the gloomy prison yard.

Last of Silver Dollar Smith's Place.

One of the landmarks of the East Side has passed away. "Silver Dollar Smith's" no longer exists. The most popular saloon east of Broadway has gone out of business. Down comes the curtain. There is a padlock on the door which knew no closing in the happy days of old. The mosaic floor, with silver dollars and tiles, with a great star of gold eagles for a center-piece, has been dug up. Alas! the silver dollars will never pass as money. They had been worn to the thinness of cardboard by the shuffling feet of "Silver Dollar Smith's" many customers. It has never been the same since Smith died, and the end was only a question of time.

UNCLE SAM'S RELIEF.

The Commander of the Sterling Says Aid Will Be Needed Later On. Second Eruption's Work.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—Acting secretary Darling has received a report from Commander George W. Mentz of the U. S. S. Sterling, dated San Juan, May 22, on the relief work done by that ship in Martinique and St. Vincent. The Sterling arrived at the scene of distress May 15, next to the little Potomac, with relief supplies. Within nine hours after receiving the orders of the secretary of the navy the ship was ready to sail.

The only incident of the trip to Fort de France was the rescue from a sinking boat of four refugees from Precheur.

Commander Mentz thus describes the eruption on the 20th, which was greater than the one on the 8th which destroyed St. Pierre:

"Stones fell in the town (Fort de France) some six inches in diameter. The hail of pebbles was greater, as also was the deposit of mud and dust. The people naturally were in a panic, and, shrieking with fright, flew to the water, taking boats or swimming to get on board the vessels in the harbor. About 3,000 were thus struggling at one time to get to a place of safety, among them women with nothing on but their night robes. For some time it looked as if Fort de France would meet with the fate of St. Pierre. Except, however, for a deposit of good-sized stones, pebbles and mud and dust, do damage was done to the town itself, so far as I know.

"Where on the 8th instant the destruction seemed to stop at a line running east from the village of Carbet, it now, as far as vegetation is concerned, extends to the edge of the town of Fort de France, so that although the relief sent by the United States government is not absolutely needed at present, I am confident that in the course of a few weeks there will be much distress and it will be a very welcome supply."

United States Consul Ayme is specially commended as ready at all hours of the day and night, in spite of illness, to render assistance.

Luckey Teachers Elected.

At the meeting of the Luckey sub-district school board last evening the following teachers were elected: A. C. McLean, principal; Nannie E. Benn, assistant principal No. 1; Evelyn Arbogast, assistant principal No. 2; Anna McClurg, Elizabeth C. Barr, Bertha J. Tregel, Margaret A. McMurray, Margaret Solomon, Martha MacDonald, Gula M. Hedrick, Margaret A. Bell, Helen Haas, Millie Rodenbaugh, Carrie L. Michael, Clara M. Ivory, Rosa Welker, Lida Beech, Josephine E. Bell, May L. Reynolds, Anna C. Sanders, Almira Trunick and Imogen Williams.

Pelee Throwing Out Cinders.

PARIS, June 2.—An official dispatch from Fort de France, Martinique, dated June 1, says: "It is useless to send further provisions, of which there are sufficient, to the island. Mont Pelee continues its eruption and is emitting cinders."

BELL BOY FATALLY STABBED BY ANOTHER

Quarrel Between Hotel Anderson Employes Terminated Last Night. Mysterious Shooting Reported.

In a fight between two of the employes of the Hotel Anderson at the hotel about midnight Howe Price, a bell boy 22 years old of No. 208 Elm street, was stabbed over the heart by Lemuel McAlpin, another bell boy of the same age. The injured man was taken to the Homeopathic hospital, where it was said that his wound would prove fatal.

It is said that there was also a shooting affray in the alley adjoining the hotel, and that a man was shot in the neck. The police are investigating this affair, but up to a late hour neither injured man nor his assailant had been identified.

The fight between Price and McAlpin was one of long standing, and was renewed about 11 o'clock last night. Although angry words passed between the men, little attention was paid to them. According to McAlpin's story Price drew a knife and attempted to cut him. McAlpin struck Price in the face and says that Price made another attempt to stab him with a knife. He then pulled out his own pocket knife and thrust the blade into Price's body. According to his story it was "either him or me."

The trouble attracted a small crowd, and considerable excitement was caused in the hotel. Price was taken to the Homeopathic hospital, but when he reached there he was already so weak from the loss of blood that the surgeons said he could not live until morning.

McAlpin was arrested and taken to the Central police station.

Price has a brother, James Price, at No. 543 Seaton avenue, Braddock. All the men implicated were colored.

The other case, which was reported to the police earlier in the evening, is shrouded in mystery. Assistant Superintendent William Wilson made an investigation, but no arrests were made. According to the police officials, one of the girls employed in the hotel kitchen rushed into the room where the chief cook was at work, about 8:30 o'clock, with the information that someone had shot "Charlie, the broiler." It is said that the cook hurriedly put on his coat and ran out. This was the last seen of him or the girl, or any of those conversant with the details of the case.

At the hotel information in regard to either the stabbing or shooting was refused.

Governor Only in Doubt.

PORTLAND, ORE., June 2.—Polls closed at 7 p. m. Counting will be slow, owing to length of ticket. It is predicted that the Republican ticket, except governor, will be successful. Both Republican congressmen are elected. No estimate of result on governor can be made until a large portion of vote shall be counted.

THE MAN UP A TREE

From a High Viewpoint.

King Edward now really feels like trying on his coronation robes.

Boers and Britons will not hereafter be such busy B's.

Peace jubilees will follow the British flag around the globe.

Keep the cable clear for the coming poem by Kipling.

The commander-in-chief has marked the army down to 66,497 men.

An army of this size, for a nation of 84,000,000 people, does not look much like militarism.

The British camp at Port Chalmette will probably go out of business now without the assistance of Gen. Pearson.

Rejoicing Englishmen are long on gladness and short on exultation.

An occasional shower comes handy to lay the dust, since we must depend chiefly upon that sort of dust-laying.

In deciding to proclaim the new constitution of Virginia without submitting it to the voters, the Democrats who framed that instrument lost sight of the doctrine of government by consent of the governed.

Some officers of the Turkish garrison at Uskub sent a petition to the sultan, setting forth that they had received no pay in a long time and saying that promotion was at a standstill. The sultan responded by promoting officers who did not sign the petition, but he was not so reckless as to pay any of them.

An Important Point.

"Well," remarked the June bride, as she stood before the mirror and surveyed herself, "I wonder if my orange blossoms are on straight!"

In Other Words.

"Gov. Stone," remarked Mr. Wood, "is extremely desirous that Mr. Elkin shall be nominated, in order that he may claim the nomination as a vindication."

"Yes," added Mr. Smithfield, "but the Republican state convention will disappoint him."

"In other words, it will act as a Stone crusher."

A Didactic Yell.

It is not often that a college yell is construed so as to convey a lesson, but an important orthodox fact is stated in the second line of the yell of the Neenah (Wis.) high school, which runs thus:

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven!
All good schoolboys go to heaven!
When they get there how they yell!
Neenah High school has done well!"

His Arm Was Bared.

"Well," said the physician, "you decided to come in and be vaccinated, did you! That's right. Everybody ought to be vaccinated at least once in five years. I vaccinate myself once every 12 months as a precaution, because a man in my profession is more likely to run against smallpox than a layman is."

"Yes," said the patient, "I came to be vaccinated and to enjoy my constitutional right."

"Your constitutional right?" queried the physician.

"Yes; the right to bare arms."

A number of radical changes in the government of the union are looked for by the delegates present.

The latter part of the week will be given over to discussing means of settling wage disputes. The reports of the various officers so far received show a phenomenal growth in the membership. Many new lodges have been instituted during the past year.

Mr. Pollock was in his 71st year, having been born at Ballyfotherly, County Down, Ireland, March 17, 1832. At the age of 22 years Mr. Pollock came to Pittsburgh and until 1870 was connected with the steamboat trade on the Ohio river. On leaving the river he engaged in the commission business with the late John Wallace as a partner. Several years ago he retired from active business life. Mr. Pollock had been a member of the central board since 1877, when he was selected to represent the O'Hara district, Twelfth ward. Since that time he has been prominently connected with the school interests of Pittsburgh, and for a number of years past had been chairman of the committee on teachers and salaries. He had just returned from Florida, where he had spent the winter with his wife in the hope of benefiting his health. His death was due to old age. Maj. McGowan was 79 years old and from 1840 until 1897 was connected with the Monongahela Navigation Company at lock No. 4, for many years being superintendent of construction for that company. In 1880 he built the towboat Belle McGowan, which was recently blown over in a high wind storm. The concern was started with a capital of but $200,000, but under his wise management this was increased until in 1891 it was capitalized at $2,000,000, and paid 10 per cent annually in quarterly dividends of 2½ per cent for years. Mr. Eaton was a native of Boston, and when a young man started in the Calcutta trade, with which venture he was very successful. He was also interested in other business lines. He leaves two sons and a daughter.

James Curley.

James Curley, 52 years old, died late Sunday night at the St. Francis hospital, where for the past four weeks he had been a patient. Consumption was the cause of death. YOUNG WOMEN OFFER TO ENTER MISSION FIELD

Four Well-Known Ladies from This District Are to Go to Foreign Lands.

DR. W. J. REID RESIGNS

Burden of Years Too Much for the Principal Clerk of the United Presbyterian General Assembly. He Was Released Temporarily.

A pathetic silence stole over the General Assembly yesterday afternoon when, during the reading of the report of the Women's General Missionary society, it was announced that four young women of Pittsburgh and vicinity had decided to give up their home and friends and sacrifice their young lives to the work of God in foreign lands. For some time past there has been a dearth of workers in the foreign field, and this gratutious offering impressed the assembly deeply. The young women who will thus devote their lives to foreign missionary work are: Miss Marion A. Paden, daughter of George Paden, assistant cashier of the Union National bank; Miss Myra L. Boyd, daughter of the Rev. Dr. J. C. Boyd; Miss Lillian A. McConnell, daughter of the Rev. W. T. McConnell of Turtle Creek, and Miss Alice B. Underwood of Ingram.

A Double Sacrifice.

In the case of Miss Paden the sacrifice is considered double, both on the part of the parents and the young lady in that she is the only child. Miss Underwood is a nurse in the Ossining hospital at Ossining, N. Y. She will devote her life to this work in Egypt, where she goes in company with Miss Boyd. Miss Paden and Miss McConnell go to India. All four will leave early in the fall. The report of the Women's General Missionary society was an interesting feature of the afternoon session. It showed that the society has now 44 unmarried missionaries, two boarding schools, 12 missionaries in the home field and 21 teachers among the Freedmen, all of whom it supports. The contributions last year amounted to [illegible].843.94, including the thank offering of $40,000.

Both sessions of the assembly yesterday brought out many interesting features. The resignation of the Rev. Dr. William J. Reid, principal clerk, has been expected for some time and caused little surprise when presented.

Has Long Been in Harness.

Dr. Reid is burdened with years that make the arduous work of clerk of an assembly almost too much. He was unable to hold out any longer and offered his resignation shortly before noon yesterday. He was released temporarily, and the following committee appointed to consider his resignation: The Revs. T. H. Hanna, W. C. Williamson, G. R. Murray, and Elders James Carson and L. S. Frazer.

The order of the day during the afternoon session was the report of the board of home missions. The Rev. Dr. Alexander Gilchrist, corresponding secretary, delivered an impassioned address in favor of new fields. The report was adopted and also resolutions commending the excellent work of Dr. Gilchrist.

Second clerk of the assembly, the Rev. Dr. A. G. Wallace, who has served in that office 34 consecutive years, presented the report on statistics. It shows that there are 13 synods and 68 presbyteries and 117,874 members in America and in the world 132,476 members.

The committee on bills and overtures made a report on a uniform version of the metrical system of psalm singing to the effect that work is progressing, and that an addition of two members be made to the United Presbyterian committee. The report was adopted.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that, as the United Presbyterian church in 1908 will be 50 years old, a committee of seven members be appointed to arrange for a fitting celebration by the general assembly.

OPPOSITION EXPECTED.

Exceptional Interest in Report of Bills and Overtures Committee.

Of exceptional interest to United Presbyterians is the report of the bills and overtures committee on the "limitation of appeals," which will be read today before the general assembly.

The gist of the report is that the presbyteries of America favor making the synod of each district the last appeal on any question, save possibly some important question of doctrine. Were this made a law it would give the synods almost the same power as the general assembly, and for this reason it is expected that there will be a big opposition to the recommendation. It will require a two-thirds vote to make it a law.

Prizes Awarded in Art Classes.

The closing of the art schools and the studios is the forerunner of a general exodus of artists and students for new scenes of action.

Yesterday afternoon the annual reception and exhibition of the work of the Stevenson Art school was held in the studios in Wood street. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stevenson received their guests, assisted by Miss M. M. Tridor, Miss M. Jessie White, Miss Bessie Rigby and Miss Helen Williams. The studios were crowded during the afternoon from 2 o'clock until 6, the reception being held in the main studio, while the exhibition was conducted in the class rooms above.

The work of the students was submitted to the jury of award last Saturday. The jury consisted of Miss Agnew, Miss Ida Smith, Clarence Johns and Charles Walz. Prizes were awarded as follows: Prize in oils, Miss M. Jessie White; honorable mention in oils, a composition from nature, Miss White. In the life class, black and white, the prize was won by Miss White, Miss Beckwith's work receiving No. 1 and that of Miss Rayburn, No. 2. Morgan Eckley secured the prize in the antique class, drawings from cast; David Kornhauser receiving honorable mention. In the contests for decorative book covers and practical designs William Walton received first prize, Morgan Eckley, second prize, and Miss Beckwith, No. 1. Morgan Eckley took the first prize in composition, Miss Tridor, second. In decoration, William Walton received the first prize.

After the work was hung on Saturday afternoon the students held their studio party and a musicale was given, with Miss Adele Reahard, pianist; Miss Winifred Reahard, vocalist, and Mr. Rothleder, violinist. Tomorrow the class work and the prize paintings will be taken to Boyd's, in Wood street, where they will be exhibited on Wednesday and throughout the following week.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson will leave for New York to sail on Saturday for England. They will visit London and later go to Paris. The greater part of the summer they intend spending at Cherburg, in Brittany, and within reach of much picturesque and interesting country, including the Channel islands. They will return early in September to open the studios.

IN the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr, at 12:30 yesterday afternoon, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Alice Neill, daughter of Thomas W. Neill, and Alexander Chambers of Pittsburgh. Mr. Chambers is a son of James Chambers, president of the American Window Glass Company, one of the prominent figures in the commercial and industrial circles of this city.

The choir and sanctuary of the church were decorated with hydrangeas, palms and white peonies. The Rev. Dr. Houghton, rector of the church, performed the ceremony. Musicale for Fresh Air Home.

Society in Sewickley put aside all other engagements last evening to attend the musicale at the Edgeworth club house arranged by the Young Women's Aid auxiliary to the Fresh Air Home, which on next Saturday opens its doors formally to an inspection by the public. The main society is to care for children all summer until the latter part of September. It then gives entire possession over to the auxiliary, which has planned to entertain for a month or six weeks working girls in need of rest. It was to this end that the musicale was given last evening. The windows of the magnificent ball room open on porches of large proportions and many enjoyed the music from the porches and from the broad hall without the ball room.

The Nevin Mandolin club gave a selection from "The King of Pomeru" to open the program, and Mrs. Gertrude George followed with Innison's "A Song of a Heart." Among the others on the excellent program were Louis Ferrero, the pianist; Frank Brooks, Miss Olive Beach and Mrs. Ernest Beach, vocalists. Miss Spencer of Sewickley, organist at the Sewickley Presbyterian church, played with Will Osburn and Jack Irwin, violinists.

Miss Love is the president of the auxiliary and the members include Miss Annie Semple, Miss Mary Campbell, Miss Susan Williams, Miss MaLeet Williams, Miss Marjory Irwin, Miss Lucy Haworth, Mrs. John B. Semple, Mrs. DeWitt B. Nettleton, Miss Mary Cree Porter, Mrs. William Way, Miss Eleanor Dravo, Miss Lottie Lyon, Miss Hortense Watts, Miss Fallbush, Miss Clyde Nicols, Miss Martha Porter, Miss Daisy Miller, Miss Rebekah Miller, Miss Wardrop, Miss Jane Nevin, Miss McGeary, Miss Amelia Oliver and Miss Mary Chaplin. A number of these young women assisted in serving refreshments at the close of the program, in the pretty green and white supper room on the second floor of the club house.

The patronesses were Miss Leet, Wilson, Mrs. L. Halsey Williams, Mrs. J. B. Oliver, Mrs. E. C. Maderia, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Mrs. Robert Wardrop, Mrs. A. E. Harlow, Mrs. George E. McCague, Mrs. Charles McKnight, Mrs. B. F. Semple, Mrs. George H. Clapp, Mrs. W. N. Kerr, Mrs. John C. Slack, Mrs. Ezra P. Young, Mrs. Harriet Gilmore, Mrs. A. J. Armstrong, Mrs. W. L. Important Chapter Meeting.

The Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold an important business meeting, the regular June session, on Friday morning, June 6, at 10:30 o'clock at the Twentieth Century Club house, Duquesne way. Action will be taken on two amendments to the bylaws proposed at a meeting, April 25, 1902. They are as follows:

Article V.—Every applicant for membership must be indorsed by two members of the chapter to whom she is personally well known. Members of other chapters presenting transfer cards must be introduced by two members of the Pittsburgh chapter.

Article VI., Sec. 4.—Add: The life membership fees shall be used for the objects of the society, and not for current expenses of the chapter.

The chapter will discuss at this meeting question of inviting the Pennsylvania Daughters of the American Revolution to hold the state conference in Pittsburgh in 1903.

Theatricals in Leetsdale.

Two farces, entitled "The Irish Linen Peddler" and "Dunduckettys Picnic" will be presented in Leetsdale Thursday evening of this week by the members of the United Presbyterian church of that place for the benefit of the church. The committee in charge is H. L. Warren, coach; Mrs. Nora Park, Mrs. Frank Hamilton, Mrs. Olive Davis, Miss Mary Henle and Miss Cora McKee. Those who will take part in the plays are H. D. Warren, Dr. R. J. McQuaide, A. Sohn, Mrs. Frank Hamilton, Mrs. M. Henle, Miss Cora McKee, William F. Seight, Mr. Reno, Will McKee, Mrs. Nora Park and Mrs. Olive Davis. Attractive staging is being arranged to add to the humor of the plays.

Artists and Their Summer Jaunts.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shirlaw, who have been many months in Europe, are now in Paris. They are going to Spain to study the great paintings by Spanish masters, especially those of Velasquez. In the early fall they are coming back to New York and will reopen a studio there.

Miss Anna Woodward, the talented daughter of Marcus Woodward of the East End, is in Paris, where she has been spending the winter and spring. Miss Woodward has arranged to spend the summer at Bourbonne les Cains where she will sketch and gather new material for her work next season.

Miss Deming Woodward is in Paris now and will remain there throughout the summer. Miss Deming Woodward is well-known here, having coming on a number of times to give instruction to the Art Students' league.

Miss Agnew intended to spend this summer in Holland, sketching in that picturesque country. Her present plans, however, are to go to the New England coast to remain until September.

Miss Ida Smith is going to capture Mt. Washington and its attractive scenery this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stevenson will close their cottage and studio at Castle Shannon this week to go abroad and enjoy the rugged scenery of the Channel islands.

Miss Edith McIlvaine, a young artist of great promise in the East End, has already closed her classes and sailed for Europe. She will spend the summer with her former teacher, Raphael Collin, in Paris. Raphael Collin is one of the most successful teachers in that city and has unique methods. Just outside of the city, in a beautiful garden with a background of rich green foliage and brilliant blossoming flowers, he poses his models, securing an effect totally unlike that of the studio, and of inestimable value to his pupils. Miss Edith McIlvaine is the daughter of the Rev. Dr. McIlvaine, rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church.

Among the artists who have recently left New York for Europe are Birge Harrison, whose marine paintings have been admired in the Carnegie art galleries, and Mrs. Harrison, who have gone abroad for the summer; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gay of Paris, who returned after a few weeks in this country.

Campbell will perform the ceremony. The guests will be few, but the appointments will be unusually attractive.

Rehearsal and Dinner.

The wedding today of Miss Emma Childs McClintock and Thomas Darling of Wilkinsburg, Pa., was preceded last evening by the rehearsal, followed by a dinner at the Pittsburgh Golf club house. The wedding will be quiet and attended only by relatives and the most intimate friends. The bride, who is the eldest daughter of Oliver McClintock of Amberson and Ellsworth avenues, Shadyside, will be attended by her twin sisters, Miss Jeannet and Miss Elsie.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Duncan of Allegheny announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean Wallace Duncan, to John Alfred McDowell, son of James B. McDowell. The wedding will take place in the early fall. John Alfred McDowell is a grandson of Prof. John A. Brashear, acting chancellor of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

"Lady of Lyons" at Alvin Tonight.

Mary Mannering and Kyrle Bellew are to bring their special production of "The Lady of Lyons" to the Alvin theater this evening, after playing the various large cities a period of one night each. Manager Frank McKee selected this play of Bulwer's for the coming tour in anticipation of the idea that Miss Mannering would make a delightful Pauline, and also in view of the fact that this famous play of Bulwer-Lytton's has stood the storms of 65 years and still proves as great a drawing card as ever.

"The Lady of Lyons" was first produced at the Covent Garden, Haymarket, in 1838. Helen Faucet was the Pauline and Charles McCready the Claude Melnotte.

The advance sale indicates that the Alvin will have one of the largest and finest audiences of the season tonight.

School Girls Interested in Poor.

MUSH MALADIES.

For years we have had tea drinkers' disorder, coffee drinkers' complexion and now we have the mush malady or starch indigestion (amylaceous dyspepsia). This is the result of the extensive use of oatmeal mush, cracked wheat and other pasty foods which do not digest well but ferment, forming acids and poisons which irritate the small intestine, congest the stomach and liver, impoverish the blood, irritate the nerves, weaken the muscles and sap the vital energies, inducing exhaustion, pain and disease. The prevention and the remedy is to use that appetizing food, Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey. Each flake is thoroughly cooked and toasted so that the starch is turned to dextrine and is at once digestible. Each package of the genuine bears a picture of the Battle Creek Sanitarium.

MAY'S BEEF, WINE AND IRON is a grand tonic for systems that need to be strengthened up to bear the strain of sweltering summer.

May's is different from other Beef, Wine and Irons in that it is better. It is just as good and nutritious as the best fresh beef extract exactly combined with the right amount of citrate of iron, and a fine sherry wine added, can make it.

It took downright, practical chemists with years and years of experience to get the exact combination; not a little too much of one ingredient nor enough of another—just right. The best experience in the land was employed. You'll notice it in the result.

Another thing you will appreciate in May's Beef, Wine and Iron is its freshness. It is in the consumers' hands almost before it has touched the stock's shelves. You would be surprised at the thousands who are using it.

MAY'S BEEF, WINE AND IRON is delicious in taste. It restores energy, tones up the entire system, and creates a healthy appetite.

It is especially valuable to convalescents—to you, if you feel worn out and overworked. It is recommended by physicians.

"IT IS IGNORANCE THAT WASTES EFFORT." TRAINED SERVANTS USE SAPOLIO

FOURTEENTH IS TO LOSE ONE OF ITS COMPANIES

By Order of Governor Stone, C Will Be Mustered Out of Service.

ELECTIONS LAST NIGHT

Successors Chosen to Commanders of Companies D and G, Who Were Recently Dismissed—Effort Will Be Made to Save the Command.

A sensation has been created in local national guard circles by orders further mustering out Company C, Fourteenth infantry, located at Oakdale, given by Gov. Stone, commander-in-chief. A strong effort will be made to have the order withdrawn so that the company may be saved to the regiment. The company was inspected a short time ago by Maj. Samuel W. Jeffers, inspector of the Second brigade, who found the command in bad shape. It was on his report of the inefficiency of the company that it has been ordered mustered out of the national guard.

It is stated that the first intimation Col. W. E. Thompson received that his regiment had lost Company C came from Capt. John R. McEwen, its commander. According to information received last night it is stated that late on Friday evening Capt. McEwen received a communication from Adjt.-Gen. Stewart notifying him that orders would be issued for the mustering out of the officers and men of Company C. This word he is said to have conveyed to Col. Thompson, who expressed surprise that the notification had not first come to him from Harrisburg.

May Be Saved.

Until recently the company was commanded by Capt. W. M. Schrodes of Oakdale. Shortly before the semi-annual inspection Capt. Schrodes tendered his resignation to Col. Thompson, but as it was so near the date of the company inspection it was not accepted as there was not time to elect a new captain. After the inspection the resignation was accepted and John R. McEwan was elected.

An attempt will be made to save the company, and influence will be brought to bear on the commander-in-chief. It is understood that Maj. John W. Nesbitt, United States pension agent, and a former field officer of the Fourteenth, will see Gov. Stone and request that the order be withdrawn. Should Maj. Nesbitt not be successful it will leave the Third battalion of the regiment in the air. There is a bare possibility that the governor may order a reorganization of the company.

The two commissions made vacant in the Fourteenth by the discharge of Capt. Alfred H. McClelland of Company D, and Capt. Edwin G. Diehl of Company G, were filled by elections last night. It was rumored that both officers would make an attempt to be re-elected and large crowds gathered in the armories.

Elections Were Tame.

The election in Company D was conducted by Maj. R. M. Ewing. Lieut. Franklin Blackstone of Company E, who has been in command of Company D since McClelland was relieved last December, was nominated. When Corporal Daniel McGrogran nominated McClelland Maj. Ewing announced that McClelland had been discharged for inefficiency and that he had been instructed not to count any votes for McClelland. The election of Blackstone was made unanimous. The result was received with cheers and Capt. Blackstone was sworn in by Maj. Ewing.

Company G elected Lieut. Joseph A. Rising. There were two other candidates, ex-Capt. Samuel W. McElroy of the Eighteenth infantry and Walter Diehl, a brother of the deposed captain. Diehl received 5 votes and McElroy 2 out of 37. Capt. Rising has served with the Fourteenth through all grades up to his present rank. He is a clerk in the office of the clerk of courts, and one of the crack shots of the Fourteenth infantry.

WEALTHY OIL OPERATOR KILLED IN RUNAWAY

Michael Caverly of Buffalo Met Death Alone Yesterday While Driving Near Fair Oaks.

Michael Caverly, 58 years of age, a wealthy oil operator, was instantly killed in a runaway accident near Fair Oaks yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The body was brought to the morgue.

Mr. Caverly was a member of the firm of Frank McCann & Co., extensive operators in the Economy oil field. He left Pittsburgh on a train yesterday morning, and at Economy a horse and buggy was waiting for him.

Nothing is known of his trip except what the road shows. Just before reaching the bridge the horse ran away. The wheels of the buggy struck the approach to the bridge. Mr. Caverly was thrown out and his neck broken. The horse ran into Fair Oaks, and the people who caught it went back down the road until they found the body.

Mr. Caverly was from Buffalo. His nearest known relative is a nephew employed as a gauger in McKean county.

NEW JURY AT WORK.

Judge Instructs the Members to Go Deeper Into St. Louis Bribery Scandal.

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—The June grand jury was sworn in today and instructed by Judge O'Neill Ryan. The judge said: "The report of the April grand jury confirms and emphasizes the report of the two preceding grand juries touching the extent to which public servants have gone in their wicked and flagrant betrayal of their trust. It is your duty to continue and finish, if possible, the investigation."

Frederick W. Zeigenhein, son of the former mayor, appeared today. His bond was increased to $25,000, being $5,000 on each count in the indictment against him for bribery and extortion.

BUSINESS ON THE HUMP.

The Equitable Life Agency 33 Per Cent Ahead Since Its Removal.

The last two months have been the most successful in the history of the Pittsburgh agency of the Equitable Life Assurance society. Since the removal to the Frick building on April 1, the agency has written and forwarded to the home office in New York policies aggregating $2,976,800—33 per cent more than was ever written before in a corresponding period.

Manager Edward A. Woods makes his business and that of his agents a professional one, making the feature not simply to sell assurance—but to sell the particular kind of assurance that best meets the needs of the buyer.

The Equitable issues some 300 different forms of contracts—each designed to meet a particular need, and the success of the Pittsburgh agency has come, largely through the ability of its representatives to advise prospective clients as to the particular form of policy that best meets their individual requirements.

FILTRATION EMPLOYES TO RECEIVE PAY UNDER NEW GUISE.

Names Presented to Controller Larkin in the List of Those Employed Under Director McCandless in the Bureau of Construction—Siebert May Sue City.

Resident Engineer Morris Knowles and the other engineers and employes that are working on the filtration site, making plans, etc., will receive their pay for May. Controller John B. Larkin is satisfied. Director J. Guy McCandless is delighted. The exuberance of the employes is even more marked. Meanwhile, the preparation of the plans for contracts No. 4 and No. 5 is going on, and the filtration fund is not getting smaller. In his order concerning filtration expenditure, Controller Larkin said that he would not allow any more expenditure from the filtration fund. The pay of the employes is not coming out of that fund.

Director J. Guy McCandless yesterday sent the names of the filtration employes to the controller on the bureau of construction payroll. Their pay, consequently comes out of the bureau of construction appropriation, which is also said to be short. Morris Knowles, and the names of eight others went in on this payroll, although they are not doing any work in the bureau of construction. Warrants are being issued to these men, and they will get their pay as though nothing had happened.

Up to Director McCandless.

"My order was confined to expenditures from the filtration fund," said Controller Larkin yesterday after learning what had been done. "These men, I understand, are on the payroll of the bureau of construction. Their pay, consequently, will come out of the appropriation for the bureau of construction. None of this comes out of the filtration fund, and that fund is still inviolate. Director McCandless has a right to do this, and I cannot object to it. The appropriation for the bureau of construction is short, and this will make it even worse. But if the director wants to take chances on this appropriation being exhausted before the close of the year, that is his lookout."

When asked about the shifting of the employes, Director McCandless said: "Yes, I placed the filtration employes on the payroll of the bureau of construction, and their pay will, therefore, be charged against the appropriation for the bureau of construction. If the appropriation for this bureau is exhausted before the next appropriation ordinance is passed, I can do as others do, and ask councils to make a transfer from some other fund. There are only seven or eight men working on the filtration plans now, including Mr. Knowles.

Grew Frightened and Quit.

"At the time that Controller Larkin directed the stoppage of expenditures from the filtration fund a number of the best employes in the filtration work became frightened and quit. I transferred six men to the bureau of construction, and they have been working about the city, as do the other employes of that bureau. Their work was done as far as filtration was concerned. Work has been going slowly on these plans, and we shall keep them steadily going until the plans are completed. I am sorry we have not more men."

Superintendent William Falconer of the bureau of parks turned the payroll for his bureau in to the controller yesterday afternoon. On the payroll is the name of Elmer E. Siebert, superintendent of Highland park. A month ago, Controller Larkin notified Director McCandless that he had stricken Siebert from the payroll. McCandless kept him at work, however, and his name now goes in again on the payroll. Siebert will not get a warrant, however. He is not in the city employ, so far as Controller Larkin is concerned. It is said to be Mr. Seibert's intention to sue the city for the amount of his salary.

CITIZENS WILL NAME DALZELL FOR CONGRESS

There Never Has Been Any Intention of Opposing Him.

MUEHLBRONNER'S FIGHT

John M. Goehring Will Run Against Him for Seat in State Senate—A McAfee Appointee on Citizens Legislative Ticket.

Congressman John Dalzell will be nominated by the Citizens party for congress in the Thirtieth district. Dr. Cadwallader Evans, provisional chairman of the Citizens county organization, stated yesterday that the Citizens would nominate Congressman Dalzell whether the Republican organization does or not.

"The Citizens never had any intention of putting up a candidate against Congressman Dalzell, and all statements to that effect have been without foundation," said Dr. Evans.

Chairman Evans said that Congressman Dalzell would be put on the Citizens ticket by the county committee of 32, which is to be elected today by the various legislative district conventions. The committee will also nominate the county, legislative and other congressional candidates.

It has been settled that Joseph H. May of Allegheny will get the nomination for sheriff on the Citizens ticket if he wants it. Mr. May's friends are satisfied that he can be induced to take the nomination.

The Citizens have also determined to run Attorney John M. Goehring, president of Allegheny common council, for the state senate against Charles A. Muehlbronner. Mr. Goehring resides in the Eleventh ward, Allegheny, and has been a member of Allegheny councils for years.

A McAfee Man May Run.

John Francis, clerk of the Allegheny market, is spoken of as a probable candidate on the Citizens ticket for the legislature in the Second district. Mr. Francis is an appointee of Director McAfee of the department of public works. He has been a prominent figure in a number of local contests in Allegheny.

Legislative district conventions to elect members of the Citizens county central committee of 32 will be held throughout the county this afternoon and evening at the time and places scheduled. Altogether there will be 580 election precincts represented by as many delegates at the conventions in the eight legislative districts, divided as follows:

First district, 40 delegates; Second, 46 delegates; Third, 48; Fourth, 20; Fifth, 164; Sixth, 112; Seventh, 70; Eighth, 80.

The largest convention will be the Fifth district to be held in common council chamber, Pittsburgh. Eight members of the county committee will be elected at this convention. Among those reasonably certain to be elected in the Fifth district are Thomas S. Bigelow, Dr. Cadwallader Evans, C. S. Crawford, J. J. Booth, J. C. Reitz, Harry Moore, W. S. Haynes. In the Third district, William Hayes, William McEldowney and L. S. Levine will probably be named.

Members of Committee.

In the Eighth district, James Evans, of McKeesport, and J. G. Messner, of Wilkinsburg, will be chosen. N. G. Ayres will be one of the members elected from the Seventh legislative district.

In Allegheny the members of the county committee will be elected as follows: First legislative district—E. L. Braun, G. B. Mendel, Joseph Gilchrist, William Mannings. Second district—Dr. S. S. Woodburn, Thomas McHenry, John H. Trimble and David B. Oliver.

The county committee will meet this week to organize. Some nominations may be made this week by the Citizens committee in advance of the Republican county convention. The first work to be done by the county committee, stated Dr. Evans yesterday, will be to map out a plan of campaign and appoint a sub-committee to confer with a committee from the Democrats and arrange fusion. The Democrats have a committee of 15 and a sub-committee of the committee of 15 will be appointed to confer with the Citizens.

Thinks Fusions Will Go.

Dr. Evans said that he believed that the Citizens and Democrats would have no trouble in agreeing upon a fusion ticket.

Vincent Stevens of the Twentieth ward has resigned the position of city gauger, held by him for upward of 20 years, and Harry W. Lowe has been appointed by Recorder Brown to succeed him. Recorder Brown stated when he announced Lowe's appointment that Stevens had resigned a month ago, but Mr. Stevens refused to confirm this statement yesterday when asked about it. He said that he might have something to say later.

James Francis Burke will have no opposition for the Republican nomination for congress in the downtown district. Mr. Burke was in conference yesterday with Recorder Brown and several other old organization leaders. Major A. P. Burchfield will oppose Mr. Burke on the Citizens ticket.

HEALTHY MAY SURPLUS.

Though Receipts Fell Off, Uncle Sam Is $10,762,652 on Right Side.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—The monthly comparative statement of government receipts and expenditures shows that the total receipts for May, 1902, were $45,509,449, as against $52,629,440 for May, 1901. The expenditures for last month were $38,746,797, leaving a surplus for the month of $10,762,652.

The monthly statement of the national bank note circulation shows that at the close of business May 31, the total circulation of national bank notes was $356,747,184, an increase for the year of $5,164,594, and a decrease for the month of $240,215. The circulation based on United States bonds amounted to $313,609,837, a decrease for the year of $9,928,380 and a decrease for the month of $1,503,555. The circulation secured by lawful money aggregated $43,137,347, an increase for the year of $15,092,974 and an increase for the month of $1,263,340.

Postal Card Maker Gets Two Years.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Louis Smith, who ran an establishment for making bogus postal cards that was the largest rival to the government printing office ever discovered, and who put millions of his counterfeit cards on the market, was sentenced today to two years in the penitentiary.

Verdict for $47,000.00.

The jury in the case of Philip Hiss Company brought in a verdict for the Philip Hiss Company of $47,000.00, being the full amount of the bill, except $1,279.54, allowed for repairs. This is the second trial of this case, the former verdict being $44,144.00. The work of the Hiss company was attacked by rival decorators who sought to injure Mr. Philip Hiss with the people of Pittsburgh. Mr. Hiss' friends can certainly consider this allowance of his bill, practically in full, by two juries, as a complete vindication of his reputation and work. The matter at issue was more this reputation and work than the amount of the bill. In the spring of 1899 Mr. Hiss made five contracts in writing for some work in this house. The contracts were definite as to the work to be done and the price to be paid. There was no open order, but certainty as to work and price. At the trial some decorators appeared and testified that Mr. Hiss' work was not artistic and workmanlike. This raised the question of expert skill, etc. A large number of artists and furnishers were called by Mr. Hiss, among them John La Farge, the celebrated mural painter, and a mass of testimony was given, commending Mr. Hiss' work as an example of fine work and excellent taste. The verdicts have established this question to the satisfaction of all persons who have heard the testimony. Mr. Philip Hiss and his partner, Mr. H. Hobart Weeks, have lately been awarded the contract for the building, fitting and furnishing entire of a 19-story hotel to be built in Fifth avenue, New York, next the University club. This hotel will be the finest of its kind—an apartment hotel—in New York, and will be particularly noted for the effort to be made in the interior arrangement, fitting, decorating and finishing in the line of work designed to produce homelike apartments, this being Mr. Hiss' specialty.

C. W. Bassett Head of B. & O's Eastern Lines

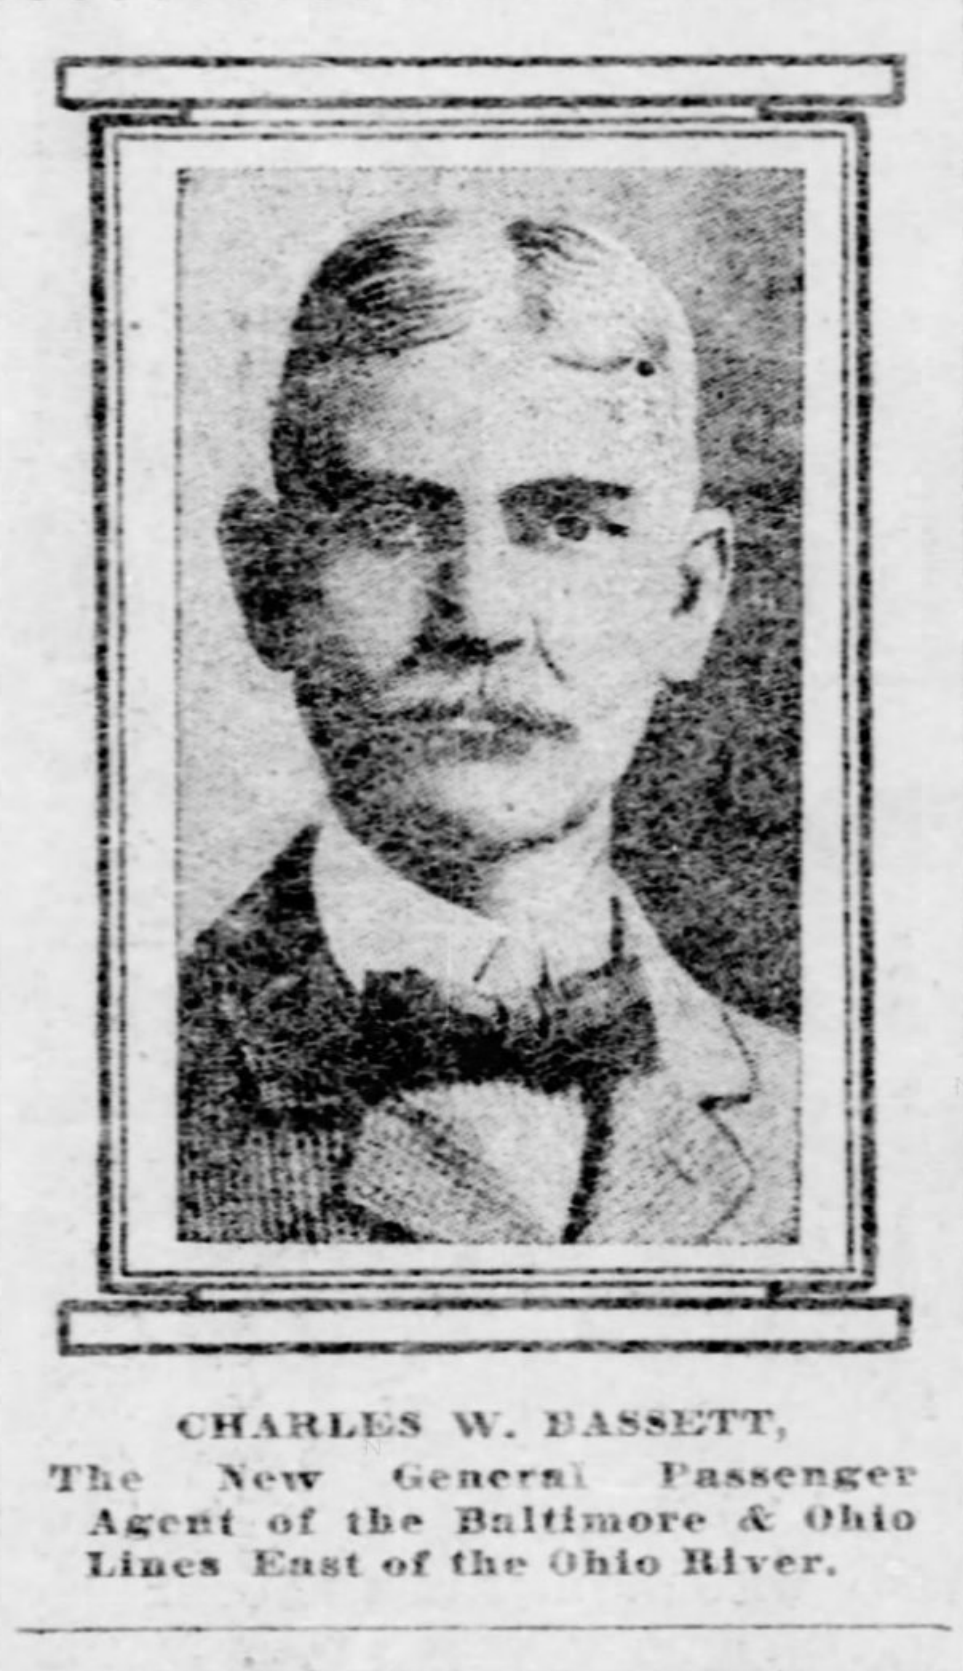
WILL HAVE CHARGE EAST OF OHIO RIVER

Well-Known Pittsburgh Passenger Official Will Go to Baltimore as General Passenger Agent.

Official announcement was made yesterday by D. B. Martin, passenger traffic manager of the Baltimore & Ohio, of the appointment of Charles W. Bassett, general passenger agent of the Pittsburgh & Western, to the position of general passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio lines east of the Ohio river. The appointment is effective June 1. Mr. Bassett's headquarters will be in Baltimore. The position has been vacant since the death of J. M. Schryver. The position of general agent of the Pittsburgh & Western lines will lapse, owing to the absorption of those lines into the Baltimore & Ohio system. The authority of General Passenger Agent B. N. Austin will extend over the old Pittsburgh & Western.

The promotion of no passenger man in Pittsburgh could be received with more pleasure than this one. Mr. Bassett's acquaintance, especially in Pittsburgh and the cities west, is very large, and the number of close personal friends he can claim is unusually great. While it is regretted that the promotion necessitates his removal from Pittsburgh, it is accepted as necessary in the plan of organization of the system. Mr. Bassett will not leave Pittsburgh for several days yet. A meeting of the passenger traffic officials of the system will be held here tomorrow and Thursday to confer on the further changes in that department. It is not known yet precisely what these changes will be, but the assurance is given that length of service on the system will be a strong recommendation in the reorganization. The company earnestly desires that a feeling of loyalty should grow up in all departments.

The new general passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio east was born May 25, 1854, and entered the railway service at the age of 16. His first two years were spent at Youngstown as telegraph operator on the old Atlantic & Great Western, now a part of the Erie. He still likes to use the key occasionally, and is an unusually good operator. From 1872 to 1874 he was manager of the Western Union telegraph office at Niles, O. From 1874 to 1884 he was the city passenger and ticket agent of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio, now the Erie, at Youngstown. From 1876 to 1884 he was also the ticket agent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie at that city, and bears the distinction of being one of the original employes of what is now "The Little Giant." From June 1 to August 1, 1884, he was general passenger and ticket agent of the Pittsburgh, Cleveland & Toledo railroad. On the latter date he became assistant general passenger and ticket agent of the Pittsburgh & Western. He was advanced on January 1 to the position of general passenger agent of the road. This title he has held until now.



CHARLES W. BASSETT,
The New General Passenger Agent of the Baltimore & Ohio Lines East of the Ohio River.

Mr. Bassett's home is at Sewickley. He will be a frequent visitor to Pittsburgh all summer, as he does not expect to move his family to Baltimore until fall.

Southern Roads Reject "Per Diem."

The sessions of about 100 prominent transportation and car accountant officials of American railroads, which were held in Cincinnati the last of the week, brought to completion the details to be considered in the adoption of the "per diem" system of car-charges. The main object of the meeting was to agree upon uniform methods of applying the general rules adopted by the American Railway association and since that time by the majority of the railroads. There have been protests from several New England lines, but so far as known, they will not refuse to adopt the new system on July 1, when it goes into effect. Several southern roads, however, have flatly refused to agree. These lines include the Louisville & Nashville and the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis. They will adhere to the present plan of charging six mills a mile for the use of cars.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Col. T. E. Watt, district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, is absent on a business trip in the Cumberland valley.

G. E. Eustis, general western agent of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, with headquarters at Chicago, was in the city yesterday.

The Rock Island is said to have decided to absorb the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern, in which it already owns a majority of the stock.

A. B. Todd, formerly with the mechanical department of the Pennsylvania lines west, has been appointed master mechanic of the Santa Fe at Winslow, succeeding S. T. Park.

A BIG PROMOTION FOR L. S. M'CLELLAN

Popular Wabash Passenger Man Made General Western Passenger Agent.

Word was received yesterday by Assistant General Passenger Agent F. H. Tristram of the Wabash that L. S. McClellan, district passenger agent of the same road at St. Louis, has been appointed general western passenger agent of the Wabash, with headquarters at Kansas City, effective June 1. Mr. McClellan is very well known here, as his old home is at Greensburg and he has been a frequent visitor to Pittsburgh. He spent two days here about a week ago.

Nearly all of Mr. McClellan's railroad service has been with the Wabash. His advance is a good illustration of the faithfulness with which the civil service system of the road is maintained. He started with the New York passenger offices of the road as clerk in 1881. He rose to city passenger agent, traveling passenger agent and finally to southeastern passenger agent with headquarters there. This last position he retained until 1894, when he was sent to Louisville, Ky., as district passenger agent, with an increased territory. In 1896 he was transferred to St. Louis with the same title. This position he resigns to go to Kansas City.

The appointment is considered an excellent one and well deserved. The appreciation of worth by General Passenger Agent C. S. Crane is one of the most influential factors in building up a passenger department so strong as that of the Wabash.

E. H. Ernhardt Retires.

E. H. Ernhardt, one of the best-known baggagemasters in the service of the Pennsylvania railroad, retired yesterday under the pension system. He has reached the age of 70 years, after 40 years of continuous service with the Pennsylvania. For several years Mr. Ernhardt has been baggagemaster of the Pennsylvania limited, his run being between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. His earlier work was in various capacities in the train service. His railroad acquaintance comprises most of the men in the train service of the road between the two cities. His home is in Philadelphia. H. H. Mengiss, who has been baggagemaster on trains Nos. 12 and 21, between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, will succeed Mr. Ernhardt on the limited.

The Pennsylvania's Earnings.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company's comparisons earnings and expenses for the month of April, 1902, with the same period of 1901, is as follows: Pennsylvania railroad—lines directly operated—Gross earnings, increase $957,300; expenses, increase $625,800; net earnings, increase $333,500. Lines west of Pittsburgh and Erie, directly operated: Gross earnings, increase $667,600; expenses, increase $512,400; net earnings, increase $155,200.

THE PRESIDENT LABORING WITH RECALCITRANTS

Urgent in His Desire for Cuban Reciprocity and Isthmian Canal.

HE SEES BEET SUGAR MEN

Tries to Win Them Over to the Cause of Tariff Concessions to the New Republic—They Still Stand Out for No Favor but Rebate.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.

President Roosevelt believes congress ought not to adjourn without enacting legislation for reciprocity with Cuba and for an isthmian canal. The president considers these two subjects of equal importance with Philippine legislation.

He expressed himself along these lines in a conference today with Senators, Kittridge, Gamble, Nelson and Foster. It is understood that another conference will be held soon with Republican senators, and the president from now on will personally urge, when opportunity offers, that congress be not adjourned without passing upon these measures.

The president assured these Republicans that in urging action on reciprocity he was carrying out the announcement of President McKinley, uttered in his last speech, which met with such popular approval throughout the country, and also the promises that had been made concerning concessions to Cuba.

The president indicated that the adoption of the Platt amendment makes it obligatory upon the United States to treat Cuba differently from other nations. In one casual remark he said events may show that it would have been better to allow Cuba to be absolutely independent, as was Mexico.

Political Reason for Harmony.

He told these Republican senators the party ought not to be divided on tariff issues, as it is entering the campaign, and he expressed the hope that a Cuban bill would be passed without the aid of Democratic votes.

One result of the conferences at the White House was a meeting this afternoon in the committee room of Senator Elkins, where those senators who are opposed to granting concessions to Cuba, or who oppose the straight reduction plan of the majority, assembled to consider different propositions.

Senator Dietrich of Nebraska presented a compromise plan which meets with some favor. It proposes to grant a reduction of 20 per cent on Cuban products for five years in exchange for similar concession on products of the United States going into Cuba, with a proviso that the president may at any time cancel the reduction if it is found that the benefit of the reduction is going to others than to the planters and sugar growers.

Another part of the plan is to remove the differential on refined sugar and add it to all raw sugars except those coming from Cuba. This provision, it is claimed, will protect the beet sugar interests.

Only a Rebate Offered.

It was developed that the senators in the conference were opposed to any tariff changes, especially of the piecemeal character; but that if any changes are to be made, they thought the whole tariff should be revised. It was determined that the utmost concession to be granted should be in the way of a rebate.

The conference selected Senators Burrows, Jones of Nevada and Dietrich to confer with members of the committee on relations with Cuba and inform them of the attitude of the senators who participated in the conference.

There is excellent authority for the statement that the president would assent to a cut of 20 per cent in duties on Cuban goods rather than see no legislation in the way of reciprocity. That figure, however, is the lowest one he thinks ought to be fixed by congress.

As to canal legislation the president would reluctantly consent to assume the responsibility imposed on him by the Spooner amendment of selecting the route. He would rather not see this amendment become law. Senator Spooner saw the president today and understands the chief executive's view in the matter.

The senate began to debate on the Philippine government bill today under the 15-minute rule. Mr. Mason in a vigorous speech urged that no reason exists for according to Filipinos a treatment different from that accorded to the Cubans. He said he would not have voted for the Paris treaty, but for the open understanding among senators that the Filipinos are to be given their independence as soon as they are ready for it.

SCHOOL SITE HAS BEEN OPTIONED

MRS. MARY SCHENLEY HAS NAMED HER PRICE FOR PROPERTY.

Lower Than Private Purchasers Could Get, and She Stipulates That It Be Used for Park or Educational Purposes. Carnegie Knows of It.

City Recorder J. O. Brown is endeavoring to make arrangements for a meeting with the committee on plan and scope of the polytechnic school to consider the options which City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan brought from Mrs. Mary E. Schenley at London. Mr. Carnahan arrived in the city yesterday after a visit to Mrs. Schenley and brought with him two written options to two tracts of land opposite the Hotel Schenley, above Bayard street, one of 31 acres and the other of 52 acres. Recorder Brown said he thought arrangements would be made today. Robert Pitcairn, who is on the committee, will leave soon for Europe, and wants the matter settled before he leaves. There are two ways in which the city can get this property: By a bond issue or by placing the amount in the appropriation bill and getting it by direct taxation. The city has not enough money to buy the land.

The tract of 31 acres is bounded on the south by Bayard street, on the west by Bouquet and Alliquippa streets, on the north by Alliquippa street and Center avenue, on the east by an imaginary line extending at right angles from Center avenue, which line if extended would strike St. Pierre street.

Other Land to Eastward.

The additional 21 acres, which, added to the first tract makes the 52-acre tract, lies to the eastward of this imaginary line, runs to Center avenue on the north, and the other side of the triangle which it forms is Grant boulevard. The city has only $360,000 to spend for a polytechnic school site, and this amount will not buy either piece, although Mr. Carnahan declined to make public the prices demanded by Mrs. Schenley. The city wants either the 31 acres or the 52 acres. The 21 acres without the first tract would not be wanted.

"I did not go to Europe purposely to see Mrs. Schenley," explained Mr. Carnahan upon his arrival in the city yesterday. "I contemplated a trip to England, and when it came time to go Recorder J. O. Brown and some others connected with the board of trustees of Carnegie institute asked me to see Mrs. Schenley. I was not asked to get Mrs. Schenley to donate the land, nor would I have asked her even had they requested it. I think Mrs. Schenley has given the city of Pittsburgh enough. She has made a lower price to the city than she would name to private purchasers.

Options Were Secured.

"She gave me written options on the 31 acres and on the 52 acres. The 31-acre piece might be enough. I did what I was asked to, and I have turned the options over to Recorder Brown. He will take the matter up with the committee on plan and scope. The city has not enough money to buy either piece. Some way will have to be devised to raise money. Mrs. Schenley is willing to sell to the city at as low a price as possible.

"I did not go to Skibo castle, as was said. Andrew Carnegie was on the steamer on which I was a passenger, and I met him several times. I told him that I expected to see Mrs. Schenley, and what my business with her was. I also met him after I had seen Mrs. Schenley, and he is now as well informed on the matter as I am. Whatever action the city may now take depends upon the officials. Mrs. Schenley stipulates that if the city buys the land it must be used for educational or a park purpose."

It is understood that the committee on plan and scope would be satisfied with the tract containing the 31 acres. Solicitor Carnahan and Recorder Brown will take the matter up with this committee and their decision will form the basis for a communication to councils from Recorder Brown stating the case and asking councils to take some action that this land may be purchased and put into operation Mr. Carnegie's splendid gift.

Curing Pittsburgh Backs

That's what the little conqueror of Kidney ills is doing—
Making Pittsburgh backs strong and well—taking out the ache—
removing the always tired feeling—
helping men and women to do their work better—
Backache causes a lot of suffering in the world—
Yet it's not backache — but Kidney ache that is the root of the trouble—
Bad backs are caused by sick Kidneys—
And sick Kidneys are made well by

Doan's Kidney Pills

There's proof of it here in Pittsburgh and every other city in this broad land of ours.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a never failing cure for backache, lame back, urinary troubles, diabetes — Every form of Kidney disease—except the late stages of Bright's Disease — Nothing will cure that—

Read this statement from a Pittsburgh man—

"Two years ago, while camping out during a rainy spell, I caught a severe cold, which settled in my back. For four days and a half I sat in a camp chair, all doubled up. Any attempt to straighten up brought the most intense pain. A country physician who was called administered morphia, and with the help of my friends I succeeded in getting home. Mrs. Joachim knew of the value of Doan's Kidney Pills, and got me a box at Fleming's drug store. The first box brought relief, but not cure. I continued using the pills, however, until within a couple of months I was as well and strong as ever. My whole system seemed to be strengthened and helped. I have had one slight attack of the trouble since, but a few doses of the pills fixed me all right in a remarkably short time. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate this wonderful remedy. WINFIELD JOACHIM,
"419 Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale at all drug stores—50c a box.

AUTO HITS STREET CAR.

Four Persons Are Injured, Two of Whom Will Probably Die.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Four persons have been severely injured—two of them fatally, it is feared—in a crash at Rockaway beach between an automobile and a trolley car.

The injured are:

WILLIAM COLLARD of Manhattan, legs and arms lacerated.

A. GILMORE, of Manhattan, cut on head, face and hands.

MRS. A. GILMORE of Manhattan, internal injuries; small chance of recovery.

DOROTHY STRASSMAN, 8 years old of Manhattan, head crushed.

All of the injured were in the automobile party, which was piloted by Mr. Gilmore. The auto, moving at a high rate of speed, struck a trolley car at the Long Island railroad crossing at Wainright place. All in the car escaped serious injury.

Latrobe Doctor Rewarded After Many Years; Health Officer Assaulted at Funeral Fight

REWARDED BY A STRANGER

A Latrobe Doctor Gets $1,000 Diamond for Kindness of 14 Years Ago.

CARED FOR UNKNOWN MAN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LATROBE, PA., June 2.—Dr. Joseph E. Peebles of this place today received a $1,000 diamond from Alfred Eastman of Baltimore, as a remembrance for kindness and medical attention given to Eastman when he was here, ill and among strangers, about 14 years ago.

At that time Eastman, in a feeble condition, asked for cheap lodging at a hotel in Youngstown, near here. His request was granted and the landlord called in Dr. Peeebles, who roomed in the hotel. He gave the patient careful attention, for he was suffering from a serious case of black diphtheria.

In six weeks the young man was sufficiently cured to continue his journey to his home in Baltimore. Having but two dimes, he knew not how he was to make the trip. The doctor lent him $25 and stated that the money could be returned when Eastman could afford it. Nothing was heard of the young man until two months ago, when he appeared at Dr. Peeples' office to pay his bill. The doctor told him it would be but $25, the amount of the loan. The visitor left $200 on the desk and disappeared.

Two days ago, an agent visited Dr. Peebles from Tiffany's jewelry house in New York, exhibiting a case of diamonds asking the doctor to choose a jewel to be the gift of the young man whom he had cured of diphtheria. A beautiful stone was selected, which the agent valued at $1,000 and today it was received, handsomely set, and containing the inscription, "From A. E. to Dr. J. E. Peebles."

It now appears that young Eastman was engaged on the survey of the Beech Creek railroad, running through Latrobe to the south when he became ill. After he left here he visited the Arizona gold fields and made a rich find.

HEAVY FREIGHT TRAFFIC.

New Record Is Made on the Middle Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 2.—(Special.)—The freight movement over the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad for May was 176,465 cars, or next to the greatest movement in the history of the division. The greatest record was in October, 1901, when 183,826 cars were moved over the division, which extends from Harrisburg to Altoona.

The record was broken last month for tonnage, when the increased capacity of the cars and trains is considered. The checks of the trainmen of the division for the month will be greatly increased as a result of this stupendous movement.

WANT STRIKERS ENJOINED.

Coal Operators Appeal to Court for Protection of Miners.

BLAIRSVILLE, PA., June 2.—The efforts to promote a strike among the miners in this district have resulted in an application to the courts for an injunction to restrain the leaders from interfering with the men at work. The suit is against Patrick Dolan and others who have taken a leading part in the strike movement. A rule was granted to show cause why an injunction should not issue and is made returnable next Saturday.

All the mines are in operation today with diminished forces, but less than one-half of the regular men quit work.

Found Dead in a Well.

BEDFORD, PA., June 2.—(Special.)—William Garber, ex-postmaster of Buena Vista, was found dead in a well this afternoon. It is supposed that he was dipping water from the well, which was nearly full, and lost his balance. He was 50 years of age.

County Official in Jail.

LISBON, O., June 2.—(Special.)—Infirmary Director W. A. Tarr is in jail for drunkenness and wife beating. This is his third arrest for the same offence since his renomination. The Republican executive committee, it is said, will remove him from the ticket.

ELKS ENTERING THE CITY BY HUNDREDS

All Is Now in Readiness for the Parade and Dedication Exercises Today.

Everything is in readiness for the dedication of the Elks' club house at Fifth avenue and Jumonville street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Visiting Elks from all over the country began pouring into Pittsburgh last night. A special train from Sistersville, W. Va., brought about 150. Members of other lodges from nearby towns came in during the night. It is estimated that almost 3,000 members of the order from towns within a radius of 500 miles will be in attendance this afternoon and many will remain for the concluding function of the affair, a grand ball and banquet, to be held in the club house tonight.

It was announced last night that Grand Secretary George A. Reynolds of Saginaw, Mich., Grand Trustee Harry R. Miers of Baltimore and Grand Exalted Ruler and District Deputy Harry T. Howe, of Monongahela, Pa., will make addresses at the dedicatory exercises.

The parade preceding the dedication will form in Water street, right resting in Smithfield street, and proceed along Smithfield street to Seventh avenue, to Liberty street, to Ninth street, to Anderson street, Allegheny, to Church avenue, to Cedar avenue, to Ohio street, to Federal street, down Federal street to Sixth street, Pittsburgh. To Liberty street, to Fifth avenue, to Jumonville street, to Forbes street, to Stevenson street, where it will pass in review.

Quick Colds

A draught, a quick cold; Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, a quick cure. Get well before you have to think of weak lungs, bronchitis, pleurisy, pneumonia. Ask your doctor what he thinks of this advice. If he has better, follow it. If not, follow ours.

"I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral the best all-round remedy for la grippe, bronchitis, and other lung troubles that I have ever used. It has benefited or cured in every instance."

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Many of them were young lawyers, but there was quite a sprinkling of aged attorneys anxious to avoid the ordeal of passing an examination.

Among those admitted were W. Justin Carter of Harrisburg and W. H. Sadler of Reading, both colored, the first negroes that have ever practiced at the supreme court bar.

FIGHT OCCURS AT A FUNERAL

Health Officer Claims Sons of Deceased Knocked Him Down.

DEMANDED BURIAL PERMIT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALLIANCE O., June 2.—A sensation was created at Berlin Center Sunday afternoon during the funeral of George Carson. The deceased for 50 years was justice of the peace. A large crowd assembled to witness the services. As the casket was being taken from the hearse a clash occurred between three sons of the deceased and Health Officer William T. Hawkins. The latter is nearly 50 years of age.

According to Hawkins' story the sexton notified the relatives several hours prior to the funeral that they must procure a permit from the village board of health before he could allow the remains to be interred. This the relatives failed to do, so that when the hearse arrived at the open grave, Mr. Hawkins quietly told the undertaker that it would be necessary to get the legal permit.

While in conversation with the undertaker, Hawkins claims that Dr. W. F. Carson, Elmer Carson and David Carson struck him and knocked him down. Elmer Carson does not deny that he struck Hawkins, but says Hawkins first struck Dr. Carson.

The undertaker assured the health officer that the permit would be secured, and with this understanding the burial was allowed to be made. The undertaker had in his possession a physician's certificate issued by Dr. Carson and tendered it, but the law requires a certificate from the board of health where the death occurred. Mr. Hawkins was in this city today getting legal advice and expects to take the matter into court.

A Youthful Highwayman.

LISBON, O., June 2.—(Special.)—Louis Hawkins, 13 years old, of East Rochester, is in jail charged with robbery. At the point of a revolver, it is claimed, he compelled a neighbor lad to give over all the money he had, 25 cents. The boy is also accused of robbing his grandmother's house.

League Games Today.

Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Boston.
Chicago at New York.
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.

The champion Pirates are off on their first eastern trip of the season. The team, headed by President Dreyfuss and Manager Clarke, left at 6:30 last evening in a special car over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and will play their first game at Philadelphia today. From that city the team journeys to New York, Brooklyn and Boston in succession, and return home to meet St. Louis in a regularly scheduled game on June 18.

The following 15 players went east: Clarke, Davis, Beaumont, Wagner, Bransfield, Ritchey, Leach, O'Connor, Smith, Tannehill, Poole, Chesbro, Phillippe Doheny and Conroy. The players left at home are Pitcher Leever, suffering from a very sore arm; Burke, the utility infielder, and Chief Zimmer. It was intended that Zimmer should be one of the party, but at the last moment the chief got word from Cleveland that his wife, who is just recovering from an attack of appendicitis, has been taken with gastric fever, and is in a dangerous condition.

Smith Is on the Hospital List.

Catcher Smith, who took Zimmer's place with the tourists, may not be able to get into the game for a week or more, as he is suffering from a painful cut in the groin. This injury was inflicted by Shortstop Tinker of the Chicago team in the seventh inning of the first game on Memorial Day. Smith slid into second, and Tinker, in an effort to block him off the base, planted his spikes in such a way as to leave a cut six inches long and very deep. The injury has been so painful that Smith has been unable to sleep.

The champions are traveling in style. When the players appeared at the Baltimore & Ohio station each one wore a $20 Panama hat, gifts from "a friend of the team." The friend is more than likely President Dreyfuss. The hats were becoming, but Tommy Leach looked lost under the wide brim of his. Claude Ritchey also presented an odd appearance, while Honus Wagner's best friends would not have known him.

Keeping Out of Bad Company.

When the team reaches Philadelphia the players will find quarters at the swell hotel of the town, the Aldine, where the tax is $7 a day. The Chicago American league team is in Quaker town, stopping at the hotel usually patronized by ball teams, and President Dreyfuss did not care to have his players mixed up with Clarke Griffith, Jimmy Callahan, George Davis and other league contract jumpers. Not that the Pirate president was afraid of his men, but he fears evil company might corrupt good morals.

During the trip the champions will play three exhibition games, at Newark, N. J., on June 8; at Wilmington, Del., on June 18, and on June 17 at Worcester, Mass., the home of Kitty Bransfield. There will be great doings that day, as the Pirate first baseman stands well in politics down that way and has an army of friends who wish to see him and the champion team play ball. There is likely to be a public reception tendered to Kitty and his fellow players, and there will be a presentation or two before the game.

Will Have to Hustle in Boston.

Before starting last evening President Dreyfuss said the team will play 12 games on the trip. He expects to win eight of them, but will be satisfied if seven are victories. Outside of Leever and Smith, the players are in good shape. They have been a bit disheartened, as they have not been hitting the ball as they would like, and this affects the team's work in the field. When the team reaches Boston the players may be obliged to camp out on the playing grounds. There will be a big convention in the city of culture and all the hotel accommodations have been taken in advance.

GIANTS SHAKEN UP.

Doyle Deposed, Smith Made Captain, and Still the Team Lost.

NEW YORK, June 2.—First Baseman Doyle was deposed from his position as captain of the New York team today and Second Baseman George M. Smith of Allegheny, Pa., was appointed captain in his stead. The change, however, did not bring about a cessation of New York's losing streak, for in the game this afternoon Philadelphia easily defeated the home team. Attendance, 2,300. The score:

Grove City Won Both Games.

GROVE CITY, PA., June 2.—(Special.)—The North Washington institute baseball team was defeated twice today by the Grove City Tigers by scores of 9 to 8 and 6 to 5. Both games were close and exciting. In the first Maxwell held the institute down well, but errors back of him proved costly. Pritchard was touched up for 12 hits. In the second game Jackson allowed Grove City only one hit up to the eighth inning, when the locals pounded him for six hits, giving them five runs and the game.

Doctors Will Play.

A hot game of ball is promised at Friendship park this morning at 10 o'clock when the Homewood and Brushton doctors meet the East Liberty physicians in the first game of the series. The rooters will be out in force. The Docs expect to form a league for the summer, composed of teams from above mentioned, with the downtown, Hill, Oakland, Lawrenceville and Allegheny physicians as members. Many of the physicians are old college players of note and they should put up good baseball. No admission will be charged to this morning's game, but it is expected that proceeds of league games will be given to some hospital.

ALLEGHENY BOYS WON.

Had a Hard Battle at Sewickley, But Got the Game.

Allegheny High school, whose reputation on the baseball field this season has been a surprise to the local school teams, had a hard fight with the Sewickley High school team at Sewickley yesterday afternoon. The game was interesting from beginning to end, and was free from wrangling until the ninth inning, when Sewickley contested a decision given by Umpire Burgess. They were pacified, however, and the game finished peaceably. The work of Clayton and Chalfant for Allegheny was very good, while Bartholomew carried off the honor for Sewickley. Both teams played a rather loose fielding game, but the errors did not result in any real damage. Clayton was a puzzler to the Sewickley batters, and this is the principal cause of Sewickley's defeat. The score:

NEW RULES RECOMMENDED.

Allegheny School Controllers Advise Changes for Pupils and Teachers.

The committee on rules and regulations of the Allegheny board of school controllers last night held a meeting to discuss new rules. The rule providing that pupils be admitted to the first primary step only during the months of September, January and April was recommended negatively.

The rule that the quota of pupils required for a high school teacher be 30 instead of 45, as heretofore, was affirmatively recommended and the quota of 30 pupils to a grammar school teacher remains unchanged.

The committee also recommended that new teachers may be nominated by the local boards provisionally and placed on trial, and if successful may be regularly elected.

IN THE FIRST ROUND.

Jack O'Brien Makes Short Work of His Old Antagonist.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—Charlie McKeever was practically knocked out by "Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien tonight in the first round of what was to have been a six-round bout. Five seconds before the gong sounded O'Brien landed a right hook on the point of McKeever's jaw and the latter was carried to his corner. He still had five seconds in which to recover, but when time was called for the second round McKeever was unable to respond. The referee declared it a knockout.

M'CLELLAND HAS SHADE THE BEST OF OLE OLESON

Owing to Interference, the Bout Is Cut Down to Six Rounds.

WAS FAST AND SCIENTIFIC

Chicago Man Has Advantage in Weight, but the Local Boy Shows Himself Fast and Aggressive—The Preliminary a Good One.

Six of the fastest and cleanest rounds ever boxed in Pittsburgh were offered last night at McKees Rocks by Jack McClelland of this city and Ole Oleson of Chicago, the local man having a shade the better of the scientific work, especially in the last round, and giving evidence that the fight would likely have been his if it had gone the full 15 rounds, as announced. The change in program was made on account of the interference of the authorities and the instructions of District Attorney Haymaker to arrest all concerned for the purpose of making a test case.

County Detective Robinson, who had been instructed to arrest the principals after the bout, had made arrangements at the squire's office to have it kept open late so the fight promoters could furnish bond and avoid the rough lodging of the jail. The management announced at the start, however, that but six rounds under the "Philadelphia plan" would be attempted, leaving the decision to the papers and the spectators.

The Bout Was Fast and Clean.

It was stated that this change was made on account of interference by the authorities, and that it was thought Pittsburgh was entitled to as much consideration as the eastern end of the state. The county detective evidently thought so, too, and made no arrests, stating last night that as he saw nothing objectionable he would leave it to District Attorney Haymaker to act further today if he desired to pursue the test case program.

Of the fight itself every minute was fast and scientific, with Oleson having advantage in weigh and McClelland in skill. Oleson weighed about 138 and McClelland about 127. The local man landed the greater number of blows and was plainly in the better condition. He was never distressed and on his record of strength in the later rounds would have been a favorite if the fight had gone farther.

Oleson looked fat and could seldom land his dangerous right uppercut, while his straight left, used repeatedly, never seemed to have much steam back of it. McClelland did not seem to pursue his full advantage in the last round, but it was found afterward that he had split the thumb nail on his left hand. The local man got in some good body blows and hooks to the head, though he often overreached Oleson. Oleson was clever in footwork and ducking, and the fight was as quick and spirited as one could wish.

McClelland Started in Lively.

McClelland had a shade the better of the first. He got in a right to the jaw at the opening after some sparring. He later got in both right and left to body. A very pretty round.

The second was also very fast and a little more even. There was a lively exchange of body blows at the opening while McClelland landed a stiff left to mouth.

McClelland rushed into a clinch at the opening of the third round and Oleson got a good left to jaw. Both were leading and about equally aggressive, while the pace was very fast. McClelland landed a right swing to jaw and missed a right hook, while Oleson got in some good stiff lefts to body.

At the opening of the fourth Oleson led off with some good body blows, which did not seem to trouble the local man, who blocked several hard leads. It was a very even round.

The fifth was the best for the Chicago man. He landed his left straight to the jaw and followed it several times on the body. McClelland ducked several times and showed some fast work. Oleson kept working his straight left and whipped his right across the face several times, but could do no damage. The local man was master of the situation at all times.

The Spectators Were Excited.

McClelland landed some hard ones in the last and got in a good body soak. Oleson turned from him and the crowd was wild with yells of "put him out, Jack," while McClelland was punishing the Chicago man against the stage side. Just then the gong rang.

Harry Brown, the fast amateur 105-pounder, put it all over Bart Conelley in the preliminary, having the First warder fought to a standstill in the second and fourth rounds. The bout was for four rounds and was a lively one all the way.

Determined to Keep the Sabbath.

Mrs. Louise Barker of Carnegie, is going to have the bluest kind of blue Sundays there, if she accomplishes what she says she intends to. Mrs. Barker has a bakery, and was recently fined for selling on Sunday. By a ruling of Burgess Husler, drug stores can sell ice cream and soda water, but bakeries and confectionary stores cannot. Mrs. Barker has entered suit before Squire A. W. McMillan, charging Louis Reichart, a druggist, and O. B. Todd, a restaurant keeper, with violating the Sunday laws, and says that if the Panhandle railroad runs trains, or the Pittsburgh Railways Company runs cars through the borough next Sunday, she will sue them.

Doctors Discuss Consumption.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The American congress of tuberculosis began its third annual meeting here today in joint session with the medico-legal society. The delegates represent medical, legal and scientific bodies of the various states, Canada, Mexico and several of the Central and South American republics.

A Wedding in Wilkinsburg.

The marriage of William Christian Murray and Miss Margaret Pearl Stoner, daughter of D. F. Stoner, both of Wilkinsburg, has been announced to take place on June 11.

MAYA AND MONROE.

Fast Pair of Pace Followers Will Meet—Fine Amateur Events Are Booked.

At the regular Saturday night meet at the Collesseum track in Allegheny the big event will be the 25-mile motor-paced race between Benie Munroe of Memphis, Tenn., and Otto Maya of Erie. Maya has been here since his race with Floyd McFarland on Decoration Day, and will put in the rest of the week training for Saturday night. Benie Munroe comes here from Newark, N. J., after having ridden several races on the eastern circuit, the last ones being on the new track at Atlantic City, where he made some fast time.

The 25-mile race will be run in one heat, and will come after the amateur events of the evening have been disposed of. The one-heat race will likely prove more interesting on this occasion than if it were divided.

The management of the Colesseum has arranged for an exceedingly interesting amateur event for the Saturday night meet. This race will be for a one-half mile and will be open only to those who have not won a race up to the present time on the Colesseum track. The other amateur event will be a one-mile handicap which will be open to all riders. The field for both of these races promises to be large. The entries for the amateur events will close promptly at 6 o'clock Thursday evening, and no names will be received after that time.

RIVER INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., June 2.—River at 6 p. m., 13.7 feet and falling. Weather clear and warm. The Enterprise, the flagship of the Pittsburgh coal fleet, arrived at 1 p. m. today. This will be the Enterprise's last trip, as when she returns to Pittsburgh she will be dismantled and another boat which will bear the same name will be built in the Enterprise's place. The boat was built in 1873 and counted as one of the most fortunate boats on the river. Twenty barges were brought in by the Enterprise. The Relief, with 20 pieces, and the Crusier also arrived. Capt. Paul McLaughlin, secretary of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, went up on a packet to meet the boats to give them instructions. Both boats will go to Louisville with their tows. The W. W. O'Neill will lay up here several weeks for repairs. The Harry Brown laid over here several hours while being repaired, then left fo Pittsburgh with a tow of empties. The Robert P. Gilham passed up at 4:30 with a tow of empties from Louisville bound for the Kanawha. The J. B. Lewis broke some of her machinery at Procterville on her way down from the Kanawha with a tow. The Val. FUNERAL OF CAPT. ROBISON.

Many Friends Gather to Pay Tribute to the Dead.

The funeral of Capt. Robert Brauff Robison took place yesterday from his late residence, Green Lawn, at Hazelwood, and was largely attended by local boat owners and rivermen. There were few men identified with the rivers that commanded greater respect than Capt. Robison. The house was crowded with friends.

The Rev. Dr. C. V. Wilson of the Ames church, Hazelwood; the Rev. W. C. Mansell, of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Greensburg, and the Rev. John Gaston of the Presbyterian church, Hazelwood, officiated. A quartet sang "Lead, Kindly Light," "Rock of Ages," and "It Is Not Death to Die." Many of the members of Harbor No. 25 of the American Association of Masters and Pilots of Pittsburgh attended in a body. The floral emblems were both numerous and handsome. The services were in charge of St. John's lodge F. & A. M., of which the deceased was a member. Eight members of the order acted as pall bearers. The interment took place in Uniondale cemetery.

News of the Rivers.

There is some talk of placing a new line of steamers between Cincinnati and Louisville.

It is said that the rates of insurance on steamboats burning oil has been increased 1 per cent.

Capt. D. A. Wilkins of California, Pa., was in Pittsburgh yesterday. Capt. Wilkins is one of the old time mariners.

There are no lumps at the trap at Sewickley, the towboat Tornado having leveled them down by using a scraper.

The towboat R. L. Aubrey will soon have new boilers. The work of taking off her old ones was begun yesterday.

The towboat H. P. Dilworth is laid up at Rices landing. The Dilworth Coal Company is getting ready to open its mines.

The steamer Keystone State, leaving last night for Cincinnati, did not have a heavy freight shipment, but had a large number of passengers.

In the cargo of the City of Cincinnati delivered Saturday at Louisville, was 16,000 pounds of wool from Petersburg for a Louisville firm.

There is to be another launch at Howards shipyard this afternoon, a large sternwheeler for the St. Louis & Tennessee River Packet Company to make the slide.

The steamers McDougall and Red River had narrow escapes from being burned while the John K. Speed was burning at the New Orleans wharf, as they were both lying near the burning steamer.

Major Thomas McGowan, who for 47 years was in the employ of the old Monongahela Navigation Company, dropped dead at his home at Lock No. 4 yesterday morning. He had been in failing health for some time.

Capt. Samuel Coffin, agent for the marine underwriters at Cincinnati, is still in Pittsburgh making an examination of steam vessels. Capt. Coffin says that the rate on towboats is now 5 per cent and 6½ per cent on packets.

The towboat Fred Wilson is at Lashell's landing, having broken a pitman strap, which resulted in breaking one of her cylinders. The accident happened down the river and the boat came home for repairs, but on account of shoal water could only come as far as Sewickley.

J. A. Cruikshank, treasurer of the United Pilots' Corporation, and J. Alexander Gavigan, one of the promoters, are in Louisville looking after the interests of the corporation. It is said that Mr. Cruikshank will not return to Pittsburgh for some time. Edmond S. Grant, another of the promoters, is still in the city.

The steamer Gertrude has been purchased by the Monongahela River Packet Company and is now on her way from Evansville to Pittsburgh to enter the Pittsburgh & Morgantown packet trade. The Elizabeth will make her first trip in that trade, leaving Pittsburgh next Saturday, and freight and passengers are now being booked.

In St. Louis the merchants and manufacturers are moving to establish a line of boats to the gulf, to be managed by business men and operated solely in the interests of that city. It is figured that for $250,000 three modern boats can be built and equipped that will afford the benefits of regular service and uniform, low freight rates. St. Louis business men are taking kindly to the proposition.—Waterways Journal.

DAILY CONCERTS STARTED.

First of the Summer Week-Day Entertainments at Kennywood.

The first of the weekday entertainments at Kennywood park during the season was given yesterday afternoon and evening by the Boston Ladies' Symphony orchestra. Under the direction of Frank W. McKee they gave concerts afternoon and evening and will be heard every afternoon and evening during the week.

The attendance was swelled yesterday by two large picnic parties in the park—the St. James parochial schools of Wilkinsburg and Mary Magdaline parochial schools of Homestead. In the evening the crowds were larger and all enjoyed the music. Among the soloists of the orchestra are Miss Edith B. Swan and Mabel B. McKee, the former on the trombone and the latter on the violin. Today there will be another big picnic in the park, that of the Swissvale public schools.

A Few Gordon Sand Wells

The territory northeast of Salem, Harrison county, W. Va., is capable of presenting some good producers in the Gordon sand. In this part of the development H. H. Hilton & Co. have just drilled in their No. 3 on the J. S. Dennison farm and the well produced 100 barrels the first nine hours. In the same district the Southern Oil Company completed its No. 1 on the A. A. Davis farm and the well is producing 20 barrels a day. The South Penn Company has completed No. 9 on the Smith-Varner farm and will not have better than a five-barrel pumper. The same company's test well on the A. L. Swiger farm has been drilled through the Gordon and is a failure. A small show of oil was developed in the stray sand.

In the new Gordon sand development, near Littleton, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company's test well on the R. H. Haines farm is holding up at 130 barrels a day.

In the old Elk Fork district, in Tyler county, McCormick & Co. have completed their test well on the W. W. Matthews farm and have a gasser in the Keener sand. In the same district McKelvy & Co. have completed a test well on the P. D. Baker farm and have a duster.

On Long run, north of Central station, Doddridge county, the Carter Oil Company has completed its test well on the Carter Harris farm and failed to increase its production. The well is now producing 90 barrels a day from the Big Injun sand.

On the west side of the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its test well on the Jerry May farm and has a 65-barrel producer. In the "Little Germany" district, the Alpha Oil Company has completed its test on the J. Kocher farm, on Long run, Meade district, and has a duster.

In the Calcutta district, Pleasants county, the Toronto Oil Company has completed No. 6 on the J. R. Bills farm and has a 15-barrel pumper in the Cow run sand.

In the same district, Urquart & Co. have completed their No. 18 on the F. T. Jones farm and have a 25-barrel well in the same formation.

The Callwood Oil Company has plugged the hole at 1,000 feet at its test well on the T. S. Mowery farm and is moving the rig.

James Henry has the rig completed for a test well on the Pugh heirs' farm and B. Williams is drilling a test well on his own farm.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the east side of the new Keener sand pool, near Jerusalem, Monroe county, the Ohio Oil Company has made a thorough test of its well on the Joseph Griffith farm. When a duster was developed in the Keener sand it decided to drill to the Big Injun, and that formation has been passed through with no better result. The gauge of the Unity Oil Company's six wells is now 555 barrels a day.

In the Keener sand territory, near Jackson ridge, Gettman & Co. have drilled their test well on the Robert Jackson farm through the Keener sand and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper.

At Lewisville, W. G. Decker has completed his No. 3 on the Shepherd Wise farm and has a show for a 35-barrel producer in the Big Lime.

Near Germantown, Washington county, J. A. Dutton & Sons have drilled their test well on the Chas. Mulenaux farm through the 500-foot sand and have a show for a 25-barrel producer.

The Local Fields.

Operators in the local fields are not meeting with much encouragement.

In the Legionville district, in Beaver county, the Forest Oil Company has completed its No. 20 on the Thos. Bradford farm and has a duster. In the same district, F. W. Neeley has completed a test well on the John Hoffman farm and has a small gas well.

The Unity Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the A. Cabbott farm through the sand and has a duster.

On the Economy tract P. M. Shannon has completed his No. 48 and has a duster.

South of Bakerstown, in Allegheny county, Masseth & Davis have drilled their test well on the Margaret Cork farm through the sand and have a duster. In the Montgomery field Stone & Co. have completed a test well on the S. A. Hazelett farm and have a duster in all sands.

LONDON, June 2.—"Kid" McFadden of San Francisco knocked out "Jem" Williams of London at the National Sporting club tonight in the fight for the bantam weight championship of the world and a purse of $1,750. It was the sharpest five-round contest seen in London for a long time.

McFadden forced the fighting from the start and proved to be much stronger than his opponent. Williams, however, was very clever. The end came suddenly at the close of the fifth, when McFadden landed a half hook on the Englishman's jaw.

NEW MEN AT WORK AT PUMPS; OLD MEN QUIT

President Mitchell Claims 80 Per Cent Obeyed the Order to Strike.

WHOLE REGION IS QUIET

Practically All Works Are Running and Operators Say Nearly Fifty Per Cent of Their Employes Refused to Leave Their Posts.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 2.—The order of the United Mine Workers of America calling out on strike all engineers, firemen and pumpmen employed at collieries where the eight-hour work day with present wages was not granted went into effect today, and, as has been predicted, a majority of the men obeyed the order. There was only a partial showing of strength today. The real test of whether or not the mine pumps shall be manned will begin tomorrow. Although a majority of the men quit work, the companies, generally speaking, succeeded in keeping their pumps in operation. The operators feel that at present they have the advantage, but they are not so sanguine of the future. The exact number of the men who quit today cannot be obtained. Each side refuses to make public their figures, but gave out information that roughly estimate the number of men affected. These estimates are far apart.

National President Mitchell of the miners' union gave out a statement in which he says:

Reports received from every important mining community indicate that where the eight-hour day has not been conceded fully 8 per cent of the firemen, pumpmen and engineers have ceased work. The number will be materially increased tomorrow. In some sections mine foremen have positively declined to perform the work of engineers, firemen and pumpmen. In some places foremen have manned the pumps and clerks have also been required to perform this labor.

No Need of Deputies.

A perfect army of irresponsible men has been employed by the coal companies to act as coal and iron policemen. The services of these men are unnecessary and their presence unwarranted. There have been no violations today by the mine workers and I am sanguine there will be no overt acts on the part of the strikers.

In reply to a question after issuing his statement, Mr. Mitchell said he knew of no mine that is being flooded as a result of the action of the union today.

On the other hand, a mining official of one of the largest coal companies, who received accurate information from the entire coal belt, said:

"President Mitchell's estimate is too high. About 65 per cent of all the Lehigh Valley's men went out. The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, the Delaware & Hudson and the Erie companies, whose operations are mostly located north of here, fared a little better. The Susquehanna Coal Company's collieries, which are controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad, and which are located at Nanticoke, were crippled less than any big company in the region. The Reading company, with 40 collieries in the lower region, was the worst sufferer, more than 70 per cent of its men refusing to go to work. The individual companies all lost more than 50 per cent of their men."

Considering the vast number of men who are idle the coal field was quiet throughout the day. The reports came in from several sections telling of disturbances, but these were of a minor nature only. Early this morning, at noon, and this evening some workmen were stoned, principally by boys.

Negroes Are Only Cooks.

There was quite a flurry here today when it was learned that a party of negroes had arrived over the Jersey Central railroad. The strikers thought they were to take the places of the union men, but it was learned that they were engaged to cook for the non-union men.

Unofficial reports from all over the anthracite country show that the strike was the most successful around Hazleton, where all firemen and pumpers and 98 per cent of the engineers quit.

In the Shenandoah district the loader bosses refused to take the places of the strikers and the machinery is at a standstill.

Only two men remained at Brookside colliery out of 30.

About 75 per cent of the firemen and pumpmen and 50 per cent of the engineers around Pittston quit.

From Pittston to Forest City there are 150 collieries, and in these the firemen nearly all quit, but practically all engineers and pumpmen remained.

At least 95 per cent of the men about Shamokin left their work.

At Hazleton the strike was almost unanimous.

About half the men in the Panther creek valley reported for work.

J. F. Mullahy, state secretary-treasurer of the firemen's union, tonight issued a statement in which he says: "The firemen have obeyed the strike order almost to a man, and within 24 hours every fireman will fall into line."

HARRISBURG, June 2.—Commissions were issued by Gov. Stone today to about 100 additional coal and iron policemen for duty in the anthracite region.

MEXICANS DEFEAT YAQUIS.

Loss of Former, 15, and Latter Leave 40 Dead on Field.

TUCSON, ARIZ., June 2.—A battalion of the Mexican army commanded by Gen. Torres fought a desperate battle with 300 Yaqui Indians on May 29 at El Tanque, near Hermosillo.

Forty Yaquis were killed and twice that number wounded. The Mexican army lost 15 men. The Yaquis escaped toward the Mazatan mountains.

Water Stock Transferred.

BEAVER FALLS, June 2.—The Peoples Water Company stockholders today transferred their 1,605 shares to John T. Taylor of Monaca, J. F. Grimes of Pittsburgh and R. R. Quay of Sewickley, representing the Beaver Valley Water Company's interests. The stock at par is worth $25, but was bought at $31.25. The company controls the water business in every town in the Beaver valley excepting Beaver.

A Valuable Handbook.

From the presses of the Pittsburgh Printing Company, the Western Union Telegraph Company has just issued a very valuable handbook of about 100 pages, giving a list of the stations of the largest telegraph and cable service in the world, and the rates for messages. The accuracy of the book makes it doubly valuable, and business men, bankers and manufacturers will find it a convenient and ready reference in the prompt transaction of their telegraphic business. It is printed in clean cut style and reflects credit upon the Pittsburgh Printing Company, whose facilities for large editions, catalogue and book work, as well as general printing, lithographing, engraving, electrotyping and binding are now unsurpassed either in Pittsburgh or elsewhere.

Lots.

DON'T BE TOO LATE GETTING OUT TO SQUIRREL HILL PROPERTY.

Look at the way the shrewd investors are snapping up these choice Squirrel Hill lots and you will see that there is no time to be lost in getting in on this great ground-floor opportunity.

There are still some choice lots left. But be sure to come out as soon as you can; tell the car conductor to let you off at Burchfield ave.

Look how splendidly our plan of 40 choice Squirrel Hill lots is situated—right in the very choicest section of the East End district; then consider the fact that adjoining property is being held at $100 a foot, while you can buy our Squirrel Hill property at $50 a foot; it takes little argument to show the modern investor how much money ground-floor action will make him.

Our Squirrel Hill plan has a frontage on Shady ave., Monitor st., Burchfield ave. and McClure ave.

The building restrictions imposed stipulate that no house to cost less than $5,000 shall be erected on this plan, and all houses must be built 30 feet back from the street.

Broad paved and sewered streets and fine granolithic sidewalks; you will see here every modern city improvement.

The yellow line cars, which will take you to the city in 20 minutes, are within two minutes' walk of the property; Squirrel Hill has, in fact, the best car service in the city; you can catch a car every two minutes.

Title guaranteed and issued free to each customer; liberal discount will be allowed for cash.

CONSERVATIVE POLICY STILL RULES PRICES

Steel Rail Pool Makes No Change in Its Figure for the Coming Year.

WAS ALMOST UNANIMOUS

Output Will Be Largely Increased. Wall Street Bears and Enemies of the Morgan Party Said to Be Behind Anti-Bond Litigation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 2.—The so-called steel rail pool, embracing practically all of the manufacturers of this product, including, of course, the United States Steel Corporation, has fixed the price of steel rails for 1903 at $28 a ton. This is the price now obtaining. Although an advance might easily have been justified by the higher prices for billets and other material entering into the manufacture of steel rails, the conservative element in the pool, represented chiefly by the United States Steel Corporation, was found to be in an overwhelming majority.

This is the first time that steel rail manufacturers have announced as early as June the price for the following year. In explaining the pool's action, one of the members said today:

"The crowded condition of all the steel rail mills, together with the fact that the entire possible production for 1902 is already sold, made it necessary for manufacturers to take action earlier than usual. The mills are now prepared to take orders in any amount for delivery in 1903 at $28 a ton. Any person wanting rails at this price for next year may have them."

Output Will Be Increased.

It is estimated that the total output of steel rails this year will aggregate 2,500,000 tons. The output for 1903 is likely to be considerably larger than this, as the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company and the Lackawanna Steel Company will be rolling rails on an extensive scale next year, and the increased output of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company also will reflect in the aggregate for 1903. Up to the first of June no orders for steel rails to be delivered in 1903 were booked, but manufacturers have on their books a lot of business that must be carried over into next year.

Many of the large railroads are already figuring their steel rail requirements for next year and it is expected that some very large orders will be placed with the United States Steel Corporation and other producing concerns. Present indications warrant the statement on excellent authority that, for practically all the grades of finished steel, large manufacturers are insured of all of the business they can manage next year.

Annoyed by Anti-Bond Litigation.

Officials of the United States Steel Corporation are more annoyed than worried over the action begun by C. H. Venner & Co. of New Jersey to restrain the corporation from carrying out its conversion scheme. The combine's attorneys are confident of the legality of the conversion, and there is not the least vestige of fear that the program will be embarrassed.

It is annoying, of course, to have these attacks exploited in the newspapers, and, as they multiply, it becomes more than a suspicion that they are inspired by interests unfriendly to Mr. Morgan and his associates. Hints of this have been current in Wall street for quite a while, and a great many observers believe they could indicate the source of these attacks. It is deemed improbable, for example, that all of a sudden certain lawyers and financial critics should engage in a bearish discussion of the United States Steel Corporation's policy of finance without having some general motive back of it all.

The Morgan party has its enemies in Wall street, as any successful party is bound to have, and there are both speculative and financial interests who might be expected to sympathize with a bear campaign against the United States Steel shares. A great deal of bearish literature on these and other Morgan stocks is coming to the surface in Wall street. Professional comment is that if Mr. Morgan himself were here these petty attacks would soon cease.

Railroads Providing for the Future.

The anxiety of big railroad companies to prevent another such embarrassing shortage of transportation facilities as that which threatened for a time earlier in the year to interrupt the wheels of industry is strikingly illustrated in an incident involving two of the largest trunk lines in the country. The general manager of a big eastern system went to the American Locomotive Company and reserved "floor space" for 45 locomotives to be delivered in the first quarter of 1903. The specifications were not completed, but the railroad manager reserved shop room in advance, and his verbal agreement with the American Locomotive Company amounted virtually to an option on that percentage of its output for the period indicated. Last week another large railroad system, being in urgent need of new locomotives, went to the eastern railroad manager and offered him $1,000 a locomotive for the floor space reserved to him by the American Locomotive Company. He declined the offer.

Allis-Chalmers Company Report.

The annual report of the Allis-Chalmers Company, made public today, is regarded by the stockholders as a highly satisfactory one, showing a net surplus for the 12 months ended April 30, of $304,759 51. The report is one of the most complete ever issued by an industrial corporation. Notwithstanding the numerous impediments to profitable operation, the net profits for the first fiscal year, after deducting liberal expenditures for maintenance and repairs, all incorporation, general, patent and other expenses, and providing ample reserves for depreciation, bad and doubtful debts and incomplete contracts, amounted to $1,442,255 51, out of which dividends amounting to $1,137,500 were paid.

President Allis, in his report, says there is no floating debt. E. H. Gary, chairman of the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation, is chairman of the board of directors of the Allis-Chalmers Company, which controls the heavy machinery situation of the country.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 2.—Since its discovery in 1896 the Camp Bird at Ouray, Co., which has just been sold to an English corporation for $5,000,000, has produced 127,000 tons of ore of a gross value of $4,536,885. The profits were $2,904,778.

A small streak of ore has been encountered in the Jo Dandy on Raven hill, Cripple Creek, that runs $2,000 to the ton. It was found at a depth of 500 feet.

Prescott (Ariz.) advices note that a rich body of ore has been struck 90 feet from the surface in the tunnel of the Lincoln. The ore carries galena and zinc, with high values in gold and silver.

Lead ore of good commercial value has been cut in the north drift or the 600-foot level of the Black Jack at Tintic, Utah.

In the Harwood, at Alta, Utah, a 30-foot vein is exposed at a depth of 20 feet that averages 6 per cent copper and $6 gold to the ton. A 18-inch streak yields 15 per cent copper and $8 gold.

Boston capitalists are reported to have bought the property of the Tonopah Tunnel & Mining Company at Tonopah, Nev., for $250,000. A double compartment shaft will be sunk.

A dispatch from Philipsburg, Mont., says a good body of $25 ore has been uncovered on the Dorothy.

The Macready at Searchlight, Nev., which is owned by the Quartet Company, has been developed to a depth of 500 feet, with 5,000 feet of drifting, all in ore, leaving in sight, without stoping, about $2,000,000 worth of free milling ore, which is enough to run the present mill for three years.

The recent strike on the north slope of the San Bernardino mountains, Cal., is proving even better than was first reported. The rich rock covers a large area and some of it yields as high as $20 a pound.

The Metal Market.

The exports of copper for the month of May amounted to 15,339 tons, thus making a total since January 1 of 81,229 tons, against 39,897 tons the same period last year. The local copper market was steady. Sales amounted to 50,000 pounds casting for first half of June delivery at 12¼c. Closing prices were: Standard, spot to August, 11.75@12.00c; lake, 12.25@12.60c; electrolytic, 12.00@12.30c; casting, 12.00@12.25c. The London copper market was 12s 6d higher than it closed last Thursday, with spot and forward delivery quoted at £54 12s 6d. Tin ruled quiet, locally with spot standing at 29.50@30.00c. London tin declined £1 to £135 for spot and £131 2s 6d for futures. Local lead prices were unchanged at 4⅛c. London declining 1s 3d to £11 3s 9d. Spelter was unchanged and nominal at 47 and at London unchanged at £18 5s. The local iron market ruled steady but quiet at former quotations. Warrants were nominal. No. 1 foundry, northern, was quoted at $19 50@20 50; No. 2 foundry, northern, $19 50@20 50, No. 1 foundry, southern, $18 50@19 50; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $18 50@19 50. The Glasgow market closed at 54s 9d, and Middlesboro at 49s 7½d.

NEWS OF PEACE AFFECTS TRADE HARDLY AT ALL

April Earning Reports Cause Slight Early Demand in Grain Carrying Roads.

MONEY MARKET CAUTIOUS

Must Be Kept Free Until Fall Outlook Is Clearer—Problem Turns Largely on the Coming Crop of Corn.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 2.—None of the new developments since the stock exchange closed on Thursday afternoon availed to induce any activity in the trading. Neither the declaration of peace in South Africa or the acute stage reached in the anthracite strike awakened any interest in the stock market either on the buying or selling side. There was some early demand for grain-carrying railroads, owing to the large advance in the net earnings reported for April over those for last year. The very light movement of grain, especially of corn, owing to last year's crop failure, and the promising outlook for a full crop this year gave added force to this showing. Union Pacific, Burlington, Canadian Pacific among the grain carriers and Reading, Lehigh Valley and Norfolk & Western among the eastern lines show increases in April net earnings of from $100,000 to near $300,000. The languid response to the peace news was in accord with the tone of the London market itself. This was partly attributed there to the taking up of attention with the rejoicings over the peace.

Realizing on Large Scale.

But there was undoubtedly realizing on a large scale as well on the part of speculators who have bought for several days past in an anticipation of the peace. This purely speculative profit-taking, however, does not alter the evident importance to the whole financial world of the ending of the war, the stoppage of expenditure unproductive from the economic standpoint, and the promise of early renewal of abundant supply of money metal from the South African gold mines. The reports from the anthracite region received in Wall street were reassuring as to the success of the companies in keeping their pumping machinery active. It would be a violent assumption to read any significance in today's stock operations as a reflection of general financial sentiment. There were few open accounts left open among the traders after the triple holiday and the light new commitments were almost entirely among this class, and were largely closed out again before the end of the day as shown by the general return of the price level to that made at the opening.

Caution in Money Market.

The conviction is general that the money market must be kept free from extraordinary strains until the outlook is clearer for the meeting of obligations in to the fall. The heavy borrowings abroad, which must be met, and the probability of an active trade demand for money into the interior of the country incite to caution until the attitude of foreign borrowers at the period of renewals becomes evident. In contrast to the feeling in New York that demands may be made upon us by foreign creditors is the feeling in London financial circles that New York may make further heavy demands abroad for the relief of her money market. The London Statist points out that "for several years past America has accepted payment in securities for its produce and manufactures but with money less plentiful in New York it may this year elect to take payment in cash." The Statist sees the possibility that America may renew the loans obtained on that side in addition to taking gold in payment for exports. The whole problem, of course, turns largely on the size of the coming corn crop.

Bonds were dull and irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,105,000. United States seconds and old fours declined ⅛ and the new fours ¼ per cent on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales of stocks on Monday 270,600 shares; par value $3,105,000.

Grain-carrying railroads feel good effect from increased earnings shown in the reports for April.

Peace in South Africa fails to have expected effect either in New York or London.

There is caution in the money market, awaiting conditions to develop in the fall.

Favorable reports are received from the anthracite strike.

FLAT BUILDING EXCHANGED FOR RESIDENCE SITE

Wilkinsburg Property Given for Vacant Lots in Forbes Street.

DEAL IN EAST LIBERTY

Charles Lockhart Buys North Highland Avenue Real Estate From the Rev. William Radcliffe—Avalon Wants More School Houses.

An exchange deal involving $60,000 has just been consummated through the office of C. S. Marshall of the East End. By the terms of the deal W. E. Hammett conveys to a New York capitalist his four-story brick store and flat building on the north side of Penn avenue, between Wood and Center streets, First ward, Wilkinsburg. The lot on which the building stands is 49.5x132 feet. The property was put into the deal at $60,000. In exchange for the Wilkinsburg property Mr. Hammett receives a plot of vacant frontage at the northwest corner of Forbes street and the Beechwood boulevard. The plot measures 230x200 feet and is valued at $40,000, the difference in the transaction being paid in cash. The Forbes street lot is graded to a level about four feet above the street and is a choice location for high-class residences. It is understood that the purchaser will improve it soon with a number of modern brick houses.

The Rev. William Radcliffe has sold his property in North Highland avenue for $20,000, the purchaser being Charles Lockhart. The lot has a frontage of 79 feet on the east side of the avenue and a depth of 379 feet. It adjoins the Joseph Hall property and has erected thereon a modern brick house of 10 rooms.

Want Three School Houses.

At a meeting of the citizens of Avalon Saturday night the proposition to bond the town for $30,000 for an addition to the school house was vetoed by a vote of 102 to 71. Architect J. M. McCollum had already been commissioned to prepare plans for the addition, which it was expected would be built this summer. Those opposed to the measure are in favor of ward schools. The present school building is situated in California avenue, a considerable distance to many of the children who live down the hill next to the railroad. Citizens in this part of the borough argue that it should be made a precinct and divided into three wards, each of which should have a school house. A meeting of the board of education will be held the latter part of the week to discuss the matter of building the proposed addition to the present building by direct taxation.

Beezer Bros. have plans prepared for a seven-story hotel to be built on the site of the old Laird house at Greensburg. The new hostelry will belong to J. Rapp Myers and will cost in the neighborhood of $60,000. Its dimensions are to be 60x66 feet and it will be provided with all the latest hotel equipment.

Big Cork Plant.

The Bruening Cork Company has commissioned Architect Max Bruening to prepare plans for an addition to its present plant at Oakdale, Pa., to cost $40,000. The new part will be 60x125 feet and four stories high. Since locating at Oakdale a few years ago the business of the company has outgrown its present building, which is 40x125 feet, and the work of building the addition will be started as soon as the plans can be drawn.

Architects Milligan & Miller have been commissioned to prepare plans for a $15,000 brick addition to the engine house at Wilkinsburg. The same architects are taking bids on the United Brethren church at Wilkinsburg, $15,000, and the State bank building at Elizabeth, Pa., $25,000.

Architects Kerner & Fezell are taking bids on the 15 colonial brick houses which Thomas A. and Edwin P. Mellon will erect in Homewood avenue. The estimated cost is put at $15,000 each.

Beezer Bros. are ready for estimates on the residence of H. W. Croft, at the corner of Irwin avenue and Wightman street. No information could be obtained from the architects regarding the cost, but it is said the total expense of the house will be not less than $45,000.

Fine Bank for Butler.

The Henry Shenk Company has received from Architects Mowbray & Uffinger of New York, the contract for the erection of the Butler County National bank, at Butler, Pa. The building will cost about $125,000.

Other contracts which have been awarded within the past few days are as follows: Engineer Edward E. Erickson to the Pittsburgh Construction Company, the grading and foundations on the plant of the West Carnegie Sheet Steel Company at West Carnegie, and the structural work on the same to the American Bridge Company. The total cost will be $50,000. R. A. Rowland to Henry Kempf, a four-story flat and store building for S. N. Pool, $25,000; J. A. Long to Charles Goethe, the West Liberty school house, $7,000; A. G. Smith to Thomas D. Wollett & Son, an addition to his residence in Grace street, $4,000; Charles Martin to the same contractors, a store and flat building in Vandalia street, $5,000.

Ground was broken yesterday for the three-story brick hotel which C. H. Cramer will build at the corner of Broad street and Collins avenue, East End, at a cost of $40,000. MONTHLY DIVIDENDS.

The Bald Butte Company pays monthly dividends of 1 per cent, with semi-annual EXTRA DIVIDENDS in July and December of each year.

The dividends paid thus far this year amount to $75,000 and the grand total since 1890, $1,192,148.

The monthly net earnings of this Company are considerably in excess of the dividends paid, so we expect to see the EXTRA DIVIDENDS paid this year exceed by far anything hitherto paid.

Local Stocks Were Very Dull, but the Market Closed Steady

BANK SHARES STILL SCORE LARGE GAINS

Sales in the General List Were Quite Small and Prices Narrow.

DOUBTS DISTURB MARKET

Ending of Boer War Bullish, but Strike Situation Bearish—Steel Shares About Steady—Big Demand for River Coal Preferred.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges decreased $1,944,889 45.

Sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 2,495 shares and $14,000 bonds.

The First and Fourth National Banks and the Fifth Avenue Bank made new high selling records.

City Deposit and Mechanics National advanced to new high-record bids.

Electric seconds sold 100 at 106½.

Window Glass was ⅛ higher at 58⅝.

Crucible Steel common closed at 22 and the preferred at 85⅝.

United States Steel common closed at 40 and the preferred at 90.

River Coal preferred was in big demand. Closed at 41⅞.

Bonds were dull but firm.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was very dull—indeed, duller than at any time of the year, the sales of stocks amounting to less than 2,500 shares. The tone was generally steady to firm, with considerable strength and a shade of easiness cropping out here and there. The sentiment during the three days' holiday did not improve, and the situation is dominated by conflicting opinions as to the future. The ending of the Boer war, while in itself probably discounted, is still a very bullish factor, because, for one reason, there will be a great demand for materials and products to repair the damages sustained. It will also revive speculation and confidence abroad and remove a constant menace to any sustained movement. On the other hand, the strike and the striking fever in this country is a bear cloud that is growing more ominous the longer a settlement is delayed. In fact with this specter out of the way the financial horizon would be perfectly clear—the first time in two years and a half. As long as the strike continues and threatens to spread the markets of this country will doubtless drag and droop. Otherwise everything is cheerful. The crop conditions are reported excellent and industrial earnings steadily increasing. Money is abundant (though a little firmer than is altogether comfortable just at present) and, barring the strike, confidence very great, the public showing a tendency to "get aboard" at almost every turn. That it would do so eagerly should the strike be speedily settled is the consensus of opinion.

In yesterday's proceedings on the local board the bank stocks were again much in evidence. While the rumors of big deals between various institutions are still circulating, there is a quiet feeling and a disposition to await official announcements. In the sales three banks made new high records, and in the quotations three more did likewise in the bid price. The former were: Fifth Avenue bank at $65, a gain of $8; First National of Pittsburgh at $640, a gain of $40, and Fourth National at $158, a gain of $3. In the bids City Deposit went up $1 to $161, Mechanics National $1 to $136, and Dollar Savings Fund and Trust 50 cents to $260 50. The last three have been advancing steadily for some time without special reasons being assigned. Peoples National bank was also firmer and $5 higher at $375 bid. Second National quoted $15 lower at $825 bid, but no offers occurred under $900. Real Estate Trust did not sell, but offered lower at 290½, 288½ being the best bid. In the general list there was hardly a thing doing worthy of comment. Crucible Steels were dull and a shade steadier. United States Steels went off on light selling, the common ¼ to 40 and the preferred ½ to 90. There was a big demand for River Coal preferred at 41½, while sales of small lots occurred at 41¾@41⅞. Pittsburgh Coal preferred was unchanged at 89 for 128 shares, but at the close offered at 88⅞. Westinghouse Electric seconds and Window Glass were firmer and fractionally higher. The common coal stocks passed without sales, being only nominally quoted. Bonds were dull but steady to firm.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing and selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers:

Robert C. Hall's 1902 edition of his "Pittsburgh Securities" is just out. The book is more complete than the one issued by Mr. Hall in 1901, and will be found valuable to all who desire to speculate or invest in the local stock market.

A Kansas City special says: "It is reported that J. P. Morgan and J. B. Gates are now in control of the Chicago Great Western and that the Great Western will take over the Kansas City Southern, control of which was recently secured by Gates, acting for and with the Moores, and that following this merger both properties will be turned over to the Moores for the Rock Island.

The tariff receipts of the Canadian Pacific system have been quite remarkable, but the company has other sources of income of a valuable nature, the figures for which do not figure in weekly returns. Notable in this connection are the land sales. From July 1, 1901, to April 30, 1902, the company sold 1,114,588 acres of land for $3,532,198, the average price per acre being $3 17. The Canadian Pacific still owns 16,000,000 acres, which at this year's average valuation represents a total sum of $50,720,000, which would almost offset the company's bonded indebtedness.

Canned Goods.

No changes have occurred in the canned goods situation for a long time so far as the spot market is concerned. A report in circulation several days ago to the effect that tomatoes were weaker, was due to the fact that one packer offered to sell a limited number of cases at a reduced figure in order to make a quick turn and obtain money for pressing needs; this done his quotation was re-established on the basis now ruling. Prices in the local market are on the same level as for several months and firm, as profits are too slight to permit shading.

All Grains Made Gains in Chicago

BULLS IN CORN BECOME SPUNKY AND BOOM PRICE

Wheat Weak at Opening, but Helped by Firmness in Other Pits.

VISIBLE SUPPLY LOWER

Shorts Got in a Pinch and Were Forced to Cover—Trade in Provisions Is Restricted and Prices Lower at the Opening.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 2.—Bulls in corn were very spunky today. Under very discouraging circumstances they bought heavily and turned a weak market strong. Wheat was helped some by the firmness of coarse grains and recovered from early losses. At the close July wheat gained a shade, July corn gained 1@1⅛c and July oats were ½c up. Provisions closed 5c to 7½@10c higher.

Everything at the start worked against better corn prices. Wheat was weak, the short session at Liverpool resulted in lower cables, the country sent in 323 cars of corn and promised 520 for tomorrow, and the crowd was bearish. A dull market prevented much early business and July started ⅜@⅝c down at 61@60⅞c, and hovered around the low prices for a time. Bears, who had the market all their own way for three successive days, plucked up courage and began selling still further short, when suddenly the big bull house that is supposed to have control of July stuff started in to the support. Shorts soon began to cover.

Shorts Badly Pinched.

July corn jumped 2c to 62⅝c and shorts were badly pinched. Toward the close there was an easier feeling and at the close July was 1@1⅛c up at 62⅜@62½c. Country acceptances were reported very small and helped in the bull movement. Kansas City was the depressing influence, being 2½c down on July and 2c down on September. Good crop reports prevented many of the smaller bulls from buying.

Wheat was helped materially by the strength in corn. As in the corn pit conditions in wheat were very bearish early in the day. The general sentiment favored selling, in spite of the fact that there had been good declines for three days. Yet cables were weak, the southwest sold on its good weather and general report of forcing weather everywhere after the heavy rains, commission houses were sellers and the crowd naturally followed suit. September soon began to pluck up strength on buying by spreaders who sold July. A fairly steady trade kept prices up after the early dip, but it was free covering by shorts late in the day on the corn situation and liberal seaboard clearances that turned the price up. July opened ⅜@½c to ½@⅝c down at 71⅝@71½c, rallied to 72⅛c and closed firm, a shade up, at 72¼c. Local receipts were 27 cars, two of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 348 cars, making a total for the three points of 375 cars, against 274 last week and 696 a year ago.

Visible Supply Short.

World's shipments were 7,712,000 bushels, against 9,672,000 bushels last week and 8,419,000 bushels last year. Breadstuffs on passage decreased 1,208,000 bushels. The visible supply decreased 2,055,000 bushels. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 923,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 443,000 bushels, against 912,000 bushels last year.

Oats shared in the general depression at the opening. Crop reports were very promising, oats were moving to market better, the May bull scare was out of the way and commission houses sold here and there. Trade was light all day, owing to the restriction by heavy receipts. The corn strength helped prices late and July, which had sold at 36c, advanced to 37c and closed firm, ½c up, at 36⅞c. Receipts were 332 cars.

Trade in provisions was restricted and without much interest. Opening prices were lower on a free movement of hogs. Hog prices, which were weak early, gradually strengthened, and on a little support by packers and the grain strength the provision list firmed up and closed July pork 7½c higher at $17 17½; July lard 5c up at $10 25, and July ribs 7½@10c higher at $9 82½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 35 cars, corn 520 cars, oats 245 cars, hogs 21,000 head.

REV. J. M. THOMAS WINS IN BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

Jury Says He Did Not Ask Mrs. Sarah E. McCloy to Marry Him.

THE PLAINTIFF'S SPEECH

In a Rambling Talk to Twelve Men the Widow Hardly Touches on the Case at Issue—Court Says It Is His Strangest Trial.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Sarah E. McCloy against the Rev. J. M. Thomas, pastor of the Union Baptist church of the South Side, was about 10 minutes yesterday in deciding that the defendant did not make a proposal of marriage to her, she having asked $10,000 damages for alleged breach of promise.

The case closed after an address to the jury by Mrs. McCloy, who tried her own case. Mrs. McCloy dwelt but little upon the case at issue, opening her remarks by declaring all lawyers were rascals and concluding by telling of a dream she had about her mother and 12 black sheep. During this harrangue Judge F. H. Collier allowed the woman full sway and she apparently talked until she was tired.

Mrs. McCloy quoted from the Bible without any reference to her case. She said that one of the deacons employed a detective to follow her, and then branched off into a tale of having been granted permission by "Hon. Major A. M. Brown" to preach in city hall. Suddenly she exclaimed, as she looked at Attorney J. Scott Ferguson:

"If I were a man like Ferguson I would dig a great big hole and crawl into it and then bury myself." Again she said: "I am not crazy; they have tried to make me out so, but I am not."

Mrs. McCloy scored the police and spoke of "the beautiful Mr. McAleese," and then declared she had paid a constable $2.50 to serve a subpoena, which he neglected to do because he "belonged to the ring."

Mr. Ferguson did not make an address. Judge Collier, in charging the jury, said that in his 50 years' experience in the courts of Allegheny county, he had never met with such a strange case. He explained the difficulties experienced by Mrs. McCloy in pleading her own case, and dwelt upon the serious phase of the case—the mental condition of the plaintiff.

WANTS PROPER REPORTS.

Constables Learn Something About Their Districts When They Get Into Courts.

The June term of quarter sessions and oyer and terminer court was opened yesterday with Judge J. A. Evans of common pleas court No. 3 presiding and Judge S. A. McClung assisting. At the roll call of the grand jurors 19 answered and L. G. Simpson, an oil inspector of North Fayette township, was made foreman. They were instructed as to their duties by Judge Evans. There are 125 cases for them to consider, of which 12 are homicides.

During the hearing of the constables' returns several of them were closely questioned by Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., and were handed their papers and instructed to amend their returns. F. L. Patterson, constable of Neville township, had nothing in particular to report, but was asked if he knew of any person who sold hard cider and ambrosia. He said he was not aware of any such sales.

When the constable of Esplen made his report he was told to keep his eyes open for any violations of the law. L. M. Smith of Avalon reported the sale of "rickey" and was instructed to find out if it is intoxicating. G. M. Keefer of the Thirty-eighth ward was also told to keep his eyes open. The constable from Leet township was handed back his paper to return some speakeasies.

The constables from the Eighth, Ninth and Tenth wards were handed back their papers and given a week's time to return a proper report. They were told by the court that the speakeasies raided by the police should be returned in their reports. The Coraopolis constable was also handed his papers and told to inquire whether a man named Charles Wright had sold liquors.

In the criminal court J. McNeilis and John Flaherty were acquitted of a charge of robbery preferred by Albert Madden. They were accused of robbing the prosecutor of $46 at No. 316 Diamond street on April 3. Patrick Gavin, who is accused of the same crime, will be tried later.

Michael Habar was acquitted of a charge of receiving stolen goods, preferred by D. W. Dunlevy. He was accused of having in his possession $70 worth of brass which was alleged to have been stolen from the Crucible Steel Company of America.

Suit to Stop Blasts.

Gerhard Buss filed a bill in equity against the Ferguson Contracting Company and the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company to restrain the first named company from using dynamite or other explosives in such a manner to injure his property. The plaintiff owns property in the Thirty-second ward through which the railroad company has right of way. He says that blasting has been carried on to such an extent that the plaster in his house has been shaken off and some of the windows broken, rendering it dangerous as a dwelling. Attorneys Smith & Kearns represent the plaintiff. The contracting firm must file an indemnity bond.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury for the June term of quarter sessions court convened yesterday. A true bill for murder was found against Guiseppi Morrello. He is charged with shooting Antonio Valle on May 4. The following other bills were returned:

True bills—Larceny, Emmet Carver, Reynold Griffith, Peter Hanlon; felonious assault and battery, William Clark, Kid Kennedy, Archie Long, Joseph Veros; aggravated assault and battery, John Geary; misdemeanor, Elmer Lindsay.

Ignored bills—Misdemeanor, Nicholas Gueky.

TRYING RECIPROCITY.

Local Labor Organizations Take Action to Combat Exclusiveness of New York Board.

Central labor organizations of Pittsburgh and New York are involved in a conflict and have put a Chinese stone wall around their territories. This condition outcrops from the old fight between the Brotherhood and Amalgamated organizations of painters in New York.

As a result the New York craftsmen cannot come here without contributing a percentage of their day's pay or so much a week to the Pittsburgh unions of their craft. In a recent instance members of the union of the marble cutters and setters from New York working on the new Frick building and on the Beechwood Improvement Company's building paid to the Pittsburgh organization $2 weekly.

Michael O'Sullivan of the Pittsburgh Building Trades Council and representing the sheet metal workers in the Pittsburgh board of business agents said yesterday: "This condition arises from the fact that in New York, first under the disrupted Building Trades Council and now under the Board of Business Agents representing 33 trades, the Amalgamated Society painters are recognized, while the painters of the Brotherhood of Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators have no recognition from the board composed chiefly of trades affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, just as the Brotherhood painters are.

"Under the laws of most of the national organizations of the building trades the right is given to levy assessments on members from other towns or to compel them to take membership wherever they go. We are simply applying these rules to combat the exclusive attitude of the New York Board of Business Agents."

"THE BIG STORE"
ANNUAL RED TAG FURNITURE SALE

In order to facilitate matters as much as possible for our customers, a Red Tag with the reduced price marked thereon, has been placed on every piece of Furniture included in this Sale.

This Annual Red Tag Sale of ours is the link that connects the overstocked Furniture manufacturer with the public. The present Sale embraces the overproductions and surplus stocks of the foremost Furniture Factories of Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and New York. This offering, then, is not a hurried, spasmodic affair, but a legitimate, carefully planned Furniture movement executed on a large scale, in accordance with the progressive trade methods for which "The Big Store" is famous. The Furniture manufacturers know that it is better in the long run to sell their surplus stocks at a loss and have a clean factory—Kaufmann Brothers know that it is better to sell these trainloads of furniture quickly at a small profit, than slowly (perhaps a year) at a big profit. This accounts for our now offering

Out-of-Towners please notice: All Furniture Orders amounting to $25, or more, will be delivered, FREIGHT PREPAID, at any railroad station within one hundred miles of Pittsburgh.
